Foreground, Impala Sport Sedan. Background, Camaro Sport Coupe and the Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe.

Drive the cost of living down, without giving up all this.

Chevrolet's room, ride and price. When Automotive News made its annual roominess study, Chevrolet got the most points. It's roomier inside, they reported, than any other American car. The ride is Full Coil suspension smooth. And Chevrolet hardtops and convertibles are still the lowest priced full-size cars of this kind you can buy. Chevelle's quick size. It's quick to climb, quick to turn. Other mid-size cars might be like Chevelle, true. But they're not as low priced. And they're not made by Chevrolet with Body by Fisher, GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column, inner fenders and Full Coil suspension. Camaro's road-hugging stance. At its price, Camaro is the only sportster to give you wide-stance design. It rides steadier, clings to curves better, hugs the road closer. It's the roomiest car you can buy. Plus, you get a bigger standard engine.

See your Chevrolet dealer during his Camaro Pacesetter Sale

Special buys on Camaro Sport Coupes and Convertibles specially equipped with: 250-cubic-inch Six, 155 hp • Deluxe steering wheel • Bumper guards • Whitewall tires • Wheel covers • Wheel opening moldings • Striping along the sides • Extra interior brightwork • And, at no extra cost during the sale, special hood stripe and a floor shift for the 3-speed transmission! SALE SAVINGS, TOO, ON SPECIALLY EQUIPPED FLEETSIDE PICKUPS (Model CS 10934).

To Observe 50th Anniversary

The children of the Rev. and Mrs. Elmer E. Suite will hold a 50th Wedding Anniversary reception for them on Sunday, May 14, from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m. in the Community Building in Barrackville, W. Va.

They were married on May 16, 1917 in Eaton, Indiana, in the Methodist Parsonage. They then came to West Virginia and Mr. Suite entered the ministry in 1923 from the Shepherd Chapel Methodist Church in Charleston, West Virginia.

Their children are the Rev. H. Edgar Suite of Gassaway, W. Va.; Norman Suite of Massillon, Ohio; Mrs. Joseph (Betty Lee) Levelle of Worthington, W. Va.; Mrs. Maynard D. (Joyce) McDonnell of Dunbar, W. Va., and Mrs. Warren (Janet) Pilson of Naples, Florida. There are 18 grandchildren.

An invitation is extended to all to attend. The only gift desired is the presence of their friends.

The Rev. H. Edgar Suite, of Gassaway, W. Va., was pastor of the Grantsville Methodist church for four years.

Outstanding Junior

Michael Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Murphy of Crellin, was the winner of a trophy for "Outstanding Junior" on the Cumberland Zone Nazarene Junior Fellowship. Five of the six zones which comprise the Washington District, were represented when awards were made on Friday, April 21, in Washington, D. C., at the First Church of the Nazarene, during sessions of the annual convention.

A fourth grade student in the Crellin School, Mike has been the man of his family since last October when a mining accident hospitalized his father. He is a regular participant in a fellowship of thirty members who meet each Sunday morning at the Church of the Nazarene, Eighth and Alder St., in Oakland. Mrs. Donald Green is the local director.

Mikes's sister, Melinda, presently an eighth grader at Southern, won a similar trophy in the 1963 District Contest, according to Mrs. Betty Yommer, Cumebriand Zone director.

Both Mike and Melinda are honor stuudents in their respective schools.

To Enter Med School

West Virginia School of Medicine will expand the size of its entering class in September 1967 to include 68 members. Previous classes have numbered 60. Among those selected to enroll next fall is Richard Gnegy of Oakland.

Concert Canceled By Picket Action

Union musicians of the Baltimore Symphony orchesta refused to present a scheduled free concert Sunday night at Allegany High School, Cumberland because the school was being picketed.

Some 30 pickets carrying signs which read "School Board Unfair", made the rounds. Among the 1100 persons who had entered the auditorium were fifty or more from this county, some of whom had traveled fifty miles or more to be present.

A statement was made Monday by Denton A. Fuller, president of the Liberty Trust company of Maryland which had sponsored the event.

The statement follows:

To the group of approximately 1100 people who suffered disappointment at the inability to hear a concert of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra Sunday evening, these comments are directed. The attendance represented not only music enthusiasts from the tri-state area but many from substantial distances.

Not until the last minute were the sponsors compelled to decide on cancellation. Problems had not been contemplated due to the existence of a Circuit Court injunction. The orchestra travelled to Cumberland under this assumption. The first knowledge of the pending situation was when two officials of the Western Maryland Central Labor Council informed the orchestra management at approximately 5:15 p. m. Sunday of their intentions to picket. These same union officials at about 7:00 p. m. formally urged the Baltimore Symphony musicians not to cross any picket lines.

It is difficult, in fact impossible, to understand why the union wished to prevent through demonstration the concert Sunday evening by the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra. This concert, sponsored by the Governor's Council on the Arts in Maryland and the Liberty Trust Company of Maryland at considerable expense, and offered free to the public, had absolutely nothing to do with any pending labor dispute. All efforts to dissuade those involved in the picket action proved futile.

Oleg Lobanov, manager of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, said, "The orchestra has been looking forward to playing in Cumberland and regrets the sudden turn of event".

It is my understanding that last evening's difficulties should have no effect on the Western Maryland Symphony Society's plans to present a series of three major concerts in Cumberland next season.

Athletic Boosters At Northern Make Loan Payment

The Northern High School athletic boosters club at its monthly meeting on April 25, announced that since last September the club has repaid $1,950 of its bank loan for the lights for the football field and that $1,050 remains to be returned.

A report from the folk music Hootenanny recently showed receipts of $381.15 and that $350 of this went toward the outstanding indebtedness.

The Huskies boosters are planning to erect a cut stone memorial on the football field in honor of any member of a Northern High school athletic team who gives his life in the service of his country. This monument is to be named the "Clayton Edwards Memorial".

Mr. Edwards was a World War II veteran and a leader in community and civic affairs. Numerous new facilities available to Northern High teams are a result of his efforts. He was president of the boosters club. Pfc. Danny Nicklow, UMSC will be the first name to be placed on the memorial. An outstanding athlete in three sports for three years, he was voted the outstanding senior ahlete when he was graduated in 1965. He was killed in Vietnam in March, 1967.

The boosters club also is planning a hamburger-cookout at Pleasant Valley recreation center on May 13, beginning at 5:30. All boys who have been out for any team during the 66-67 season and all cheerleaders will be invited to attend along with their parents.

9,553 Are Eligible To Vote June 13th

The revised list of voters on the registeration books of the county as of May 9, shows a total of 9,553 persons eligible to vote at the special election to be held on Tuesday, June 13.

These are divided, 3,743 Democrats, 5,744 Republicans, and 66 others. There was an official gain of six over the October 3 tabulation. The official tabulation published last October had 62 too many voters listed, as those who were listed in other categories were counted twice, it was learned when comparing figures.

Just two of the twenty voting places show Democratic majorities, Johnson and Kitzmiller, although four others are close. Registration in Johnson is 263 Democrats to 186 Republicans while in Kitzmiller the spread is 377 to 225. Friendsville is Republican by one, Accident and Bloomington by 8 and Deer Park by 28.

Heaviest Republican majorities are in Sang Run, 325 to 81, Bittinger, 149 to 45, Elbow, 53 to 17, and Crellin 212 to 99.

The official registration as of May 9, appears in tabular form in today's issue.

219 Project Abandoned By St. Roads Body

Plan Calls For Present Roadway To Be Improved, Widened

An unofficial decision to abandon plans for a four-lane highway from north of McHenry to the Deep Creek bridge on U. S. 219, has been made by State Roads officials, it was learned this week.

The present highway would be widened, improved, and blacktopped, if present plans are carried out.

Citizens and business men of the McHenry area had voiced their objections to the new location of 219 because of the subsequent bottleneck it would cause at the Deep Creek bridge, and because of its limited access by residents of the area, once the four-lane roadway was completed.

At a meeting of the property owners of the area recently they had asked the state roads commission to abandon the plan. One resident remarked the new planned highway would have been more harmful than beneficial and apparently the arguments of the citizens have been accepted.

A meeting was held last week with Jerome Wolfe, chairman-director of the State Roads Commisson; Mr. McMullen, member of the commission; State Senator George Hughes, Delegate B. O. Aiken, County Commissioner Allen S. Paugh; John D. Bushby, district engineer; W. Dwight Stover and Fred A. Thayer, local attorneys, attending, when the decision was tentatively made.

This decision still must be confirmed by the State Roads commission to make it official. Also yet to be decided was the plan for re-allocation of funds which would permit the upgrading, widening and further improving present 219, from McHenry to the bridge, and the use of a part of the money for improvement of a portion of route 135, from Altamont to the top of Backbone mountain.

No one was able to state just how much money already had been spent by the roads commission on surveying the new location of the highway that is now being abandoned, nor for the preparation of all the condemnation suits for properties along the route. Some property owners involved had already accepted the appraisals

Liquor Bill Is Signed by Agnew

House Bill 1125 was signed into law last Friday in Annapolis, by Governor Agnew, making it legal now to purchase alcoholic beverages by the drink in Garrett county where a liquor license has been issued.

The bill, sponsored by Delegate B. O. Aiken, was introduced in the legislature near the end of the legislative session and was passed without any hearing on the measure. It passed the Senate in a similar manner.

The bill did away with election district restrictions which for the past few years divided the county. Aiken contends it should not be construed that the signing of the bill simply removes all restrictions on the sale of by-the-drink alcoholic beverages.

He pointed out that a three-member liquor control board has the power to issue and revoke licenses. He said if residents of an area do not desire alcoholic beverages sold in that area they may petition the board to refuse issuance of a license.

A vote June 21, 1961, resulted in 2,908 votes against the sale of liquor and 2,064 in favor. However, the voting was allowable by districts and in four districts there were majorities in favor of liquor sales, 7, 3, 9 and 15. It was restricted in sixteen districts.

House bill 1125 was one of about 14 bills on alcoholic beverages which Delegate Aiken introduced and passed. A number of petitions were sent to the governor with hundreds of signatures, asking him to veto the measure, but the efforts were to no avail.

Teacher Planning To Resign July 1

Mrs. Charlotte Barnard, principal and teacher in the schools of this county for a number of years, plans to retire July 1 of this school year.

Before coming to the schools of the county she taught five years in Virginia. After coming to this county she taught several years and then became principal and teacher of the Bloomington elementary school which has continued for twenty-five years.

Mrs. Barnard is a graduate of the Collao high school in Virginia, attended the Fredericksburg, Va., State Teachers college, and Frostburg state college. She took extension courses from Western Maryland college and received her B.S. degree from the University of Maryland. She also has done work toward a master's degree.

Mrs. Barnard has traveled extensively over the United States, Mexico and Canada.

She is married to Lester Barnard, of Bloomington, and they now reside in their new home in Bloomington.

Verdict Rendered Favor of Plaintiff

A verdict in favor of the plaintiff totaling $4,000, just half the amount sought in a suit filed in the circuit court, was found for Professional Consultants, Inc., of Irwin, Pa., and against Sanders Enterprises, Inc., by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, in the past week.

The case was heard last Monday in the court room. The Irwin corporation had sought $8,000, for goods bargained and sold by the plaintiff, to the defendant, for work done and material provided.

The actual services rendered were claimed to be $6,795.06.

The judgment was for $2,800, since Francis W. Sanders had already paid the plaintiff the sum of $1,200.

In the brief opinion filed by Judge Hamill he declared, "After having given serious consideration to the work involved by the plaintiff in this case, and a study made of the plans and specifications, the court is of the opinion a fee of $4,000 would be fair and reasonable to all parties concerned, and further considering that the defendant has already paid the plaintiff the sum of $1,200, a judgment will be entered in the amount of $2,800. The defendants were ordered to pay the costs of the suit.

Injuries Fatal To County Man

Maxie Elwood Nice, 49, of route 1, Gormania, died Tuesday afternoon, May 9, in War Memorial hospital in Berkeley Springs, of injuries he sustained last Friday in a railroad mishap at Orleans Road, W. Va., east of Cumberland.

According to railroad officials the accident occurred when a mobile crane being used by track crews rammed into rail-laying equipment and a group of workers.

Mr. Nice sustained fractures of the hip, leg and pelvis and chest injuries. Two other men were injured, George Hare, 27, Cumberland, and J. E. Patterson, 36, Cottageville, W. Va. The first was released after treatment and the latter is in fair condition.

Born March 29, 1918, in Rowlesburg, Mr. Nice was a son of Mrs. Emma Catherine Shaffer Nice, of there, and the late Abner Nice.

He was a member of International Brotherhood of Firemen and Oilers, and White Methodist church near Gorman. A veteran of World War II, he was also a member of Rowlesburg VFW post.

Summer Head Start Program Approved

A Federal grant in the amount of $76,448 has been approved by the Office of Economic Opportunity for the Garrett County Summer Head Start Program, it was announced by Brad Rinard, Executive Director of Garrett County Community Action. As in previous years the Board of Education will administer the program with Mrs. Phyllis Williams of the Center Street School as Supervisor.

Classes are planned for the period of June 26th to August 8th with an in-service training meeting for teachers and all aides on June 14, 15, and 16. The teacher training session will be held the week of June 19th at the University of Maryland.

The Summer Head Start Centers established are Accident, Center Street, Crellin, Friendsville, Grantsville, Loch Lynn and Route 40.

Within the next week, a Policy Advisory Committee consisting of parents of Head Start children, members of the Community Action Committee and staff, and members at large from the community, will meet to discuss the new summer program. In addition, a personnel selection committee will be elected from the over-all Policy Advisory Committee. It will be the responsibility of the personnel selection committee to review and approve applicants of all professional and non-professional personnel in the program, Mr. Rinard said.

Any low-income parent of Head Start children entering the program this summer, or any low-income individual from the area to be served interested in employment as an aide in the program should submit a written request to the Community Action Office, P. O. Box 269, Oakland, on or before Thursday, May 18.

The following information should be contained in the letter: full name and address of applicant, brief statement as to why he or she would like to work in the Head Start program, number of individuals in family, family annual income, and if he or she will have a child in Head Start this year.

Approval Given

Approval of the supplemental work plan for the Little Youghiogheny river watershed, in changing the purpose of the Broadford dam structure from a single purpose flood prevention structure to a multiple purpose flood prevention, water supply and recreation structure, has been obtained from the four groups involved. In the photo Allen S. Paugh, president of the County Commissioners, is seen signing the approval, with the other commissioners, Hubert Friend, on the left and Ross Sines, on the right, with Mayor Russell L. Smith of Oakland looking on at extreme right.

Also signing the approval were Robert Glotfelty for the Garrett Soil Conservation district; and Russell Smith for the Wilson Run Public Watershed association and as Mayor of Oakland.

The signing paves the way for the entire project and the next step will be land acquisition. The city has agreed to operate the completed structure as a public recreation area which will include facilities for swimming, fishing boating, camping and picnicking.

Elements Strike County This Week

Rain, rain mixed with some snow, some hail and very little sunshine, along with minor flooding—that was the mountain top area weather picture during the week.

Five out of the past seven days have had rainfall to a considerable degree, so much so that 4.45 inches have been recorded for the month of May thus far. This included .46 of an inch on May 6, 2.34 on the 7th, .28 on the 8th, .73 on the 9th; .09 on the 10th and thus far today .12 of an inch.

Waters were high from the overdose of rain but there was minimum flooding of cellars.

For a brief run-down of the week's weather there was the following: Friday, cool, partially clear, with temperature up to 62 by 2 p. m. It was rainy and cool Saturday and Sunday with continued rain on Monday and Tuesday. Temperature was in the thirties. There was clearing on Wednesday with temperature at 33 and remaining cool all day. Mercury had risen to 56 by 5:30 last night. Skies became overcast again and rain began to fall early today and is continuing at the present time.

Approval of Funds For Dam Is Urged

"The growing communities of the Potomac River basin require more good water every year," Rep. Charles Mathias told a House Appropriations subcommittee yesterday as he urged approval of $2.3 million to start building the $73.5 million Bloomington dam and reservoir.

The money would be for work in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Last year the greatest single daily use of the Potomac was 381 million gallons per day in June. It was estimated that by 1980 the maximum daily demand alone would reach at least 580 million gallons per day.

The project, authorized in 1962 is scheduled for completion in 1972.

"Unless the work proceeds on schedule, progress on the model river could be seriously delayed," he said. He said the pre-construction engineering is being completed with the $1,265,000 appropriated for the project by Congress last year.

To Have Drive Against Measles

Attention was called by health officials again concerning the drive to immunize against measles.

The local campaign will be conducted the week of May 22 to 26 with clinics held in various health centers at regularly scheduled times with a physician present at all clinics.

There is no charge but contributions of one dollar or less will be solicited from those who can afford it.

Health centers will be open in Friendsville and Grantsville Tuesday, 23rd, 1 to 3 p. m; Wednesday, the 24th, at Bloomington school, 1 to 3; Thursday, the 25th at Kitzmiller, 1 to 3; and Friday, the 26th, in Central health department, 9 to 3.

PHARMACY PHACTS

from

Clinton W. Englander

Question

When a child is noticeably under the regular height for his age group, is there some type of drug treatment which can be given to help with this problem?

Answer

First of all, this is a good example of the type of question which a pharmacist is not qualified to answer — because — the only person trained and qualified to give an answer to your problem is your family doctor. Heredity, of course, often enters into a condition of this type, but I am assuming this must not be true in this situation since there could be no real question in your mind were this the case. A medical examination of this child can be expected to show whether or not the use of drug treatment can be of possible help.

Heads Maust Coal-Coke Corporation

Maust Coal and Coke Corp. last Thursday, announced the election of Charles E. Richardson as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company. This post was formerly held by J. R. Maust who continues as Chairman of the Board.

Prior to becoming associated with the Maust organization, Mr. Richardson had been associated for many years, in a managerial and supervisory capacity, with three other large eastern coal producing companies. Mr. Richardson will have offices at New York and Bayard, West Virginia. He resides at Deep Creek Lake, near Oakland.

Other executive changes were the election of Brooks B. Callaghan as Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors. He maintains offices in Richwood, West Virginia.

Letter to The Editor Favors College

As the time is drawing near for the special election we are having June 13th, at which time we will be voting for the Junior College in Garrett County, I want to take this opportunity to encourage the people of the county to vote for the college. I think we would be making a great mistake to pass up an opportunity like this to get a Junior College in our county. We are always trying to build up our county and make it a better place to live, and to attract more people to the county and to improve the living conditions of our county. This college will help our county in many, many ways. Instead of costing, it looks to me like it will be a paying project. I can't see how it can cost us in the long run when everything is coming to the county. The building will be built in the county, which will be good right at the start. Think of all the professors it will employ. They will be living here, and the other jobs it will make.

Look at the money the people of the county can save by sending their children to school here in the county instead of sending them away somewhere, where all the money that is spent on education will be leaving our county. By having a college in the county, the money spent for going to college will at least be spent in the county, even if it would cost the same. Think of how much less it will cost to go to college. How many more students would be able to go to college if we had one in our own county.

It is much more important to go to college today than it used to be. Farming needs people with more education today than ever before. We all know it isn't just in farming that education is more important. It is true in all phases of life, in any job you look for.

Records show that the average person with a college education earns $200,000 more in a lifetime than the average person without college education. So how much college education would it take to pay for our Junior College in Garrett County?

The more education we have, the less unemployment, also we would have less welfare.

In March Reader's Digest it says, "The demand for educated talent among the most advanced Free World Nations is spiraling upward at a rate faster than all the fast growing universities can meet it now or in the forseeable future. Thus, last year alone the United States welcomed 5,479 graduate engineers and scientists, 5,164 teachers and professors, 1,623 accountants, 4,247 nurses, 2,552 technicians and tens of thousands of others with advanced training. These were permanent immigrants; others entered on working visas".

So you see, the nation really needs more educated people. This is another reason why we need a college. If there were more small colleges like this around the county, the big colleges and uiversities could give the students closer attention. It would help keep bigger schools from being so crowded. More people would have a chance to get a college education.

If you just stop and think, you can see many reasons why we need and should have a Junior College in Garrett County. I hope you will vote for it on June 13th.

placed on their ground being taken. Money for the various properties had been placed in the circuit court several months ago.

The decision to abandon the proposed plan will make it unnecessary for the Garrett County Fair association to carry out any plans they had for moving some of its buildings. The proposed road had been planned to run down the midway area.

William Goldsborough, state roads engineer in this county, said the only official notification he had received was to prepare to blacktop the present roadway sometime this summer.

Last December the State Roads commission had filed condemnation suits against some twenty property owners along the proposed relocation. The suits were against the ones who did not agree on the amount of money offered by the commission. Last June the commission filed thirty-nine cases of intent to acquire land for the relocation and at that time deposited a check for $257,730 as payment for the 39 pieces of land in the circuit court. Apparently nineteen of them accepted the terms.

In talking to John Bushby, district engineer, in Cumberland, yesterday afternoon Mr. Bushby stated the procedure was not too clear on what would happen for those who had accepted money for their properties, but was sure that all would be offered back their land at the price appraised. He said he had no knowledge of any timber being cut or any houses moved in preliminary clearing of any land.

He said there would be nothing definite until a meeting could be set up with roads officials, State Senator George R. Hughes, Delegate B. O. Aiken, and all three of the County Commissioners.

He said no estimate could be made as to how much money had been spent on the proposed project as many angles were involved.

A group of citizens of Bloomington is attempting to provide a temporary supply of water to the community which has been without commercial water service since Monday night due to a three-inch line washout beneath the rain-swollen Savage river.

Elderly Citizens To Get Tax Break

Garrett county residents over 65 years of age will get a "tax credit" break under a law recently signed by Gov. Agnew.

Any homeowner who has reached the age of 65 is eligible. If his gross income does not exceed $5,000 for the year immediately preceding the fiscal year of application, he will be allowed a credit from a dwelling and lot taxes equal to 50 percent of the assessed value of the property, or $4,000, whichever is the lesser amount, multiplied by the applicable county tax rate.

Any eligible person whose gross income is not in excess of $1,000 shall be allowed a tax credit of 100 percent of the value of the dwelling or $4,000, whichever is the lesser.

Jerry Moyer, supervisor of assessments, said citizens would not receive any change on his tax bill, but must make application at the treasurer's office, either in person or through the mails.

This was causing some uncertainty in the preparation of the county tax rate for the county for the ensuing year.

No person would hazard a guess as to what the county tax rate would be, but the rate must be set by June 1.

"That's My Bank!"

We feel mighty proud when many of our customers remark, "That's my Bank," when the name of the First National is mentioned, or when some of our loyal friends recommend us to others.

There are many reasons why people choose The First National for their bank.

We like to think it's not only because of our strength and soundness, but because of our neighborly interest in the folks on the mountain top.

We like to think, too, it's because so many thousands of individuals have come to know the First National as the bank with a Community Spirit . . . one that is ever mindful of civic endeavors to promote the attractiveness and advantages of our area, and in helping our community to grow and prosper.

So, when you say, "That's MY Bank," be sure to add, "This is MY town, too."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Frazee, Oakland. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sisler, Accident.

Escorted to the altar by her father the bride wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle. The fitted bodice with a sabrina neckline was enhanced with iridescent and seed pearls. The full skirt had a colonial style effect and terminated with a watteau train.

Her bouffant veil of French illusion fell from a headpiece of satin roses and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and white daisies.

Miss Linda Frazee, Oakland, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a floor length gown of pink satin and matching headdress. She carried a cascade of pink carnations. Bridesmaids were Gloria Pennington, Swallow Falls, Nancy Glotfelty, McHenry, and Eva Perando, Mt. Lake Park. They wore floor length gowns of mint green brocade and satin. They carried cascades of mint green carnations.

Paragraph Opinions . . .

Since 1930 the population of the United States has increased 60 percent and the per capita income has increased 300 percent. But during that same period the costs of the federal government have soared 5,000 percent, and the federal debt has climbed from $15 billion to $330 billion today—an indebtedness of $6,090 on each and every family in the nation. The cancer-like growth continues . . . the federal government employed, as of December 1, 1966, a total of 2,964,687 people. That runs to about $20 billion a year in salaries alone. This is five times the total 1930 federal budget for everything, including the national defense, foreign aid, federal "aid" programs, post office department deficit, and all federal programs.—Morris, Minn., Tribune.

A New Tax Program For Senior Citizens

Over the years there have been various programs which directly affect the senior citizens of America, a category of our population which refers to those individuals 65 years of age or over. Health plans, such as medicare, and special insurance benefits are among the many programs developed especially for these citizens. A special insurance loan program for the construction of housing projects for the elderly is currently in effect under the Federal Housing Administration and the Dept. of Housing and Urban Development has a direct loan program to non-profit organizations for the construction of housing projects for senior citizens. These are the special advantages which should accrue to those who throughout their working lives, with their creativity and industriousness have helped to make America what it is today.

There is, however, a plan now afoot in Washington for changing the tax laws as they affect senior citizens. There is a carrot ahead of the donkey in this case, and that carrot is the promise or at least the suggestion of increased tax exemptions for senior citizens.

The Administration has proposed that in exchange for these increased tax exemptions the senior citizens of America should surrender three important tax exclusions which are presently written into our law. Those exclusions which would be forfeited are 1) the extra $600 deduction for those 65 and over, 2) the retirement tax credit, and 3) the exclusion of social security and railroad retirement benefits from taxable income.

Under the Administration's plan, these tax exclusions would be replaced by a uniform special exemption from tax of $2,300 for single people over 65 and $4000 for married couples when both are over 65. Single and married elderly individuals with incomes of $5600 or less would have an automatic exemption of this $2,300. However, starting at the $5,600 level for single people over 65 and at the $11,200 level for married couples of the same age, this special exemption would be reduced by $1.00 for each dollar of income over these income levels. The reduction of this special exemption could, in no case, be less than 1/3 of any social security or railroad retirement benefits included in income, meaning that the remaining 2/3 of social security and railroad retirement benefits would be subject to taxation.

This explanation is at best very brief, and certainly does not deal with all of the complicated details of the proposal.

In all fairness I should mention that those who want to change the tax laws in this way estimate hat 500,000 additional elderly persons will be relieved of all federal income taxes and that nearly 2.3 million elderly will receive tax reductions. I have not seen the detailed statistics on this point, and am not now in a position to comment on their accuracy.

I do, however, come up against one very fundamental question. This question revolves around the taxation of retirement income in the form of social security and railroad retirement benefits. After all, these are benefits to which the wage earner has contributed over his entire working life. Since he paid taxes on this money when it was earned, it would be double taxation to tax it again. I don't believe that anybody considers that these benefits are saving. Rather these are tax monies collected and redistributed to the people who fall in the benefited categories.

The Ways and Means Committee has heard testimony on this legislation and is expected to sumbit its report to the Housue in the near future. I shall give their report careful study and consideration and hope that you will advise me of your thoughts on this proposal.

To Present Folk Mass at Special Service May 21st

St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Oakland, will present a special service of the American Folk Mass Sunday, May 21st at 8 p. m. It is being sponsored by the members of the Young People's Fellowship of the local Episcopal Church. Singing the Mass and celebrating the Eucharist will be the Rev. Forrest Farris, Assistant Rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Cumberland. He will be assisted by the Rector of the local church, the Rev. W. Shelby Walthall. Playing the guitar for the service will be Miss Kathy Gonder, graduating senior in speech and biology, Magna Cum Laude, from West Virginia University. There will be no other instrumentalists.

Although the service will begin at 8 o'clock, the congregation is asked to be in the church by 7 p. m. for a brief rehearsal. This is essential since the responses will be sung by the congregation as well as by the priests participating. The clergy, young people and interested adults of the local churches have been invited, together with the clergy and their congregations of the Episcopal Churches in Garrett and Allegany counties.

The American Folk Mass setting being used was written and composed by Father Ian Douglas Mitchell, a priest of the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago. Its purpose is to provide in a contemporary manner the worship of God in the Twentieth Century. It has received wide acceptance in the Episcopal Church wherever it has been presented. This is the first time it has been given in this area.

Following the service light refreshments will be served in the community room of the First National Bank.

Paragraph Opinions . . .

Some people still do not seem to understand that no one ever gets anything "free" from any branch of government. Somewhere there must be taxes collected in order to provide the funds that are appropriated. Furthermore, about one third more money must be collected than is finally appropriated—the difference going for "administrative expense". Tax increases are never popular. They are necessary, however, if spending by all branches of our government—and all other tax supported bodies as well continues its yearly upward trend. —Sullivan, Ill., Progress.

Where Tax Dollars Go .....

Up to date figures on the Job Corps disclose there are now 9,766 graduates from the 112 training centers. Of these 7,341 have gone back to school and have bone back to school and 1,491 have entered the armed forces. The Job Corps has spend $522,502,578 up to January 1st. This averages out to $53,502 per graduate. Makes one wonder, does it not?

Governor Vetoes 30 State Bills

First item of business awaiting Maryland legislators when they convene next year will be 30 bills from the 1967 session vetoed by Gov. Agnew.

The governor gave no reasons for any of the 30 vetoes last Thursday although several were technically at fault or duplicated other bills already signed.

Gov. Agnew signed 117 bills into law in winding up the business of the 1967 session of the General Assembly.

Vetoes One Prison Bill

Among the vetoed bills was one to separate the functions of the Department of Parole and Probation from the Board of Parole and Probation. This was one of a four-bill package designed to improve management of the state's troubled prison system.

Also rejected was a bill which would have made it illegal to require a borrower to purchase credit life insurance from a particular company before he is granted a loan.

A bill to remove some of the state restrictions on well drillers was vetoed on the advice of Atty. Gen. Francis B. Burch, who found it to be improperly drafted. Agnew also vetoed a bill which would take away from the governor the authority to appoint members of the Baltimore County liquor board.

The governor took two items out of the $47.6 million capital improvements budget, both for $200,000. One would have financed the first stage of construction for a golf course in the Sweet Air Recreation Area in Baltimore county and the other was for land acquisition in Seneca Creek State park in Montgomery county. Also drawing veto was a bill which would have permitted land for highways to be purchased with state pension funds.

Among the final bills signed by the governor were acts to update the Maryland definition of criminal insanity, delay for one year the prerequisite of taking driver's education to get a license under 18 years of age and authorizing $50 million loan fund to help develop sewage systemss.

In delaying the driver education provision until next April 1, Agnew served notice on Maryland schools that they should "be prepared to meet the requirements of the act" at that time and offer training to all students wanting it.

The governor also signed bills to:

Provide $3 million in state funds to help build a convention center in Ocean City; increase salaries of juudges of the Court of Appeals and the Court of Special Appeals; and set up a committee of legislators to aid members of the Constitutional convention.

Six Cases Are On Magistrate Docket

Just six cases were listed on the motor vehicle docket in the office of Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney during the week, with one of them being a not guilty verdict.

Bernard I. Gonder, Jr., Oakland, pleaded not guilty to a charge of failure to obey a traffic control signal and was found not guilty.

Estel Ray Brotherton, Dunbar, W. Va., pleaded not guilty to a charge of failing to obey traffic control but was found guilty and fined $10 and costs.

Kathryn Friend Humberson, Friendsville, pleaded guilty to a charge of leaving her keys in the ignition switch of the vehicle. She was fined $5 and costs but the fine and costs were suspended.

Robert Martin Filsinger, Swanton, paid $12 and costs for exceeding posted speed limit.

Ruth Richardson Shingleton, Oakland, paid $5 and costs for operating without tags.

Wants Jr. College Know How Shared

Congressman Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., (R-Md. 6th) Saturday afternoon proposed that the United States "share our experiences with junior colleges with the rest of the world".

In remarks prepared for dedication ceremonies at the new campus of Hagerstown Junior College, Mr. Mathias stated that "our rapidly expanding system of junior and community colleges is the most exciting development in American higher education today". He noted that between 40 and 50 additional junior colleges are opening every year, and that enrollment, which doubled between 1960 and 1965, is growing at a rate of about 200,000 more students per year.

"Our versatile junior colleges", the Congressman summarized, "offer general liberal education, advanced vocational and technical training, adult education, and a wide range of community services. They are answering our national needs for more general education for more Americans, and for specialized training in many fields —such as medicine, technologically advanced industry, and public administration — where middle-level manpower is in great demand.

"Our public educational system", Mr. Mathias continued, "has made the United States the scientific and industrial leader of the world". He asserted that "unless we share our knowledge of educational methods, our strong junior college system will help to perpetuate and widen the 'technological gap' which so concerns Europe and the developing nations, and which is already causing diplomatic strains and provoking international economic tensions".

Eleven Are Killed On State Highways

Again last week speed took a terrific toll on Maryland highways when it was a contributing cause in nine of the eleven deaths on the State's highways.

Of the eleven persons who were killed, six were drivers, three were passengers, and two were pedestrians.

In one instance, a "good Samaritan" was killed while he was attempting to assist, just seconds before his death, those injured in a head-on crash.

"Try as we may", said Lt. Col. George Davidson, Chief of Operations of the Maryland State Police, "we don't quite seem to get the safety message across to the operators of vehicles. They apparently believe that however high the traffic accident toll climbs, it still won't climb high enough to reach them. But last week eleven persons in Maryland were fatally fooled - it did happen to them".

Colonel Davidson concluded: "Our only defense against death or serious injury in a traffic accident is to drive at all times as defensively as we possibly can, ever mindful of the shortcomings of other drivers on the roads and streets".

In addition to the presence of speed, "driver error" was a factor in ten of the fatalities and alcohol was present in two cases.

MY SINCERE APPRECIATION

To all my Republican friends for their confidence in me in signing the petition to retain me as Trial Magistrate at Oakland, by favoring my reappointment by the Governor.

I want to thank also the members of the Garrett County Bar Association who supported me in this endeavor.

Over 500 Republican voters have signed the two petitions which were circulated and I am grateful to each one.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Customs may differ among the races and may change with the times, but certain institutions in human life have remained constant through the centuries. One of these is Motherhood.

Progress has given Mother new methods and new equipment for her age-old responsibilities. But the love and understanding which are the heart of Motherhood have never depended on science for their expression.

One unchanging sphere of material responsibility has been the religious development of children. From primitive tribal religions up to Christianity, mothers have guided and encouraged the growth of each successive generation in spiritual faith.

The Christian Church salutes all faithful mothers. They have led their families to an ever deepening realization of the sacred bond which unites the Church and the Home in a common devotion to Jesus Christ.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

Of God or Man?

Lesson for May 14, 1967

Background Scripture: Acts 5:12-42.
Devotional Reading: 1 Kings 8:54-61.

Let's assume that your pastor is involved in the drive to secure equal opportunities in employment and housing for Negroes in your community. Let's assume further that he has refused to heed official warnings to cease this activity and is imprisoned. Finally, assume that he has escaped from prison and has resumed his activities in this cause. What reaction would there be from you and your church to such a pastor? Is this not civil disobedience?

Rev. Althouse

That is what we call it today. In the day of Peter and John it may have been called something else, but it was really the same thing. These men believed that their obedience to God made it impossible to obey civil authorities in a particular situation. In this case, you will remember, it all started when Peter and John healed a man by the Beautiful Gate and then witnessed to the power of Jesus. Dragged before the Council, the two disciples were warned not to heal, preach, or teach any more in the name of Jesus.

Impossible To Obey

Peter and John, however, did not stop their public witness. They continued and, because they continued and thus defied the ruling of the Council, they were thrown into jail for their civil disobedience. Furthermore, by the help of God, they escaped from jail and resumed the very work they had been forbidden to do.

There is really a parallel here, isn't there? Peter and John got into trouble with the civil authorities when, in response to God's guidance, they helped a man who was the victim of a physical disability. Some Christians today have gotten into trouble with the civil authorities when, in response to what they believed to be God's guidance, they have helped men who are the victims of prejudice and injustice. In both cases there is civil disobedience, an attempt to "obey God rather than men." (Acts 5:29 RSV)

Perspective of Time

Strange, isn't it? Today we remember Peter and John as great heroes of the faith because they obeyed God rather than men. Yet, at the same time, we look down our noses at those who would seek to do the same thing today. Why is it that civil disobedience appears so much more holy in the First Century than in the Twentieth?

Unless we want to reject much of the New Testament, we Christians can hardly say that civil disobedience is never justifiable. Jesus himself participated in civil disobedience when he strode into the temple, overturned the tables of the money changers, and drove them out. That wasn't even a passive act.

Ah yes, we say, but Jesus and Peter and John were doing the will of God. Yet, isn't this also the motive of those engaged in controversial issues of conscience today? True, we argue, but suppose we don't agree that this is the will of God? Then what?

God Always Prevails

There's the rub, isn't it? How do you respond to someone who believes he is doing God's will, when you don't agree or aren't sure? This was the same problem that confronted the leaders of Jerusalem. Peter and John believed that they were doing the will of God, but the men of the Council were certain that they were not. Then it was that wise Gamaliel reminded the Council that if something is of God, nothing will defeat it in the long run; if it is not of God, nothing we do will make it ultimately succeed. God always prevails. So, let us see whether this is of God or of man.

There are bound to be issues over which Christians will not agree concerning the will of God. Let us respect the Christian conscience of one another and follow our own convictions, confident that in God's own time his will prevails.

In Loving Memory Of SUSIE E. MATTHEWS
On Mother's Day, May 14,
Who Passed Away February 10, 1967

Long, long ago a Cross was borne
Up to a lonely hill.
A tomb was sealed, a guard was set,
Death said, "I rule at will."

But Lo! The Tomb became a Shrine
To point men to the stars,
For love cannot be sealed in tombs
Nor bound by iron bars.

No longer king, Death stands at bay;
He only holds the key
That swings aside the earthly door
To Immortality.

Concert Group Has Membership Campaign

The annual Tri-State Community Concert Association's membership campaign is being conducted this week and will end Friday afternoon. A number of residents of Oakland and elsewhere in Garrett County annually purchase memberships in the association, which entitle them to attend four or five concerts during the coming season in the Fort Hill High School auditorium in Cumberland.

No memberships will be accepted after Friday and no one will be able to buy individual tickets for single performances.

C. W. Englander, Mrs. Fred Thayer and Miss F. Marcella Kerins are conducting the campaign in the Oakland area.

Three programs are assured for next season and one or two more will be added, depending upon the success of the membership campaign.

Compagnie Nationale de Danses Francaises—the French national dance company, has been booked for an appearance. Two other attractions which appeared in Cumberland previously are scheduled to return during the ninth season, The Goldovsky Grand Opera Theatre and The Don Shirley Trio.

Highlanders Lose To Keyser 4 - 1

Keyser High school remained unbeaten in six games as the Golden Tornadoes downed Southern High school 4 to 1 last Thursday at Keyser.

Carl Liebig won his fifth game without a defat. He scattered five singles and while at the plate drove in a run and rapped a two-bagger. He gave up two walks and struck out eight.

His mound opponent, Bob Finch, was equally effective, allowing five hits and four walks, while fanning five. Keyser was able to assemble its singles more compactly and this spelled the difference.

Keyser scored two runs in the first inning. Two more runs were scored by Keyser in the fourth inning. Southern's only tally came in the sixth inning when Gary Bosley singled and scored from third on Finch's sacrifice fly.

Support Sought For Arts Council

In an effort to bring Visual and Performing Arts presentations to Garrett County, interested citizens are organizing a Garrett County Arts Council. All persons interested in associating themselves with the group are requested to contact Aza Stanton, acting Chairman of the local Arts Council.

Present plans are to make the Garrett County Arts Council a branch of the Deep Creek Lake - Garrett County Promotion Council and to work in conjunction with the recently instituted Maryland Arts Council. The Maryland Arts Council will provide professional exhibits of Painting and Sculpture, as well as Musical and Dramatic programs to the areas of Maryland interested in receiving them. Costs of presenting programs and exhibits will be divided between the State and local organizations. It is important, Stanton points out, that a strong Garrett County group interested in the Arts be organized as soon as possible and that support - both moral and financial - be forthcoming from County Civic organizations, as well as individuals.

All those interested in participating in the Garrett County Arts Council are asked to fill out and mail the form below to Mr. Stanton.

Decries Term "Pocket Of Poverty"

Friendsville, Md.
May 2, 1967

The Editor
Office of The Republican
Oakland, Md.
Dear Sir:

In the April 27th edition of the Baltimore Evening Sun there is an article capped "Gov't. Funds Wanted—To Fill Garrett County Pockets of Poverty" that should be read by all Garrett County citizens. The article lists a couple of ideas that raise some food for thought.

If the Friendsville Milling Co. lacked customers, why did Mr. Teats purchase the property? The original owners, now living in Florida, had a very prosperous business, as seemingly did their successors until now. When you have little or nothing to sell, it would seem logical to have few customers. If the town could not support an established business, how can it support a community center, where the proposed activities would seem to be non-sustaining and/or non-profit. I fail to see where Friendsville is secluded and a pocket of poverty.

When Mr. Rinard was living in Friendsville, he was talking of a teen or community center in the old post office building. A group of citizens was working to secure funds and interest to get the project off the ground. But a more golden secure individual oportunity was presented and Mr. Rinard moved on and the idea was dropped. The Sun article states that Mr. Rinard is worried that lack of funds might undermine morale for generations. Seems to me that abandoning projects when there is interest would undermine morale.

I realize we are living in the "Great Society", but I feel the great has been mispelled. A more appropriate spelling would be "grate".

Yours truly,
Jeanne Frantz

What Brought On The Sun Letter

The story, labeled "Special" with a Friendsville dateline, talked about Allen Teats as a happy man, but one with problems. The story related he had been out of work for a year with three daughters and a son, and owning a large frame building that was once the feed mill. It is closed now. "There just weren't enough customers", the story said. It added Teats would be compelled to seek his living elsewhere if his idea does not materialize. His idea—to transform his mill property into a community center for boys and girls.

The story continued: "He has forwarded his idea to the Oakland Community Action committee, established two years ago through the Federal Government's Economic Opportunity Act". The story related other plans submitted to CAC including Mrs. Hubert Spiker, Jennings, concerning a mail route and school bus service extensions; Mrs. Anna Lee, driving to rebuild a dam and clean up the sewage system in Crellin and an abandoned school converted into a community center, and a vacant lot made into a swimming and picnic area.

The story continued: "These rugged, enduring people are crying out for better medical care, housing for the elderly, pre-school-age training and employment for men stripped of their jobs when coal mining and timber logging declined as major industries. But Appalachians were not always so vocal in expressing their needs.

G. Bradford Rinard, Garrett county CAC executive director and program aides Lucille Metheny and Betty Guard dove into their jobs last April by launching a survey of five target communities, Crellin, Kitzmiller, Jennings, Friendsville and Avilton, to pinpoint family and community needs, to inform residents of services available through county, state and federal agencies".

Statistics gathered by knocking on 1,372 doors; forty-eight percent of families in these communities lived on incomes of less than $3,000 per year with percentage as high as 69.1 in Kitzmiller; 67 percent of housing is substandard: less than half population is under 21; about one-tenth of population is 65 or over with only 5.7 percent receiving old-age assistance; 12.6 percent of males 14 and over in civilian labor force are unemployed, and 44.2 percent of such females without jobs.

"Gradually people who almost seem to thrive on daily disappointment and frustration began to hope. With Rinard's encouragement they formed neighborhood action committees. Meeting regularly the group got some action. A trash pick-up service and sewage drain was undertaken. Job training for 28 high school dropouts was instigated. School bus service and mail delivery was instituted on Jennings-Durst road.

"Despite this progress Mr. Rinard is worried. When the Office of Economic Opportunity was established in Washington we were directed to involve the local people in planning their area's growth and this is what we have done", he said.

But he knows that the county's programs must compete with similar projects from California to the Carolinas for its share of the $340 million in federal funds allocated to community action.

He knows that even if the Federal government approves the plans that the state as well as the county must supplement these funds wih more money or material. "We have watched the men and women gain self-confidence and begin to live for the future", notes Rinard, but he is "afraid another let-down might undermine morale for generations".

When you look for the most room and the smoothest ride and the best value, you'll end up with a Chevrolet wagon everytime.

Chevrolet Impala, roomiest in its class. While extra roominess is perhaps the best reason for buying a Chevrolet wagon, consider, also, these bonuses: Body by Fisher, Chevrolet dependability, flush-and-dry rocker panels and Magic-Mirror finish. Chevelle Malibu, smoother, quieter ride. A Malibu not only gives you a Full Coil suspension ride, but the body mountings are double-cushioned. And Chevelle carries plenty. It opens wide. 54.6 inches, to be exact, 28.5 inches high. Flip the second seat down and you've got 86 cubic feet of cargo space for all your gear. Chevelle was built to take a lot. Chevy II Nova, best equipped for the money. All-vinyl upholstery is standard. Flush-and-dry rocker panels that clean themselves are standard. Separate panels beneath each fender to inhibit rust are standard. Mono-Plate rear suspension to smooth the ride is standard. Price? Below standard.

Scout Council Plans Annual Camporee

Plans for the Annual Camporee of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, were announced today by Ross O. Decker, Council Camping and Activities Chairman. The Camporee will begin Friday evening, May 19, and end at noon Sunday, May 21. The Friday night campsite will be near the Green Ridge Station, while the units will camp at the Cardinal Club on Saturday night.

Again this year the event will be a "moving" Camporee, with those participating hiking approximately ten miles between the Friday and Saturday night campsites carrying all equipment. At the first "moving" camporee in 1965, over five hundred boys and leaders hiked through "The Trough" near Moorefield, while over six hundred hiked from Piney Mountain to Swallow Falls last year. Another good crowd is expected this year.

Units participating furnish their own food, tentage, cooking gear, etc., and cooking is done over wood or charcoal fire. Each unit must also be accompanied by adult leadership at all times.

A special campfire program is being arranged at the Cardinal Club for Saturday night, at which time all those who participated in the hike will receive a patch. Patrols will also receive certificates. Special religious services will also be conducted here on Sunday, following which parents will pick up their sons for the return trip home.

Elderly Swamp Treasurer's Office

Elderly citizens appeared over-anxious to obtain their tax break, judging from the response to a story which appeared last week in The Republican.

The Treasurer's office was swamped this week with visits, telephone calls and letters, inquiring about their application blanks.

The legislation was passed at the last session of the legislature and the machinery to provide the blanks has not been worked out.

Mrs. Arzella Parsons, county treasurer, said that the applications will be mailed with tax bills sometime after July 1, and that there is no reason to call the treasurer's office at this time. A number of details must be worked out in regard as to who is eligible, and the portion of the property that is to be considered, etc.

Any homeowner who has reached 65 years of age is eligible if his gross income does not exceed $5,000 for the year.

New Telephone Exchange Is Now Set at Thayerville

The new telephone exchange was placed in service in the Thayerville area as of Tuesday, May 16, it was announced by G. C. Crabtree, business manager for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company in Oakland.

The exchange is a mobile telephone central office, and was placed in operation to take care of the heavy demand for service particularly during the summer months in the Deep Creek Lake area. The equipment will eventually be placed ing a permanent office building.

The present exchange is a complete telephone central office, and is in a 50-foot trailer.

Making the first official telephone call was Mrs. Patricia Kittle, executive secretary for the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion council, and she conversed with a representative of the Maryland Travel council in Annapolis.

Customers in the Deep Creek area are being given new numbers which start with 387, but this number will not be used until the new directory is distributed around July 1. Until that time area residents must continue to call numbers through the Oakland exchange and must use the numbers 334.

Mr. Crabtree gave out official figures on the cost. Approximate cost of providing the additional telephone facilities for the Deep Creek Lake area of the county: central office and equipment, $104,500; outside plant equipment including wire, cable and poles, $150,000; cost of labor man hours, $32,000, total cost, $290,000.

Mr. Crabtree said these costs included the placing of 86,100 feet of aerial, buried and submarine cables which are to be completed by August of this year.

Donors Give 140 Pints of Blood

Donors yesterday gave 140 pints of blood during the regular visit of the Johnstown Red Cross bloodmobile at the Oakland fire hall. This was the highest number of pints to be received in many visits. Four of the pints were contributed at the hospital and 136 pints at the bloodmobile.

Statistics showed that 161 donors had been scheduled and 88 kept their appointments. There were 62 walk-ins, 12 rejects. One hundred six pints were for replacements.

Eugene Flinn became a three-gallon blood donor. Atlee Hershberger became a two-gallon donor. Those contributing a total of one gallon were James McHenry and Mrs. Nina Miller.

Group Favoring College Meets Tues.

Some fifty or more persons interested in seeing the Community college established at McHenry, met Tuesday evening to outline what might be done to get out a large vote for the special election which could decide the project.

The group decided to call on Parent-Teacher groups and others to arouse the interest of the citizens and to spread the word on reasons for a junior college program.

The special election will be held Tuesday, June 13, and there will be a referendum on the ballot to indicate whether the voters are in favor of a community college.

The affirmative still does not bind the County Commissioners to a definite program but would indicate that a majority of the voters would like to see its establishment.

City Replies To Health Dept. Injunction Try

Claims Agency Has No Authority To Limit Number Of Taps

The city of Oakland, through its attorney, William W. Grant, last Thursday filed its answer to a petition for an injunction against the town by the State Deparment of Health, to restrain the town from authorizing any further permits or licenses for sewer taps and sewer lines within the corporate limits.

In the answer the town declares that the complainant does not have the authority to issue such an order and denied the allegation that the town had displayed disregard and apathy for the public health and welfare by its refusal to comply with the board's order.

The Health department had complained that an order had been issued September 24, 1965 requiring that no additional connections or extensions be made to existing sewers in the town until complete engineering plans and specifications for providing adequate sewage treatment facilities had been submitted and approved by the State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene.

The department had cited three occasions recently wherein the town had violated the board's order.

It prayed the court to enjoin and restrain the town from authorizing and issuing any permits or licenses for sewer taps and sewer lines, or for additional connections or extensions.

The town's answer also added that the statement declaring the mayor and town council had "displayed total disregard and apathy for the public health and welfare by its refusal to comply with the board order" was scurrilous and false and that the court should not tolerate the complainant's attempt to conceal its unlawful activities by directing opprobrium against the town.

It further declared the complainant was "guilty of unclean hands, as set forth in the appendix, in unlawfully attempting to force upon the respondent a sewage disposal facility prepared for the Garrett County Sanitary district", which it declared was insufficient to serve the area concerned.

The appendix which the town desires to have made a part of the answer, declares the facility as designed by the Chester Engineers was "inadequate, improperly designed and the costs have been incorrectly stated".

It goes into detail concerning the efforts to coerce the respondent to the extent of twenty-four typewritten pages and explained in detail the deficiencies of the Chester plan, by indicating it was not

Weather Opens Up After Rainy Spell

There were indications this morning that the weather might be taking a turn for the better. The sun was shining early today and had remained in full view for three hours, which was somewhat unusual in light of the almost continual rainfall of the past two to three weeks.

The week's weather included a heavy frost on Wednesday morning and near frost this morning. Last Friday made it without any rain, along with a temperature up to 60 degrees, but it was the only day of the week in that category.

There was rain last Thursday with mercury up to 66. Rain fell Saturday in early afternoon and followed Sunday and Monday. The sun did emerge on Monday for a time but temperature dropped from 66 to 47. There was additional rain Tuesday with skies clearing toward evening and covering the ground with heavy frost Wednesday morning with a reading below 30 degrees. Rain also fell yesterday.

Two Are Injured In Car Collision

Two persons were injured yesterday afternoon in a collision which involved three automobiles at the intersection on route 135, near the Browning Foodland. Neither was hurt seriously and expected to be released from Garrett County Memorial hospital today.

Involved were Louis Dale White, 45, of Deer Park, driving east, and Mrs. Katheryne Miller, 48, Bloomington, who crashed into White as he endeavored to turn into the foodland. The White car, a 1959 Pontiac, was pushed into a 1964 Buick, occupied by Francis E. Schomper, of Indiana, Pa., who was halted for a stop sign. Schomper was not injured.

Mrs. Miller was driving a 1966 Buick. The Miller and White cars were badly damaged. Two ambulances were called which took White and Mrs. Miller to the hospital. They were in good condition this morning and hospital officials said they would be released today.

The accident was investigated by Trooper Robert Lashley.

Commissioners Fail To Act On Teacher Increase

The Garrett County Teachers Association announced last night that the GCTA Salary Committee had been asked to make recommendations to the membership regarding the present school budget crisis. Action came following the receipt of a letter from the County Commissioners stating that salaries would not be increased for next year as requested by the GCTA and the Board of Education.

GCTA President Lawrence Meyers commented that, "Garrett County teachers traditionally have been the lowest paid in Maryland and will remain so even if our proposal is adopted. Every other county, including neighboring Allegany, has made massive improvements in salaries in order to attract and retain qualified teachers. All we are asking is a minimal increase that can be accomplished without raising taxes — reasonable and responsible in view of the additional funds available to the Commissioners this year". The County Commissioners will be invited to explain their action at a general membership meeting planned for next week.

An emergency meeting, open only to GCTA members, will be held tonight at Southern High School at 7:30, to discuss possible courses of action.

At the meeting of the commissioners this week Allen S. Paugh, president, said he had made a motion to give the teachers a $200 salary increase across the board, but that the motion failed for want of a second. The teachers had sought an increase of $400.

In talking with John Ross Sines, commissioner, this morning, he said that neither he nor Mr. Friend had seconded the motion but that he had promised to take a deep look at the problem for next year.

Robert Maroney Named Magistrate

Robert M. Maroney, Oakland trial magistrate since 1959 was appointed to serve for another two years by Governor Spiro Agnew. He was notified by letter on Monday and his official commission was received in the office of Richard L. Davis, clerk of the Circuit Court, on Tuesday morning.

The appointment came after petitions with names of over 500 Republican voters had been sent to the Governor last week. Elwood Groves, Mt. Lake Park, had received the appointment several weeks ago as the result of a recommendation by the Republican State Central committee, but he resigned because of health reasons.

It was reported the State Central committee had sought other candidates whom they would recommend but had difficulty in finding any individual. The County Bar association had previously recommended that Mr. Maroney, a Democrat, be retained because of his performance during previous years.

Mr. Maroney was appointed magistrate in 1959, and had served for the past four terms.

Held For Passing Forged Checks

An Oakland mother and her teen-age son were given preliminary hearings Tuesday on charges of passing forged checks in Allegany county.

Trial Magistrate Lee C. Barnett, Jr., of Cumberland, ordered the woman and her son held under $500 bond each for action of the October grand jury. Both posted bond and were released.

The charges were placed against Mrs. Ireta Sweitzer, 42, Oakland, and her son, John Basil Furr, 19, also Oakland.

William F. Baker, county investigator, said the pair were charged in connection with passing a series of forged checks totaling more than $1,000 during March of 1966 in Cumberland and other areas of Allegany county. The checks averaged $100 each, Mr. Baker said.

The youth was apprehended over the week-end by Trooper Ronald Lewis, of the Oakland detachment of the Maryland State police. Trooper Lewis said Furr had been residing in Ohio and had come back to this area for a vacation. Mrs. Sweitzer turned herself in to the State's Attorney's office in Cumberland on Monday.

Assisting Mr. Baker with the investigation were Tfc. Milton Hart, criminal investigator of the Maryland State Police, and Deputy Sheriff Louis Tyree.

City Of Oakland Files Demurrer To Complaint

Says Annotated Code Puts Limit On Sanitary District Powers

The city of Oakland, through its attorney, William W. Grant, last Thursday filed a demurrer to the complaint that the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc., had filed against it on April 3rd in the Circuit court.

The bill of complaint set out that the present policy of the town had been to delay and contradict plans of the Sanitary commission to provide a sewage disposal system for the three municipalities of the area, Oakland, Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn Heights. The complaint was filed by Jack R. Turney, attorney to the sanitary district.

The suit was filed to determine whether or not the Oakland municipality was an integral part of the sanitary district and subject to direction and recommendations of that body.

The request for demurrer to the proceedings filed last Thursday declares that "ownership and authority to operate the Oakland sewer system is vested in the mayor and town council by statute and specifically denies to the complainant by statute which declares it is a duly organized and incorporated municipality; that the public local laws of the state authorize and empower the town to construct and maintain a sewage system for the town; that title to the sewage system is vested in the town; that the annotated code of Maryland places limitations on the powers of the complainant in construction, improvement, maintenance, extension or operation of any project which would complicate or compete with existing utilities.

The demurrer also claims that no contractual arrangement by the town relative to the sewage system has been made by the town with the sanitary commission; that the petition referred to in the bill of complaint was signed by a group of citizens and that there was no corporate action. It added that the town had advised numerous times that it did not desire to enter into any arrangment with the complaintant relative to sewage disposal and that the town planned to build its own facili-

Another Landmark Razed This Week

The razing of another of the old landmarks of Oakland was completed this week by William A. Shirer Contracting company. It was the house located on the corner of Fifth and Green streets, used early in the century as a county jail and sheriff's residence. Years later it was used as the vocational agriculture department of the old Oakland High school in recent years was used as a county livestock laboratory. The exact year the structure was built has not been learned, but it was used as a jail for some years until the present county jail was constructed in 1905. Edward J. Frantz was sheriff at the time, who is the grandfather of James E. Frantz, present sheriff. The original courthouse was built in 1878, and part of it still stands, the rear section of the Board of Education building, formerly a part of Oakland High school, and adjacent to the former jail.

ANOTHER LANDMARK GOES—Another landmark, that of what was once the county jail, was razed this week by William A. Shirer, contractor. Located at Fifth and Green streets, it was used as a county jail until 1905 when the new jail was constructed.

Juvenile Arrested After Wild Chase

A 15-year-old youth of Preston county was taken into custody by Preston county police last week after a wild four hour chase ended on a water drenched road near Hazelton.

Police said the incident began when the youth stole a 1965 Rambler in Friendsville on Sunday evening, May 7, and reportedly drove the car to his home in Hazelton. Police and West Virginia state police spotted the youth and the car in Bruceton Mills and chased him to Markleysburg, Pa., where they lost him.

Police said the boy abandoned the car in Markleysburg where it was found by Pennsylvania police, and stole a 1965 Valiant, which he drove back to Hazelton. West Virginia police again spotted the boy in the second stolen vehicle near Hazelton and again chased him. They were able to block him off at about 2 a. m.

The youth stopped his car in a section of road flooded knee deep from the heavy week-end rains. Police chased him on foot through the water and finally apprehended him.

He was charged with grand larceny and officials from Maryland and Pennsylvania have indicated they want to extradite him on charges of grand larceny.

Both of the stolen cars have been returned to their owners.

I've always taken good care of my finger nails, but they're now beginning to show ridges. What causes this?

Answer

This is a relatively common condition for which the medical name is "onychorrhexis." Younger people whose nails are coming into contact with strong detergents or chemical substances can often have this problem. These substances tend to remove natural oils from the nails, causing them to develop ridges or split because of the unnatural drying process. In the case of older people, these ridges are usually caused by the thinning of the nails. If this is an active point of concern for you, you'll probably do well to talk with your doctor about this condition.

Greenspan Program Is Offered Again

Greenspan, a part of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Cropland Adjustment Program is being offered again this year, according to a statement by Darrell Martin, Garrett County ASC committee chairman.

The Cropland Adjustment Program (CAP), authorized by the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965, is divided into two parts. One part applies to farmers, the other to public entities. For farmers, it provides adjustment payments and conservation cost-sharing to help to shift land cut of certain crops and into conserving uses for periods of 5 to 10 years.

The Greenspan provision of CAP authorizes grants to public entities, local, State, of Federal, desiring to buy cropland for permanent conversion to nonfarm uses such as parks, recreation areas, wildlife habitat, the preservation of open spaces and natural beauty, and the prevention of air and water pollution.

Greenspan rates of assistance are based on the smaller of 50 percent of the cost of the land diverted from eligible crops or what a farmer would have received under a 10-year CAP agreement. The grant will be determined by the number of acres and the farm yield per acre.

Mr. Martin said State or local officials, farmers, and other persons interested in details of the 1967 Greenspan program should contact the ASCS county office.

Redistribution of Wild Turkeys Set

If the Game Management department is successful in its new wild turkey project, forest nimrods are going to have to shape-up their wild turkey hunting techniques. Semi-wild pen raised birds may be on the way out, to be replaced by a species possessing the ability to not only elude his natural enemies but also test the hunting efficiency of the man with a gun.

A truly wild turkey is probably the wariest of the woodland game birds. Seldom does any hunter possess the skill to stalk this bird and get close enough for a shot. He must use a more devious method by enticing the turkey to him by simulating the call of another bird.

Pen raised birds released prior to opening day, always had little survival opportunities from natural enemies and were especially vulnerable to heavy gunning pressure. This made a bird-in-the-bag an expensive item.

Last week a number of truly wild turkeys were released in the Catactin Mountains of Frederick County. These birds were transferred from Western Maryland and were born and raised in the wild. The capture method, using a tranquilizer, is now widely accepted as the best technique to prevent injury to animals being transferred. In this project, wild turkeys were enticed to an area baited with corn. Game management personnel kept a 24 hour vigil at this spot and when a sufficient number of birds were using the area, the men substituted a quantity of corn saturated with a tranquilizer. Anywhere from 20 minutes to an hour after consuming the treated bait, Mr. Turkey quietly settled down for a snooze and could be picked up by the game managers. After the bird was given an opportunity to recover from the effects of the tranquilizer, he was placed in his own individual, especially designed, traveling crate to prevent injury during transportation.

Unlike pen raised birds who show little tendency to fly away upon release the transferred wild birds take off immediately.

Maryland has also released true wild turkeys on the Eastern Shore. These birds came from Florida and were captured by the same method and rushed to Maryland by the Florida Game Department airplane. They came from an area ecologically similar to the lower Shore.

Similar methods of managing the wild turkey in other states has proven very successful, both to the hunter and the game management man.

This new practice is not a put-and-take policy like the old one. These birds have been released to begin new wild flocks. These in turn can be trapped and released in other suitable habitats to start other wild flocks. The wilder strain thus becomes self-sustaining and will replace the extremely expensive pen raised birds.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

I am the mother of a 1967 graduate and am very upset over our closed graduation at Southern School. We are allowed 6 tickets and she has 7 brothers and sisters, 3 of these married with children, so as you can see her immediate family will not even all be taken care of. She has other relatives who would like to attend also but my main concern is her immediate family. They have all looked forward to this graduation too. Now I must choose just 6 to go; and how does one tell some they can go and some they cannot.

I have talked to several others and they feel as I do. Isn't there something to be done about it? Are we taxed to build a school and then the family partially barred from graduation exercises when one of them reaches this goal. Is that the treatment we would expect to receive from a junior college here also? If so why worry ourselves to pay taxes to build it then? Just last week we attended the choral festival and people from all over the county attended and I could not see so much confusion, so why would so much confusion result from graduation exercises? Our family is very upset over this and our daughter hates graduation which before she had looked forward to. Instead of the wonderful experience this should be for her she just wishes it were over. Her father said he would give his ticket to one of the girls and he would not go, which naturally is a great disappointment to her. There are some who are taking friends, which is fine, but then here she is not being able to take her family. Now, Is this fair? If parents care enough they would get there in time to get good seats, is the way I look at it. If I'm wrong please forgive me. I work mostly 8 hour days and take care of the family also, of course with everyone's help, And I would be able to get there in time with our family so why couldn't others? I feel I have the right to express my feelings on this so would you please print this? Thank you so much. A very upset and disturbed mother and family.

Mrs. Mary Ash
Rt. 1, Oakland, Md.

May 13, 1967

Dear Editor:

Last Friday's choral festival at Southern High was the best yet... a near-professional job by both students and directors who deserve an enthusiastic "well done"!

One sour note, however, was the "reserved" seating arrangement.

Children participating were required to be at the gym at 7 p. m., conveyed by their parents who had to wait 'til show time at 8. Those who arrived prior to 7 had a choice of seats in the bleachers or in the rear of the main floor. Parents who arrived after 7 had a real scramble. By 7:30 most seats were filled EXCEPT for 180 reserved seats for the fortunate souls who had reserved tickets.

Meanwhile, parents without tickets had to stand while row after row of reserved seats yawned vacantly, waiting for a ticket holder to wander in at leisure.

The ushers were embarrassed, standing parents disgusted, some refused to stay, and others pondered the ill-considered treatment of a "captive" audience.

At any public school performance, parents should be no less deserving of a seat than the teachers, PTA-ers, "in" politicos, friends and relations who did occupy the reserved section.

If recognition of these particular people is so essential to the school administration, let the administration arrange a special program for them alone. But where the public is invited, particularly parents of the performers, let it be on a first come, first served basis and mark down 1967 as the last year of discourtesy to parents.

Very truly yours,
Robert B. Sincell

12 Are Killed on State Highways

Maryland experienced the loss of twelve lives during the past seven-day period, according to the latest fatality release from the Maryland State Police.

"In addition to several other extraneous factors, inattention seemed to be the culprit in the largest number of last week's deaths", said Lt. Colonel George Davidson, Chief of Operations of the Maryland State Police.

"In a pair of accidents, the driver, for one reason or another, found himself on the wrong side of the center line, and this proved to be a fatal error. I'm sure that had the driver known he would meet another vehicle at that time and place, no force could have coerced him into driving across that center line. But until the driver of an automobile admits to himself that the job of driving is a full-time, demanding one, it will be difficult for the police in Maryland, or anywhere else, to protect him from the fatal results of his own folly".

Driver error was present in nine of the fatal accidents; speed in three; and alcohol in one.

Six of those killed were drivers; three were passengers; and three were pedestrians.

Southern Band In Safety Patrol Parade on Saturday

Southern High School was represented by her senior band in the AAA School Safety Patrol Parade in Washington last Saturday. The band was asked by parade officials to lead the Maryland delegation. Drum Major Skip McCartney and Drum Majorette Louise Martin led the 56-member band as they marched to the tune of "Hosts of Freedom". Over 25,000 students participated in the five-hour-long parade. It was the band's first AAA Parade and Richard Clever, director, appeared pleased with the performance.

The group of 73 left Oakland at 6:00 Friday morning and spent the first day in Washington touring the museums and watching a major league ball game. Members also visited the Capitol building, the Library of Congress, and the L. B. J. Headquarters.

For the first time in a large parade, the band was led by a 5 member color guard. Several new instruments and new flags, including Southern's first school flag were displayed. The new school flag, a project of the color guard, bears Southern's symbol, the Highlander.

The band will perform in three more parades before the close of the school year at Mt. Savage on May 26, Cumberland on May 29, and Oakland on May 30.

It furthermore stated there was "no justifiable controversy concerning the said petition upon which to base a declaratory judgment as prayed by the complainant".

The controversy is over whether or not the town would be entitled to withdraw from the Sanitary district.

The original declaration alleged the petition was in the nature of a contract between the three communities and that "the town of Oakland be made an integral part of the sanitary district and subject to direction and control of the district, and that it was not at liberty to withdraw from the district and was not privileged to delay, harass efforts of the complainant in attempting to provide an interceptor system and sewage treatment facility".

Schools Granted Additional Funds

State school superintendent James A. Sensenbaugh announced increases totaling $218,960 to 22 Maryland counties for school programs in low income neighborhoods. The funds are for use during the balance of the school year and for summer programs.

Derived from the unused Federal funds that had been allocated to Somerset County under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, the reallocated money is being distributed first to counties with state-approved Title I school projects for which full funding has not been available. Remaining funds are divided equally among the counties.

Dr. Sensenbaugh said the funds will be used in most school systems for summer programs because the money comes so late in the school year. He added that summer school projects under the Federal school program for disadvantaged children may be paid for out of fiscal 1968 funds under a ruling released by the U. S. Office of Education last month.

Total Maryland allocation this year under Title I is $14.2 million.

Under the program Garrett county will receive $25,631, which will be added to a previous allocation of $195,369.08, to make the new total $221,000.08.

Interviewed About Work in Jamaica

An interview with David W. Gonder, 25, who is teaching in the schools of Jamaica under the PAVLA program (Papal Volunteers for Latin America), appeared in the May 5 issue of The Catholic Review.

The interview was done in Kingston, Jamaica by a fellow volunteer, James Campion, of Madison, Wisc. David is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard I. Gonder, Sr., of Oakland.

Mr. Gonder teaches Religion, English and algebra at a Jesuit secondary school, St. George's college which follows the British system of education with five years of schooling roughly equivalent to the U. S. high school.

He felt its one drawback was that it stifled experimentation. Gonder, an Eagle Scout, has revived a boy scout troop at the college. He also accompanies students on various trips, and is on a planning committee for religious training courses.

He said the PAVLA program cooperated with other lay volunteer groups and felt the situation in Jamaica was showing improvement. What he likes most about his work is the contact it brings with the children of the community and communicating with them, and perhaps leaving something with them that they will value for the rest of their lives.

comprehensive, improperly designed, and that the costs were incorrectly stated.

It declares in the answer that the town desires an aerated pond type sewage treatment developed by Lewellyn Griffith of Alexandria, Va., similar to the type installed by the Sterling Processing company. It pointed out that the Processing company had built its own plant for $80,000, what the other engineering firm had asked Sterling to pay to the district $194,000, to dispose of the same sewage.

The town also pointed out that it had prevented any increase in the amount of raw sewage discharged into the Little Youghiogheny since October 17, 1963, by ensuring that the total number of users of the Oakland sewer system remained constant.

The town indicated it desired a type of facility that would take care of 11,000 persons for the three communities, Oakland, Mt. Lake Park, and Loch Lynn Heights, with the estimated cost being $506,000. With 75% federal-state participation, this would reduce the estimated annual cost per user at $17.23 for 1300 users, it stated.

The reply concludes with the respondent praying that the court refuse the complainant prayer for an injunction concerning the operation of the Oakland sewer system by the respondent; that the court prohibit and enjoin the complainant from attempting to coerce the respondent into building a specific type of sewage disposal facility, that the complainant render the necessary financial and technical assistance to install such method of sewage disposal as the respondent may desire, providing it meets the water quality standard required by the Federal Water Pollution Control act.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our father, Dewey Paugh, who passed away May 19, 1965.
Two years have passed dear dad
Since you went away
You thought you were all alone
When Mom left you on another fatal day.
We couldn't take the place
Of one you loved so dear
But when you left us daddy
We were so lonely down here.
Though we know you had a reason
It is so hard to understand
But we hope some day to see you
In a fair and brighter land.
Sadly missed by the Children.

There's a great lesson in blowing bubbles. We're so sure we can blow the biggest bubble ever blown. And, for a second, we're sure we have.

Then the bubble is gone . . . with it our unreasoning self-confidence. So we content ourselves with blowing smaller bubbles — the biggest smaller bubbles we can . . . the kind of bubbles that last awhile!

The best time for your child to begin religious training is before he becomes conscious of his limitations. When he starts gradually to recognize the boundaries of his ability, he'll need real guidance and encouragement in devoting himself to goals which last awhile.

The rich, full, happy, useful life is not wasted on shallow dreams that are but for the moment. It is dedicated to doing one's best.

And, for centuries, it has been our Faith, taught and nurtured in our churches, which has inspired in men their best.

WE ALL HAVE OUR LIMITATIONS

Final Exam

Lesson for May 21, 1967

Background Scripture: Acts 6:1 through 8:1.
Devotional Reading: Matthew 10:24-33.

"The hardest thing of all," writes Dag Hammarskjold, " — to die rightly. — An exam nobody is spared — and how many pass it?" (Markings: Alfred A. Knopf).

Rev. Althouse

Jesus has passed the exam with flying colors and set the example for all who would follow. Yet that's the problem, isn't it? "Jesus was the Son of God," we protest. "He wasn't on our level of humanity."

We can deny this, of course, and affirm that Jesus shared our human nature, but for many this will not suffice. They will still continue to wonder if it is really possible for any man to follow him and pass the exam of death as he did.

Victory For All

This is why the story of Stephen is so important to us. No one can question his humanity. He was not even one of the twelve apostles; in fact, his job in the early church was waiting upon tables at their common meals. Yet this man demonstrated so dramatically that men like us, human as we are, can also pass the exam of death with flying colors. Christ's victory over death was intended to be a victory available to all of us.

The death of Stephen reminds us of the death of Christ. There is in both of them the spirit of victory over death. We remember Christ's final cry recorded in Luke 23:46, "Father, into thy hands I commit my spirit!" We find it echoed even as Stephen is stoned: "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit." (Acts 7:59 RSV)

Both men knew that they were firmly in the hands of God and therefore did not fear death. Was it because they assumed that God would rescue them from their peril? Were they confident that he would keep them from all pain and suffering? No, they had no such assurance. They knew they would suffer; almost as certain was death itself. They were free from fear of death because they knew that, though their enemies might take their lives, they could not destroy their souls.

Death's Deadly Weapon

It was this same assurance that inspired Martin Luther to write:

Let goods and kindred go,
This mortal life also;
The body they may kill.
God's truth abideth still;
His kingdom is forever.

Jesus had not prayed for God to vanquish his enemies. Peter and John had requested no special protection when they were threatened by the Council. Nor did Stephen ask to escape or call down the wrath of God on his persecutors. Thus, the power of death was broken because Stephen was not afraid to die. Fear is death's most deadly weapon. Take it away and death is swiftly disarmed.

Count Moltke was one of a number of Germans arrested by the Gestapo following the abortive attempt on Hitler's life. Subjected to cruel torture and tried in a ludicrous courtrtrail, Moltke's spirit remained unbroken. In his last few weeks he felt "overwhelmed by . . . the presence of God" and the knowledge that God had been with him throughout his whole life. "Now nothing further can happen," he wrote to his wife just before he was executed. (Roger Manvell and Heinrich Fraenkel, The July Plot, Pan Books.) There was no bitterness. He shared Christ's victory over death.

More Than Courage

"Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do," Jesus cried on Calvary. "Lord, do not hold this sin against them," echoed Stephen. (Acts 7:60 RSV) There was more than courageous faith as he conquered death, there was also Christlike love and mercy. Countless men, many of them not Christians, have died bravely, but it is love added to courageous faith that helps us pass the final exam of death as victors with Christ.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

About Our College

To the Editor:

During the past several months we have seen much in The Republican in behalf of the proposed Garrett County Community College. I would like to point out a few things that are not new to you, but only reminders.

As we recall, at the time the two new high schools were built that there was much controversy over them. At that time our county tax rate was around two dollars. We were promised if and when the two high schools were built that this would be all of the building that would be needed for years, and that our children by having new buildings and modern facilities when they would graduate, they would have the equivalent of two years of college.

I am asking, do you truly think that our children are coming out of school any better educated than they did, or have they made the school a place to play? And was this not just the start of the building program? Every year since it has been cafeterias, gymnasiums, Hawkins Memorial Library and so on.

We were first informed Garrett County could receive a grant from the state of some $912,000 or more, only later to learn that we were only entitled and could receive $600,000. Could we at this point be sure that we as taxpayers will not have to bear the larger proportion of first construction cost and most all of the operating cost after it is once here or will it be like the Garrett County Knitting Mill and the County Airport?

We have been told that education would or could cut the heavy welfare burden in our county. I am asking you if our welfare expenses are getting more or less, with all of the billions of dollars that have been spent for higher education since welfare started?

Our tax rate now is $2.85 and they are constantly raising all of our assessments.

I feel that the present $1,200,000 that we have been told will be the cost of the college will only be the beginning of the cost to build and maintain a college in our county.

Do you truly feel that we can stand any more increase in our tax rate or an additional increase to each of our assessments? This is one time we will all have an opportunity to go the polls and vote for or against what may cost us hundreds of dollars on your taxes the rest of our lives.

Mary Crowe

Editor's Note: There was never any statement made at the time the new high schools were built that graduates would have the equivalent of two years of college. It was indicated that high school graduates would be better prepared for the future. And this certainly has been the case.

The call now is to give students who complete high school to have an opportunity to get two more years of knowledge at a very moderate cost. Cost of higher education in schools away from this area would be much greater than if that education could be provided here at home, and there is no doubt that higher education has become a necessity.

The Crowes have spoken and we call attention to the letter to the Editor last week of Ross Crowe, whose attitude is entirely different from the one in today's issue.

NEW Southern States Feed Enables Beef Producers to Control Breeding

• Now cow-and-calf men can end irregular breeding schedules, 40 to 45 day heat detection periods and scattered calf crops. A new Southern States Feed—Cattle Synchro Mix Medicated — lets you control and synchronize the heat periods of your heifers. Cattle Synchro Mix is a complete pelleted 14%-protein concentrate feed which contains the synthetic hormone Repromix. Feed two pounds daily per head for 18 days (cost, about $4.00 extra). Then withdraw. From 1½ to 4 days later, heifers come into heat and can be bred or inseminated. Result, big advantages over hit-or-miss natural breeding: Greatly shortened heat detection period . . . more uniform calf crop . . . better labor use . . . more efficient scheduling of insemination. See what Southern States Cattle Synchro Mix Medicated can do for your beef operation.

Greetings From Dept. Adjutant

An article in the American Legion magazine of April this year, carried the mention of Danny Nicklow, 20, of Friendsville, who died while fighting in Vietnam.

It was turned over to The Republican, in hope the story might be used. It presents an excellent picture of what is happening today.

American Legion Magazine

There's an old story we read in the Rocky Mountain Herald concerning how to kill a frog. If you drop him in boiling water he reacts so quickly that he jumps out before he is hurt. But if you put him in cold water, then gradually warm it up, he won't decide to jump until it's too late and he's cooked.

It seems to us that we have a lot of people around who are not any smarter than the frog. If you jumped right in and took away a whole package of their liberties, confiscated their earnings, allowed government officials to enter their homes without a warrant, permitted a foreign power to establish a huge military and naval base only 90 miles away, establish multiple spy centers inside the U.S.A. with full immunity from prosecution if a foreign espionage agent is caught rehanded, eliminated our Merchant Fleet, told farmers what they can and can't grow, placed the welfare of criminals above that of the law abiding populace, and did a host of other things, you'd have an immediate fight on your hands.

All of this has been done to us but in such gradual stages and with so much subtle brainwashing that not much hue or cry has been raised. Perhaps it is already too late. Perhaps we have done nothing for so long that the damage is irreparable. Perhaps we have broken the faith with young men like former Maryland Boy Stater Danny Nicklow, the 20 year old Marine from Friendsville, Md., who gave his life fighting the communist aggressor in Vietnam. Perhaps we as a Nation no longer deserve the rights given us by God, whom we have spurned.

From the time George Washington knelt to pray in the snow at Valley Forge to this day when God has been driven from our schools and councils is but a split second in history. From the time when the American Flag was proudly unfurled to the breeze before an astonished world to this day when it is publicly defiled in the greatest city our our nation, with the perpetrator protected by so-called civil liberarians, is less than two centuries. From the time when a girl blushed if a gentlemen failed to remove his hat in her presence, to right now when a woman is afraid to walk alone on the sidewalk and a public school teacher recites obscene poetry to juvenile students, is evidently not long enough to bring parents and authorities to a boil.

There is steam coming out of my ears, how's the water where you are

Sermonette By Area Ministers

C. P. Anderson, Pastor
Deep Creek Baptist Church

UNASHAMED

Romans 1:16 "I am not ashamed of the gospel: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek".

The aposle Paul was ashamed of some things. He was ashamed of the way that he had consented unto the death of Stephen and he was ashamed of the fact that he had persecuted the Christians. When he looked back on his old life he considered himself the chief of sinners.

Paul had experienced the transforming power of the gospel and had witnessed what it had done for others. He was not ashamed of the gospel, but was proud of it and was ready to preach it at Rome, the capital city of the empire.

In saying he was "not ashamed", Paul may have had in his mind our Lord's own words, "Whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his own glory, and in his Father's, and of the holy angels".

Sometimes a person thinks he has been saved and boasts about the fact that no one has found out about it. If he is ashamed of Christ he is no Christian.

The gospel was for Paul, and it must be for us, God's free gift of salvation. In this sense it was—it was news and good news. The gospel is still essentially new in its proclamation of salvation by grace. All other messages had said, "Do this and live". "Perform some ritual, make a pilgrimage, torture yourself, pay something, so shall you be saved". Unfortunately some still seek salvation by such means.

Why was Paul not ashamed of the gospel? He was not ashamed of it, because, with all its seeming weakness, the gospel is power.

Christianity is the religion of power. The message of the gospel is a message of power, the gift it offers is a gift of power, the men it produces are men of power.

The gospel is the power of God. It is the power of God unto salvation. It is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth.

The power which resides in the gospel, or which operates through the gospel, requires one, and no more than one, condition for its operation—it must be believed.

The purpose of the gospel is to save a man from sin. It is to save the entire man, mind, body, and soul. The purpose of the gospel is universal in its concern for all men. The gospel invitation is to all the people of all the world.

Art Exhibit To Be Seen In Oakland

Oakland is one of nine communities in Maryland that will see an exhibit entitled "Still Life and Flowers", being shown this spring and summer throughout the area.

It is sponsored by the "Governor's Council on the Arts in Maryland", and was shown May 11 at the Art gallery of Western Maryland college in Westminster. All exhibitions are free and open to the public. The first one will remain on view through May 28.

This project is part of the state council's program to make fine works of art available to various communities.

More than thirty works are selected from permanent collections of the Baltimore Museum of Art and from the George A. Lucas collection. The exhibition concentrates primarily on 19th and 20th century French and American painting.

The exhibition will be in Oakland in August. Other places include Cumberland, Salisbury and Ocean City.

To Present Folk Mass Sunday In Saint Matthew's

The American Folk Mass, written and composed by the Rev. Ian Mitchell, a priest in the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago, will be presented this Sunday in St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Oakland at 8 p. m. The service is under the sponsorship of the Young People's Fellowship. The Rev. Forrest Farris, Assistant Rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Cumberland, will sing the Mass and will celebrate the Eucharist. Fr. Farris has presented this on two occasions in his own parish. Assisting the celebrant will be the Rev. Thomas P. Staup, Vicar of St. John's Church, Deer Park, who will read the Epistle for Trinity Sunday. The Rev. William McGrew, Rector of St. George's Church, Mt. Savage, will read the Gospel for the day. The Rev. W. Shelby Walthall, Rector of St. Matthew's Church, will serve at the altar. The choir will be composed of the young people of the parish and visiting clergy.

Invitations have been extended to all local churches as well as to the Episcopal Churches in Garrett and Allegany counties. The service is open to the public.

Miss Kathy Gonder, a recent graduate of West Virginia University, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard I. Gonder, Sr., will furnish the only instrumental music, the guitar. She has played for similar Folk Masses at St. Peter's Church, Oakland, and the Roman Catholic Chapel at West Virginia University.

Because of the nature of the musical setting it is essential that a brief rehearsal with the congregaion be held. Persons planning to attend the service are asked to be present at 7 p. m. for the rehearsal. The Folk Mass, now well received by Episcopal Churches in many areas, is an attempt to show the relevance of the central act of worship, the Holy Communion, to the Twentieth Century. It is the Eucharist in the vernacular.

Light refreshments will be served following the service in the community room at the First National Bank. Mrs. Clinton Englander is in charge of arrangements.

Dangerous Trustys Out at Hopemont In Future Years

Prisoners convicted of sex offenses or crimes involving the use of force or whose records indicate that they may be a threat to the community will no longer be used as trustys at Hopemont State hospital according to Chauncey H. Browning, Jr., state commissioner of public institutions.

The decision to discontinue the use of such prisoners as trustys was made after an investigation was conducted as a result of the escape of four inmate employes from the security building at Hopemont on March 31. The four escaped after knocking a guard unconscious, stealing three pistols and the guard's car and driving to the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis, Cranesville where they held 15 persons captive for some 12 hours before kidnapping Charles Wilson and stealing his car.

Three were recaptured and one turned himself in to police.

New Governor Plan Sought for Charter

A complete reorganization of state courts, a stronger governor and more authority at the county goverment level are key features of a constitution which will be proposed to the Maryland Constitutional convention.

The document which will be presented to the convention when it convenes September 12, was prepared by a Constitutional Convention Commission appointed by former Gov. J. Millard Tawes.

The preliminary draft, which will remain unchanged except for language and technical details, would restructure the state court system with a Supreme court at the top replacing the current Court of Appeals.

Below this would be an appellate court. The constitution says that each court would have such jurisdiction as prescribed by the General Assembly.

The next level would be superior courts, with district courts at the bottom of the judicial system.

The suggested constitution makes no provision for justices of the peace, but does permit appointment of commissioners for the district courts to deal with problems of arrest and bail.

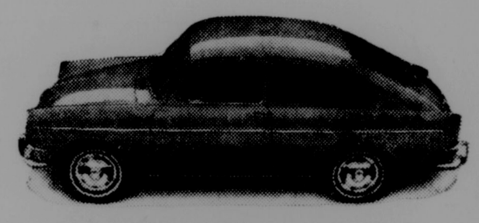
The commission proposal would strengthen the hand of the governor in several ways. It would create the new elective position of lieutenant governor but would do away with an elected attorney general and comptroller. The document would also provide for the governor to appoint at least one-half the members of all important boards and commissions as soon as he took office.

The chief effect on the legislature would be to take away from it the power to enact local laws for the counties. The current practice of exempting counties from general laws also would be prohibited.

The draft contains a provision which would insure reapportionment of both the House and Senate after each census. It would require the governor to prepare a reapportionment plan and present it to the legislature. If the General Assembly failed to act, the governor's plan would go into effect. The proposed constitution would set up home rule for all counties and would give each broad powers, including any non-judicial function "not denied to it by this constitution, by its charter or by a public general law".

VOLKSWAGEN OF AMERICA, INC.

Our beauty.



Will it spoil the Volkswagen image?

We never thought it would come to this.
A beautiful Volkswagen.
All these years we've been telling you about the ugly bug.
And now, the snazzy Fastback sedan.
But don't let its good looks fool you. When you really come down to it, it's still a Volkswagen.
The engine is still in the rear and it's still air-cooled.
It's just as easy to replace parts.
And it's just as easy on gas as any other Volkswagen. (The Fastback averages 27 miles on a gallon of gas. Which is pretty good for a car that cruises over 80 miles per hour.)
While we were making this beauty beautiful, we were also making it bigger. It's got a trunk in the front where most cars have their motors. And a trunk in the back where most Volkswagens have their motors. (In case you're wondering where we put the motor, well, it's neatly tucked underneath the rear of the car.)
The Fastback's also got a little more room for passengers than the beetle.
You pay a little more for it, too. $XXXX.*
Will a Volkswagen like this change our ugly image?
We doubt it.
After all, it's only the world's most beautiful Volkswagen.
Not the world's most beautiful car.

Economic History . . .

In digging through some 2,055 pages of statements, analyses, charts, graphs and tables with which President Johnson seeks to explain to Congress his justification for spending $170 billion of taxpayers' money in the next fiscal year, Dr. George S. Benson, president, National Education program, and writer of "Listen Americans", has found some economic history with which the average citizen has had no opportunity to become informed.

And with a little additional research he developed a table that should give family bread-winners a more meaningful understanding of The Budget than they otherwise would get.

He pointed out since President Johnson seized upon his Budget presentation this year to evangelize upon "the new federalism", enlarging still further the Federal government's "responsibility" (and power) in nearly every activity of our daily lives, the statistics in the table begin the year President Roosevelt was elected—1932. For the first time in history, historians agree, the Federal government under FDR, became a paternalistic form of "federalism".

In 1932 John Doe citizen, age 21 and newly married, cast his first vote—he voted for Franklin Roosevelt. The federal government that year had a budget of $4.6 billion. There were 30 million families in America. So federal government spending in 1932 cost the

Oakland Youth Nominated For Silver Star

Saves Armored Carrier In Cong Ambush In South Vietnam

A red-haired 20-year-old Oakland soldier has been nominated for the Silver Star after he killed a Viet Cong with a knife used to skin rabbits when he was at home and saved a 13-ton armored carrier which he and others used to escape from a devastating ambush Monday east of Saigon.

He is Spec. 5 Richard Friend who was in an eight-vehicle convoy from the U. S. 11th Armored Regiment Monday morning. The Viet Cong caught and destroyed it in 15 minutes. Of the 48 Americans, 16 were killed, 29 wounded and four of the vehicles smashed. Twenty-one Viet Cong bodies were found.

Friend's exploits were told in an Associated Press story by Peter Arnett.

Mrs. Alta Genevieve (Reckart) Friend, mother of the young GI, said her son arrived in Saigon on March 26 this year.

Mrs. Friend said her son was an avid rabbit hunter and often

Judge Sustains Town's Demurrer

Judge Stuart F. Hamill this week sustained the demurrer of the city of Oakland to the complaint which the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc., had filed against it early in April.

Judge Hamill said the demurrer was granted due to the absence of any specific legal grounds for the complaint, and that pending any such legal authority that the town was free to operate its sewer system as it pleased and that the town was free to continue in its present policy, and that the Sanitary commission had no legal right to interfere.

The sanitary commission had complained that the town of Oakland was delaying and contradicting plans of the sanitary commission to provide a sewage disposal system for the three municipalities of Oakland, Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn Heights.

The suit had been filed to determine whether or not the Oakland municipality was an integral part of the sanitary district and subject to direction and recommendations of that body.

The request for demurrer declared that ownership and authority to operate the Oakland sewer system was vested in the mayor and town council by statute and specifically denied to the complainant by statute what it was demanding.

County Letters, Advertising, One Day Earlier

Because of difficulties resulting from a day's closing of all mail deliveries at the local post office, The Republican must ask all its correspondents and advertisers get their copy to the office one day early.

The Oakland post office and other post offices in the county will be closed on Tuesday, May 3, in observance of Memorial day. The lobby will be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m., and specials will be delivered. But Guy William Hinebaugh, postmaster, said no mail would be delivered by city, rural or star route carriers.

This means that material, ordinarily received on Tuesday afternoon would not be received before Wednesday afternoon, which would cause unsurmountable difficulties in getting out the newspaper at the usuaul time.

Therefore it is necessary that county letters and all advertising material be sent in one day earlier than normal.

Tornado Kills Deer Park Man; Destroys Home

Lewis D. White, 45, Is Victim; Brother Escapes

Lewis Dale White, 45, route 1, Deer Park, was killed last Friday evening when his home was picked up by a tornado, hurled into the air and splintered when it hit a barn some 200 yards away.

Mr. White was alone in his house at the time the tornado hit at 8:15 o'clock. A brother, Harry White, was working on a truck in the barn when he heard the high wind approaching and went to close the door. When he saw the funnel cloud coming in his direction he dived between the barn and an embankment.

The tornado passed over in a matter of seconds. Mr. White saw that the house had been picked up and hurled into and through the barn. The dwelling was reduced to kindling and spread over a wide area. Lewis White's body was found at the base of a tree.

The tornado had touched on the Loch Lynn-Gorman road, at the bend in the road near the Lenwood Bittinger farm where it picked up some debris, and then disappeared over the hill toward the White farm.

The scene of death and destruction was about three miles southeast of Mt. Lake Park, just off the Bethlehem road. The tornado alert was in effect in the county from noon Friday and was to have terminated about 7.

A severe thunderstorm accompanied by hail hit the Oakland area prior to the tornado, and in the Deer Park area following the big wind. The tornado apparently lit again in the county near Shallmar where it tore up a few trees but caused no damage to homes or barns.

Was Recuperating

The victim of the tornado had been injured Wednesday in an automobile accident at the Browning intersection, east of Oakland, had been hospitalized and had gone home to recuperate. He had been working but complained of his back hurting and had gone into the house to lie down for a rest. Apparently he had gone to bed.

The tornado struck not very far from where a similar storm hit in 1944 when three persons perished and a number of

Planetarium To Be Constructed For School Use

Will Be Located On Green Street In Old High School Gym

The construction of a planetarium, to be used in relation to the existing science curriculum in this county, is now underway in Oakland and board of education officials hope to have it in operation by September.

The location is the former gymnasium area in the old Oakland High school building on Green street, in rear of the present Board of Education offices, and over the Green Street school for special students.

Funds for the construction and equipping are being furnished by federal, state and local agencies, with federal participation being under title III of the National Defense Education Act and the Elementary Secondary education act.

It was explained that space science was becoming increasingly more important and this planetarium would help in keeping abreast. There will be the actual planetarium itself, a classroom and an exhibition hall included. It will be necessary to raise the roof of the present structure.

Purpose is to develop a science instruction center in conjunction with the present science curriculum in the county with emphasis on space science and related disciplines; to provide in-service training for teachers; to upgrade and improve the curricular offerings in science and related disciplines, and to promote greater interest in science and its role in modern society.

A director is to be employed to operate the facility and provide leadership in planning for its use.

An in-service training program for teachers in the elementary, junior and senior high schools also will be conducted by the director. He also will provide study outlines to teachers

Tornado Sidelights

There are always interesting sidelights to unusual events. The tornado last Friday evening was no exception.

Harry White, brother of the storm victim, observed the funnel and compared it with "dust devil". He was standing in the doorway to the barn, repairing a truck. Hearing the approaching wind he closed one door of the barn and turned to close the other when he saw debris coming toward him. He leaped between the bank and barn wall and heard the house hit the barn. The entire incident took no more than 5 seconds.

His stepson, Douglas, who was in Harry's house, saw Dale White's house in the air and upside down. The house was 26 by 38 feet. The house did a complete 180-degree turn before hitting the ground. The house and contents were smashed to small bits. The bathtub was in several pieces, the refrigerator looked like it had been run over by a train. The door was missing. There was a piece of the radio in the refrigerator. The soil stack of the toilet was imbedded in the dirt. The magnet inside the telephone works was all that was found of it.

The concrete front steps of the house went along with the house. A door was impaled on a tree limb, some 15 feet in the air. The fuse box door was buried three inches in an oak tree.

Dale's body was found at the base of a tree. He had been helping to put in fence posts with the White boys and complained of back pain and went into the house to lie down, about five minutes before the storm. He was dead when found by his brother.

Several persons saw the funnel. Southern High school principal, Robert Rodeheaver, his son Randy, and Don Sincell observed the formation of the tornado and saw the funnel dip over the hillside. They were unaware until the next morning that any damage had occurred.

The storm path was erratic. It turned left, down the valley after hitting White's house, then turned right and crossed Bethlehem road atop Backbone mountain, about 600 yards from the path of the 1944 tornado which killed 3 persons, Mr. and Mrs. James Sebold and Robert Tilton Paugh, 5, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paugh.

Severe weather warnings had been issued throughout Friday and the all-clear was given at about 11 p. m.

Total U. S. war dead in Vietnam exceeds 10,000 as of May 20.

Herbert Cale Leighton, 68, of 317 East Oak street, Oakland, died Friday morning, May 19, at Garrett County Memorial hospital where he had been a patient two days.

Mr. Leighton started the first Leighton Funeral home in Mt. Lake Park in 1934, and in December, 1935, opened a new funeral home in Oakland. John O. Durst, Cumberland, became associated with him in 1962 and the business had been known as the Leighton-Durst Funeral home since that time.

A member of the Tri-State, Maryland and National Funeral Director associations, he also was a member and past master of Oakland Lodge 192, A., F. and A. Masons, a member of St. Paul's Methodist church, and a director of the Garrett National Bank in Oakland.

Lake Park Lions club, Knights of Pythias No. 113, Woodmen of the World, camp 11; and the SPEBSQSA, the society for the preservation of barber shop quartet singing in America.

Born in this county he was a son of Mrs. Mary Maude Cale Leighton and the late Herbert V. Leighton.

Lake Park; Mrs. W. Day Mullinix, Kensington; and Mrs. H. Nelson Carmichael, Nashville, Tenn.; and seven grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Leighton-Durst Funeral home. Funeral services were conducted from the funeral home Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Rev. Lawrence Sherwood, D.D., officiating. Interment was in Oakland cemetery.

Disturbing Peace Prominent Among Love Family

There was a good bit of "disturbing the peace" among the Love family during the past week.

Helen Love, wife of Calvin Love, was charged with disturbing the peace on May 20, near Deer Park. At a hearing May 22 she entered a plea of guilty, was sentenced to 30 days in jail but was suspended upon condition she remain away from the home of Ward Smith.

Calvin Love was charged by Helen Love, with non-support of her minor child but the case was dismissed.

John Nogal was charged by Virginia Love, Calvin Love's mother, with disturbing the peace on the same day. When given a hearing on May 22 he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 20 days in jail. The sentence was suspended upon condition he remain away from the home of Ward Smith.

There were two other cases on the magistrate's docket. O. L. Simonds, was charged with being drunk and disorderly at the White farm where the tornado occurred. At a hearing on May 23 he pleaded guilty, was sentenced to serve 10 days in the county jail but sentence was suspended upon promise to remain of good behavior. William Madigan, was charged with being drunk and disorderly at Deer Park. At a hearing before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney he pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs.

Teacher Raise Again Denied

Another Meeting Called Friday For Final Action

A motion to grant a $400 raise to school teachers of the county by Allen S. Paugh, president of the County Commissioners, failed for want of a second last night as school representatives of the Garrett County Teachers association met with the County Commissioners in the court house at a special meeting.

Purpose of the meeting had been to seek reconsideration for the teacher salary increase, which had been denied them at a previous session. Hubert Friend and John Ross Sines, other two commissioners, also attended.

In view of the outcome of the meeting, another general meeting of all county teachers has been set for Friday evening, May 26, at 8 o'clock at Northern High school, according to Foster Riggs, Mt. Lake Park, who served as spokesman for the association.

Robert Haugen, field representative of the Maryland State Teachers association, and Robert Dexter, director of public relations of the association represented the MSTA and the 200 MSTA members in this county.

Mr. Riggs thanked the commissioners for granting the meeting and emphasized the necessity for the $400 raise. He also stated he hoped the commissioners would reconsider their refusal.

Mr. Riggs said Mr. Paugh continued to support the teachers of the county by making the following statement: "Our children are our finest asset. I think we can make the $400 raise this year. We owe it to

Road Plans Aired At Tues. Meeting

Some 150 or more persons attended a public meeting Tuesday evening at the Accident elementary school in connection with the proposed relocation of over three miles of U. S. route 219, from just north of McHenry to Deep Creek bridge.

At a meeting on May 5 of state roads and county officials, it was decided to at least delay the project and to improve the present roadway, but since that time numerous telephone calls were received by county representatives from people who were in favor of the new location which had already been surveyed by the State Roads commission, preparatory to receiving bids.

At Tuesday night's meeting it was stated that the roads commission was considering a relocation of the highway but that until something definite was decided the present 219 would be improved, widened and some of the curves eliminated. There was discussion Tuesday about possible relocations both to the east and west of the present site. State Senator George R. Hughes indicated another survey might be undertaken. Many of the people pres-

Another Thousand For Historical Museum Given

A check for $1,000, the second and final payment of a $2,000 amount promised by the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club towards the drive for funds by the Garrett County Historical society to pay for its museum and contents, was presented to Richard L. Davis following the regular meeting of the club on Monday evening.

The first check of $1,000 was given about a year ago. The Lions club members had committed the group to raising 10% of the total amount of $20,000 sought. The drive started August 9, 1965 when letters were sent to civic, fraternal and service clubs of the county as well as individuals asking for contributions.

Mr. Davis, treasurer for the historical society fund, said most of the clubs in the area had donated funds and 115 individual contributions had been received, one coming from England and sent by J. Paul Getty.

A number of contributions were made in memory of a departed loved one. The names of contributors are recorded in a ledger kept by Mr. Davis, clerk of the Circuit court, and incoming president of the Lions club.

Contributions to date total $7,152.71, it was stated. Mr. Davis said contributions still are being received and any person wishing to make a donation may make their checks out to Mr. Davis as treasurer.

The Lions club meeting on Monday had a program relating to history. Dr. Lawrence Sherwood, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church, Oakland, showed artifacts of ancient lamps and other items used from 2,000 to 5,000 years ago which were handled and inspected after the meeting. Some sixty club members and guests were present.

An Arizona mother of nine was named 1967 Mother of the Year.

Officially Back College Program

The Board of Directors of the Garrett County Farm bureau took an official stand for the organization by passing a resolution in favor of the community college issue at its regular monthly meeting last Wednesday, May 17.

G. Emerson Bishoff, director of public relations, said the action was taken by unanimous vote after months of deliberation on the subject, and the sending of a committee into counties where similar colleges have been established, to study factors which would help in determining the advisability of establishing a college in this county.

An opinion poll, mailed to each of the 225 member-families several weeks ago, also revealed a strong majority in favor of the community college, Mr. Bishoff said.

LAST HALF OF THE PLEDGE—So could have said Earl Clark, secretary of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club when he handed Richard L. Davis, right, treasurer of the Historical museum campaign fund, a check for $1,000 on Monday evening. The club had pledged $2,000 to the historical society museum fund, in addition to agreeing to head the drive to raise $20,000 to pay for the building and equipment. To date, $7,152.71 has been contributed.

FROM THE FOUNDATION—From the foundation of the White home, this view shows looking toward the barn where the home cut a fairly neat path through the center of the structure.

Is Your Name SPENCER?

Do You Know That:

Spencer, an old and honored surname, is principally of English usage. It is of occupational meaning and is obtained from the French "le dispenser" which signifies "steward". According to some authorities, the ancestry of the Spencer family may be traced back to Robertus Dispensator who lived during the 11th century, was steward to William the Conqueror, and was quite generally known in England as Robert Spencer.

Among the high ranking officers who served in the Continental Army during the Revolutionary War was Major General Joseph Spencer (1714-1789) He took part in the battle of Lexington.

The first census of the United States, taken in 1790, has fifteen listings of persons by the name of Spencer who were residents of Maryland and heads of families at that time.

Spencer County, Kentucky was named for Captain Spier Spencer who was killed at the battle of Tippecanoe, Indiana in 1811 during the war with the Indians under Tecumseh.

Numerous genealogies of the Spencer family have been published. One is entitled "The Spencer Family History and Genealogy" and was published in 1889. Another, which was published in 1907, deals with the descendants of Garrard Spencer of Haddam, Connecticut who emigrated from England in 1630.

Herbert Spencer (1820-1903) was a noted English philosopher and exponent of the theory of evolution.

Robert Lyle Spencer (1887-1945), an educator of note, was dean of engineering, University of Delaware.

Hazelton Spencer (1893-1944) was professor of English at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

William Ira Spencer, an attorney of note, practices his profession in Washington, D. C., where he serves also as a member of the board of directors of numerous substantial corporations including The Riggs National Bank and The Security Storage Company.

Harry Arthur Spencer is justice, Supreme Court of Nebraska.

Company Initiates Rapid Electronic Sheeting Unit

The first major breakthrough in more than a half century in the finishing of paper in large-size sheets for the multi-million dollar commercial printing market has been announced by West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, at its Luke plant.

John A. Luke, vice president and manager of the company's Fine Papers Division, reported that Westvaco research had perfected a machine with an electronic "brain" that automatically finishes skids of sheet paper from single rolls with greater precision and at faster speeds than conventional multi-roll sheeting and trimming operations almost universally employed in the paper industry.

Nine years of research and developmental work costing more than $3 million were required before the invention became a commercial reality, Mr. Luke said.

Westvaco is presently employing a battery of the new machines at its Luke, Maryland mill, one of the world's largest fine paper operations, to process premium printing grades being marketed nationally as AccuTrim sheeted papers.

Good Literature Committee Meets

A meeting of the Good Literature Committee, appointed by the Mt. Top Ministerial association, to formulate plans against the sale of obscene and pornographic literature. Following are some of the facts gathered by this committee, as released by Rev. Charles E. Teets. The most basic is, perhaps the most appalling. A Senate subcommittee investigating the relationship between obscene literature and juvenile delinquency, reported in 1965 that raw pornography is a 500-million-dollar a year racket. A Congressional Committee in September, 1959, reported on "Obscene Matter Sent Through the Mail", stating that the volume of obscenity in the mails was also approximately 500 million dollars a year. We believe there is an additional one billion-dollar a year business in obscenity and pornography on the newsstand in every nook and cranny of America.

This is not material which is questionable because of its poor taste. The Senate committee figure referred to material which they said "beggars description, is wanton, depraved, nauseating, despicable, demoralizing, destructive and capable of poisoning the mind at any age". Seventy five per cent of the dollar volume is sold directly to juveniles, about 70 million copies of publication every month. Large quantities are bought by those in the 12-18 age bracket, and even larger quantities are sold to those 18-21. More frightening is the fact that this material is bought by some seven and eight year olds. J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, says that "sexmad magazines are creating criminals faster than jails can be built".

Herbert W. Case, a former Detroit police inspector, said: "There has not been a sex murder in the history of our department in which the killer was not an avid reader of lewd magazines".

A recent Senate report warned that obscenity threatens to "pervert an entire generation".

In Burlington, N. J., nine minors committed illegal sexual acts after reading pornographic literature.

And in Philadelphia, Pa., it was learned that pornography stirred up teen-age boys who went out and committed "gang rape".

These magazines, whether you call them men's adventure, girlie, etc... they all have one thing in common—they glorify vice. They glorify prostitution, sadism, and perversion.

This Committee, composed of the Rev. James Costanzo, St. Paul's Lutheran, Aurora, W. Va.; Rev. Donald Matthews, Church of The Brethren, and Rev. Charles E. Teets, Evangelical United Brethren Church, called on business places Friday May 19.

The committee is seeking support of individuals and organizations that are interested in Good Literature.

July draft quota was 19,900, high for the year.

Question

Is there any truth in the talk I'm hearing about coffee drinking causing ulcers?

Answer

At a recent American Medical Association meeting one of the subjects discussed was the possible relation between heavy coffee drinking and peptic ulcers. While no definite evidence could be given that the drinking of coffee actually does cause ulcers, the mere fact that medical thought was given to it shows there can be reason for what now amounts to medical suspicion and concern. A specialist talking on this subject felt that drinking more than 10 cups of coffee a day could possibly be a contributing factor where peptic ulcers are concerned. So? A word to the wise?

Road Plans

ent favored the limited access road which had earlier been decided on by the SRC.

No figures were available as to the cost involved in regard to change in plans. At least five property owners had accepted the evaluation placed on their properties for rights of way by the SRC and had received payment for their property. They were Earl Savage, Iva Carr, Arthur Savage, Vesta Enlow and Charles Bowman. There was no statement on whether or not the money would have to be returned to the roads commission.

The SRC had made plans for a two-lane highway with future provisions for a four lane highway as specified by the federal government which would provide a portion of the construction funds. The project was to have been built at an approximate cost of $2 million.

Teacher Raise

our children. We have the best schools; buildings mean nothing without well-qualified teachers". He added further that he hoped the parents would appreciate his efforts in this direction. He then made the motion that the $400 raise be granted, but the motion failed for lack of a second.

The following statements were expressed by the MSTA representatives: "The education and welfare of the children of the county are the primary concern of the teachers in the county. The children are the ones who will suffer as a result of well qualified teachers being attracted by the higher salaries offered by other counties and states. The higher salary draws teachers for the following reasons: the high cost of living makes it impossible for teachers to maintain their professional status and image and to obtain required, advanced professional training with the current salary scale".

The representatives expressed the necessity that all interested persons indicate their support for the cause of education in the county.

The Garrett County Teachers association has set 6 p. m. Friday, May 26, as a deadline for a final reply from the commissioners.

Mr. Riggs pointed out that if the Commissioners' reply was deemed unsatisfactory by the association and the MSTA that further action would be discussed to achieve the desired salary proposal.

It was brought out that there are 239 teachers in the county and that the $400 increase would cost some $96,500, which school officials felt could be arranged without any increase in the tax rate, due to the increased assessable basis, and that such increase would not interfere with a projected decrease in this year's tax rate.

Willard Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, said state scale salaries for the 1967-68 term would range from $5,100 to $7,400 for teachers with bachelor degrees and $8,000 for "advanced" instructors or those with master degrees, including $400 recently allotted by the state.

Lawrence Myers, GCTA president, stated that "county teachers traditionally have been the lowest paid in Maryland and would remain so even if our proposal is adopted. Every other county has made massive improvements in salaries in order to attract and retain qualified teachers. All we are asking is a minimum increase that can be accomplished without raising taxes. This is a reasonable and responsible request in view of additional funds available to the commissioners this year".

Economic History . . .

John Doe family $150, if its income was average. Then began "the new Federalism".

In 1936 government spent $8.4 billion with family cost for 32 million at $262; In 1940 it was 9 billion, 34.9 million families, family cost $257. By 1956 cost was 72.5 billion, 48 million people with family cost at $1,510. By 1967 cost was $170 billion, and with 57 million families family cost was $2,980.

Benson points out that adding to the burden upon every taxpaying family which such massive Federal spending imposes is the very real "thief" of dollar inflation—brought on largely by government deficit spending and other government actions. In the 35 years since 1932, when the John Doe citizen went to work to support his new family the dollars he earns have lost about 60 cents of their purchasing power. So real family income, based on 1932 dollars, hasn't increased from $2,500 to $7,000 as most tables show, but from $2,500 to about $2,800. An Associated Press dispatch of February, 1967, gives the real message: "Personal income made its biggest rise in fifteen years during 1966 but inflation ate away a good part of the gain".

And government continues to spend more than it takes in, national debt get bigger, inflation continues, and the "Great Society" is coddled.

The Mob Spirit

The worsening of the climate of violence, anarchy and civil disobedience was grimly apparent in recent days in several sections of the country. The rapid breakdown of law and order and of public safety and private decency could well become a prime issue in the next presidential campaign.

In California, a band of ruffians who call themselves Black Panthers knocked over sergeants at arms and invaded the California legislature while it was in session. The invaders carried with them a variety of loaded weapons, including sawed-off-shotguns. The leaders of the group broke into the proceedings of the legislature and shouted insults.

In New Hampshire, former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama, who had been invited to speak at Dartmouth College, was forced off the speaking platform by a gang of roughnecks. Approximately a thousand students then surrounded him in his automobile, rocked it, and came close to injuring him. Mr. Wallace showed remarkable coolness in a dangerous situation, but he rightly pointed out that the kind of "academic freedom" displayed by the Dartmouth students could get one killed. The editor of the Dartmouth student newspaper said of the incident, which came close to resembling a lynching party: "I am ashamed". Indeed the entire administration and student body of the famoust old "liberal arts" college should feel shame for what took place.

In Kentucky, radical demonstrators theatened to disrupt the historic Kentucky Derby if they did not get their way on "open housing" demands, and forced the governor to call out National Guardsmen to preserve the peace.

In New Jersey, a radical protest group based in Rochester, N. Y., and known as FIGHT (Freedom, Integration, God, Honor—Today) conducted a huge demonstration against Eastman Kodak Company, one of the country's model employers and most progressive business enterprises.

The demonstration took place at the company's annual meeting, and 100 state policemen were needed to contain demonstrators who had been recruited at Cornell, Princeton and other colleges. The leader of FIGHT, the Rev. Franklin D. Roosevelt Florence, vowed to war against Kodak until demands for exclusive control over hiring of unskilled workers had been met. In a speech at the company session, he gave stockholders a one-hour ultimatum to bow to FIGHT's demands. Fortunately, the stockholders refused to pay heed to this.

These and other developments around the country point to a situation which is getting out of hand. Lawless, contemptuous elements in the country believe they have free rein to do what they want to disturb the peace. Not only do they want to trample on the rights of the majority, but they want to have police protection while they go on a rampage of disorderly behavior. For example, when Gen. William C. Westmoreland received an honorary degree from the University of South Carolina —his native state—the ceremony was rudely interrupted. A handful of demonstrators later were indignant that they had not been protected in their protest by state police.

Unless the disorderly protest minority is curbed in this country, life may become intolerable to decent, respectable citizens and responsible businesses. The California legislature may not be the last to be invaded by armed groups. Traditionally, this has been a tolerant country. Americans sensibly have realized that every nation has a tiny element of kooks who have to be humored a little. But there is a limit on just toleration. The small group of oddballs — the lunatic fringe in American life — cannot be allowed to ride roughshod over the laws or to create a kind of epidemic of disorder.

This is the real danger. No doubt the students at Dartmouth College are generally good citizens. It is likely that the vast majority were caught up in the fever of excitement created by a small cadre of disruptionists. That's the way all mobs work: the few incite the many, and terrorism and tragedy results. To prevent mob rule in this country, on the campus and off, will require some stern leadership in public office, the press, the bar, and in the pulpit. Those clergymen who have involved themselves in demonstrations bear an especially heavy responsibility for what is taking place. They should examine their consciences, and wake up to the necessity for upholding law and decency.

Two Youngsters Creating Problems With Automobiles

Two youngsters, one of them just eight years old, have been creating problems for the police department in recent days, particularly with unauthorized use of automobiles.

These youngsters were driving a jeep around the Gulf bulk station area, strewing gasoline in the area and apparently were discharging bullets by striking them with rocks. Saturday one of them got in the parking lot of Pritts garage and drove an automobile into the side of the A. D. Naylor company store. On Sunday they got another car moving and it ended up under a coal hopper in the B. and O. freight yard.

Authorities finally caught up with the young drivers and the case is under advisement.

bringing their groups to the planetarium. There will be studies in more advanced materials for students in the junior and senior high schools, and also to adult education programs. An elective class in astronomy is visualized for grades 11 and 12.

It was announced by the Board that Paul S. Frank, Jr., had been appointed director of the science instruction center. Born April 30, 1936, he was graduated from the College of Education, University of Maryland, with a B.S. degree in 1958. He taught at Ellicott Junior high school, three years; Colonel Joseph M. Belt junior high school, Wheaton, 4 years; Northern High school, one year; and Southern high for one-half year. During this time he received his master's degree from the University of Maryland and has an advanced professional teaching certificate in mathematics and science, valid until 1974.

It was pointed out that the planetarium could play a key role in the cultural enrichment of the people of the county and create pride in its educational system. Special instruction will be given interested groups. Lecturers, exhibits, charts, films, etc., will make current space exploration more meaningful to the laymen.

Cost of the project is not completely known at this time, but one of the grants from Federal sources amounts to $42,000.

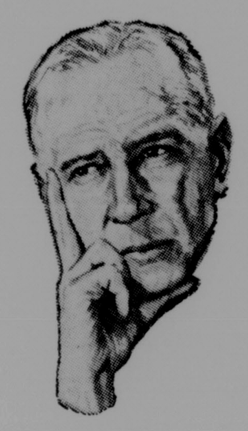
Into Whose Hands?



INTO WHOSE HANDS will fall the responsibility of administering, managing and conserving your estate for the welfare of your loved ones?

INTO OUR WIFE'S HANDS? At a time when she is desolate with grief . . . when your children need their mother most . . . when her cares and burdens are greatest?

INTO THE HANDS OF A FRIEND? A true and able friend, no doubt . . . one whom you could trust with your affairs and those of your family, but probably inexperienced as executor-trustee? Who, upon realizing his responsibilities, might wonder why you chose him . . . why he agreed to serve.

INTO THE HANDS OF AN UNKNOWN? This could happen if your plans are not properly made, and the most able administrator will be handicapped if plans are not made at all.

OR INTO THE EXPERIENCED AND RESPONSIBLE HANDS OF OUR TRUST DEPARTMENT? Here, where estate planning and administration are our every day business. Here, where your affairs, and those of your loved ones, are our first consideration. Here, where the service costs no more, and oftimes less, than the fees usually paid to an individual.

REMEMBER, your plans are only as sound as the executor you name to carry them out. Our Trust Department will welcome your inquiry.

A New Jamestown Colony

There must be millions of Americans who never expected to live long enough to see a Presidential Commission seriously recommend that each individual be guaranteed an annual income "whether he works or not". But they did. Moreover, since government has decided to define and measure poverty, no one would be poor under the guaranteed annual income.

We don't remember who first advanced this incredible proposal. Our first recollection of it dates to 1963 when a UN economist, Robert Theobald, told a Chicago audience that the Constiitution should guarantee everyone a salary "adequate to allow him to live with dignity" whether he works or not.

Now, four years later a whole Commission is making the recommendation. Wait another four years and the geometric increase should have at least one-half the workers in the country ready to quit work and take the guaranteed income. Production will be reduced by one-half. And there will be only one-half as much to divide. By the end of the second year, doubtless all workers will want to get on the "gravy train". Then there will be nothing to divide — and we can start all over.

Back in 1624, Captain John Smith, wrote of the experiences of the Jamestown Colony: "When our people were fed out of the common store, and laboured jointly together, glad was he (that) could slip from his labour, or slumber over his tasks he cared not how—nay, the most honest among them would hardly take so much true paines in a weeke, as now for themselves they will doe in a day; neither cared they for the increase, presuming that howsoever the harvest prospered, the generall store must maintaine them, so that we reaped not so much Corne from the labours of thirtie, as now three or foure do provide for themselves".

Couldn't we just establish another Jamestown Colony somewhere and let that Commission test the theory for a few years. We doubt that any members would survive two hard winters under that guaranteed annual income policy. If some did, we could transfer the emaciated wretches to a Government Hospital and nurse them back to good health slowly. And it would be a lot cheaper than trying the experiment on the whole population.

The Government is the largest land-owner in the country. Set the Commission up in business, Mr. President, and let them demonstrate their theory. —U. S. Press Association.

Private Plans...

The introduction of bills by Rep. Carl D. Perkins (D-Ky.) and Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, (D-Tex.) embracing the Administration's recommendations for amendments to the Welfare and Pension Plans Disclosure Act, would create additional government regulation in an area where such action is not needed.

The legislators feel their bills would broaden the responsibilities of persons handling welfare and pension funds and would provide for civil action as a remedy for any breach of this responsibility. In addition, the bills seek to expand the investigatory and enforcement powers of the Secretary of Labor and authorize the Secretary to bring legal action at his sole discretion. They recommend more detailed reporting and disclosure of invested holdings and the financial operation of pension plans.

Any new legislation should recognize the important economic and social contributions which are being made by private welfare and pension programs. The vast majority of these funds are well-administered and further restrictions on their operation might only succeed in making them less efficient and productive.

It is important that private employee benefit plans be encouraged to grow and prosper within a favorable government climate. Too much government regulation can curtail their tremendously significant contribution to both individual ecoromic security and the economy of the natian as a whole.

Let's hope that private pensions will not become part of a public welfare system. The most satisfactory way to meet private pension goals is voluntary action by employers, employees, trustees and insurance carriers.—Industrial Press Service.

County Receives $2,122.95 Share Delinquent Taxes

Checks totaling $1,005,535.58 were mailed out from the income tax division of the office of Louis L. Goldstein, comptroller, to the subdivisions of Maryland which represents their share of delinquent income tax collections on returns for the years 1960 through 1965.

The full distribution included $1,538.19 to the Garrett County Commissioners and $584.76 to municipalities in the county for a total distribution of $2,122.95.

Mr. Goldstein stated that the final distribution of income tax revenue for the state's fiscal year which will end June 30, will be made about June 26. This will be the major distribution and will cover collections in returns filed for the calendar year 1966, less the amount already paid to some of the subdivisions in the advanced distribution last November.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

As a teacher in Garrett County, I would like to make the following statement concerning the teacher salary increase to the Garrett County Commissioners and other interested citizens.

A beginning teacher at present will clear approximately $300 per month. With the high cost of living this salary is not nearly sufficient for a professional who is expected to live up to a professional image. My husband and I both teach, and we would like to have children. But it takes both of our salaries to live, and if I would have to stop teaching, we would have to move from our average-standard home to a sub-standard dwelling. We could not possibly live as a professional person should. We would not be able to afford such necessities as a decent car and insurance. If a teacher is forced to exist on 300 dollars a month, he can not help but be detrimental to the image of a teacher.

Many people fail to realize that teaching involves more than a normal or average work day. All athletic events such as football, basketball, wrestling, and baseball require hundreds of hours after school. Also, other activities such as school dances, field trips, concerts, public displays, PTA meetings, and other extracurricular activities require hours after school. In addition to these are the countless hours that a teacher spends in planning lessons and grading papers on his own time. However, over-time pay is almost unheard of in the teaching profession.

Teachers have sacrificed much for their positions. They have lost salaries during the 4 or 5 years which they have spent in earning their degrees. They have also paid between $1,500 and $2,500 per year to obtain their professional status. Yet in many cases, union laborers who have made little sacrifice in time, money, or dedication earn higher salaries. In the future we can foresee our best teachers operating heavy equipment or in other such jobs. Unless we realize the worth and value of good teachers, only a few good teachers will remain in the classroom. Then it will be too late. Our own selfishness will have harmed those most dear to us, our children.

Since high school diplomas are now required for most jobs, and since performance and proof of knowledge learned in high school is a prerequisite for many jobs, it seems that our citizens should want the best teachers in order to insure that their children will get the best possible education.

Poor teachers (money-wise and professionally) can be the only result of a community which does not support its teachers. It has been evident that better teachers are found where there is a high salary. In this case it is surprising that there are so many excellent teachers in Garrett County. But in turn, it will not be so surprising to see many teachers leave Garrett County.

This year there are 40 new teachers in the county. None of us has tenure to hold us here and when we know that by traveling to another county in the state that we can receive not only support from the people, but at least a salary increase of $1,000 many of us will probably leave. A number of teachers have already resigned and if the county refuses the requested support, others may resign also.

The $400 increase for which we have asked could not possibly put us on the same salary standard with most other counties in the state. We have asked for this small increase in hope that the county would indicate its support and interest in Education, not just to raise our salaries. It is almost mandatory that Garrett County join the other counties of Maryland in supporting education, or it will indeed live up to its reputation of being isolated from the rest of the state.

I join all other interested citizens in asking you, the County Commissioners, to realize that denying the salary increase for teachers would be taking a step backward in a state which has proudly stepped forward for the cause of education.

Sincerely,
Joan Lambert
Rt. 1, Oakland, Md.

P.S. On behalf of all the teachers in Garrett County, I would like to express my sincere appreciation to Allen Paugh for his support.

A ONE-ROOM AIR CONDITIONER IS FINE... IF YOUR WHOLE FAMILY LIVES IN ONE ROOM.

If you want to live in, say, two rooms, you just buy another one-room air conditioner. For three rooms, another . . . and so on. It's really very simple.

It's also very silly! And supporting a flock of one-room air conditioners is very costly, too.

Now let's get serious. For only $14 a month (maybe less), you can own clean, trouble-free, economical Gas whole-house air conditioning. With normal installation, a hefty three-ton unit is yours without even a down payment.

Here's the best part. If your home is heated with Gas, you probably already own about half a Gas air conditioning system: the ductwork, the blower and the filter. All you need is a cooling unit and a condensing unit.

For all the refreshing facts, just call the Gas Company. Gas whole-house air conditioning provides comfort for every member of your family . . . in every room of your house!

CAPITOL COMMENT

by

Charles "Mac" Mathias

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

The High Cost Of Clean Water

Water pollution is a subject of tremendous concern throughout the nation, and especially in Maryland, where virtually every fresh-water stream, river and lake is being tapped for municipal and industrial use. Our rapid population growth has sharply increased both the demand for clean water, and the intensity and complexity of pollution.

Throughout Maryland and the nation, communities of all sizes are trying to cope with their water pollution problems by building new sewage treatment plants and by improving and expanding existing facilities. The cost of these projects is very high, and help from both the Federal and state governments is essential if this nationwide challenge is going to be met.

In 1965 and again in 1966, the Congress recognized the urgency of this problem by enacting laws which provided for the establishment of water quality standards, enlarged Federal aid for construction of treatment facilities, and expanded the financial incentives for states to make substantial contributions to augment Fedment Federal funds. A total of $450 million in Federal construction grants was authorized for fiscal 1968.

All of us should be proud that the State of Maryland has been a leader among the states in assuming its own responsibilities in this area. Since 1957 the state has matched Federal construction grants for sewage treatment works, and since 1962 state programs have guaranteed that no community would pay more than 50% of project cost. Finally, this year the General Assembly enacted a bill which, in accord with the new Federal legislation, brings the combined Federal-state contribution to a full 75%, permitting great acceleration of the attack on water pollution in Maryland.

Ironically, Maryland's initiatives have brought us to a point at which the state faces substantial expenses, in the short run, simply because our efforts are so far ahead of those of the Federal government. The State Department of Health has estimated that about $40 million per year will be spent on treatment plant construction in Maryland during the next five years. Baltimore County alone has now submitted project applications totaling over $7 million. If the Federal government paid its full share of each project, the Federal contribution would be about $82 million — yet even if all Federal funds authorized are actually appropriated each year, the Federal grants available to Maryland in 1968 through 1971 will total only $58 million. The State has thus agreed to make loans to communities to underwrite this "Federal deficit", relying on provisions in the 1966 Federal law which provide for eventual repayment of such funds from Washington.

There are disturbing indications, however, that the Administration is not living up to the commitment made by Congress last year. This year the President has requested only $203 million for construction grants — less than half of the $450 million authorized. If the full amount is not approved, obviously Maryland's share will be reduced, and either the state's "Federal deficit" will grow, or essential projects will have to be deferred.

Congress, the states and our communities have made the fight for clean water a matter of highest priority. It is time for the Administraion to do likewise, by assuming its full share of the costs inevitably involved.

Fresh Air Children Coming To Grantsville

A number of fresh air children from some New York slum areas will be arriving in Garrett county on June 27. They are coming here under the auspices of Mennonites of the Grantsville area, and will be guests in various homes of the area.

The children are sent out through a fund provided by the Herald Tribune newspaper of New York and they spend two weeks in the area. Mrs. Ivan J. Miller, Grantsville, is the contact in the area, and persons who desire to share in the program may contact her. The Grantsville community citizens have been participating in the program for fourteen years.

Highlanders Whip Bayard High 18-3

The three-hit pitching of Jerry Fike and Don Wilt, and homers by Fike and Gary Bosley paced a 15-hit barrage that sent the Southern Highlanders soaring to an 18 to 3 bombardment of Bayard High in a Potomac Valley conference tilt Tuesday at Oakland.

For Southern it was the fourth victory against one setback in the PVC while the loss was the fifth in the loop for winless Bayard. The Highlanders are 7-1 overall.

The Rams gunned for four runs in the first inning and added 10 more in the second to take control of the game at 14-0. Bosley went two for two at the plate with a homer and double. Tom Dettmer and Watson added two baggers. Harvey Speicher and Bill Martin each had a triple and double each. Speicher adding a single in his perfect day at bat. Fike went five innings and didn't allow a hit while fanning 10. He issued two walks. Wilt permitted three Tiger safeties while fanning two and walking one. Gaither suffered the loss.

Motorcycle Operators Must Be Licensed

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles John R. Jewell today cautioned the approximately 22,500 owners of motorcycles in Maryland that more stringent laws regulating the operation of two wheeled vehicles in this State will become effective on June 1.

Basically, Jewell said, the new law requires that, after June 1, an individual wishing to operate a motorcycle or other two wheeled vehicle in Maryland must be specifically licensed to do so by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

In addition, Jewell said, the new law also provides that, as a prerequisite for obtaining a motorcycle licenst, an applicant must have in his possession a valid Maryland motor vehicle operator's or chauffeur's license.

Libel Action Is Shifted to Oakland

Associate Judge Harold E. Naughton, Allegany County last week signed an order in the Circuit court there removing to this county court at Oakland the libel suit which had been filed last August by Russell H. Carder, of Shaft, then county commissioner, against the Guardian Publishing company, of Frostburg, and others.

Judge Naughton signed the Judge Naughton signed the removal order after Mr. Carder, through his attorney, Miller Bowen, petitioned for removal on grounds that he could not get a fair trial in Allegany county Circuit court.

The libel suit was filed last August 22, shortly before the September 13 primary election when Mr. Carder lost his bid for a second term.

Named in the action were the Guardian Publishing company, the Meyersdale Printing and Publishing Company, which prints the bi-weekly newspaper, and six persons who at that time were identified as directors of the Guardian Publishing company.

Three of these six individuals no longer are parties to the suit, Burton Smith, Lonaconing, now a county commissioner, was removed from the case last September. Judge Naughton signed orders last October 26 to dismiss two other persons as defendants in the action. They are Leo P. Ford, LaVale, and Kathleen Robertson, Barton.

Still listed as defendants along with the company which publishes the paper and the firm which prints it, are three other alleged directors. They are Clement H. Myers, Rawlings; Charles W. Welch, Cumberland; and Dorothy Murray Martin, Frostburg.

Meanwhile Chief Judge James Macgill, of the Fifth Judicial Circuit has been named to hear the contempt of court cases against the editor and corporation which publishes the Guardian.

Selection of Chief Judge Macgill, Ellicott City, was made by the chief judge of the Maryland Court of Appeals at the request of Judge Naughton.

The contempt of court citations were filed some weeks ago by the two judges of the Circuit Court in Cumberland, based on items published in the Guardian.

The cases will be heard in the Court House at Cumberland on June 9. State's Attorney Donald W. Mason has been designated in an order of court to present the cases for Judges Naughton and James S. Getty. Defense attorney will be John C. Sullivan. No date has been set for the suit hearing in the court in Oakland.

Bob Finch rapped a triple and double and Tom Dettmer collected a pair of singles. Dave Bosley tossed a 4-hitter in the nightcap, walked six and fanned five. Dennis Liller, Fort Ashby twirler, also turned in a 4-hitter. No player got more than one hit in this 5-inning tilt.

Southern is 3-1 in the confer ence.

AN OPEN LETTER

To The Citizens of Garrett County!

These Are The Facts:

- For years the teachers of Garrett County have subsidized public education by working for less in order to see badly needed school buildings replaced and modernized.

- The proposed $400 across-the-board increase for teachers can be granted by the County Commissioners without a tax increase.

- Traditionally, Garrett County teachers have been the lowest paid in Maryland.

- The Hughes-Agnew tax reform legislation provides funds which CAN and should be used to retain and attract the most qualified teachers.

Remember . . .

There is nothing that can replace a GOOD teacher in a good school.

This is the "Year of Decision" in Garrett

Give the County Commissioners the courage to vote "yes" on the proposed $400 increase for teachers. Write or call them TODAY, indicating your support. Tomorrow may be too late.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

May 22, 1967

The Republican
Oakland, Maryland
Dear Editor:

I am writing about the concern for a raise in teachers' salaries. I am disturbed by some of the things I hear. The tendency to compare teachers' salaries with other incomes in the county, and from this comparsion debate the need for an increase, is not sound reasoning. Rather, we must think about how salaries compare with other counties in the state and our neighboring state of West Virginia, where, as I understand, major strides are now being made to raise teachers' salaries.

Let's face it, we are dealing with what happens to our children - with quality of education. Better teachers are more in demand and will be tempted with more attractive salary offers elsewhere if our salary level does not compare favorably. New teachers will tend to locate in counties where better salaries are offered. Garrett County cannot afford to stay at the bottom.

Even after the present state increase takes place, we will be running a close tie with Somerset County for bottom place in Maryland. I favor supplementing this state increase to the greatest extent possible from county funds.

It is a matter of where we put our values. Will we place our values at the point of what will it cost us - material values- or at the point of what it will do in developing the God-given abilities of persons - spiritual values?

I am not in favor of disrupting the education of our children by a teacher strike. This, I believe, would do harm to the service image of the teaching profession. I am glad the choice was not to strike. But we must be fair to people in the teaching profession. They have invested a good many thousands of dollars and a number of years of loss of income that most people have not invested. They deserve more pay. We need to recognize this and take the initiative, thus making unnecessary the need to call our attention to the inequity by threat of a strike.

Our County Commissioners need to know they have your support in improving teacher salaries in Garrett County. If you place human values above material values, they need to know you are back of them in voting the money necessary to make possible better quality in education. Speak with them personally, phone, or write them and tell them what you believe is best for our county.

Owen G. Stultz, Chairman
Southern High School P.T.A.

Former Oaklander Successful Green House Farmer

John R. Mason, of Newberry, Calif., a greenhouse farmer, who was a former resident of Oakland and a son of Mrs. Minnie Mason and the late Wade H. Mason, is featured in the April issue of the California Farmer publication due to his success as a farmer.

He is now averaging from 40 to 50 tons of tomatoes a year from his one-acre greenhouse farm and has his sights set on a 75-ton per acre average.

His tomato operation is a year-round business since he plants his crop in August and harvests from January to June. The biggest problem he faces is fungus diseases.

The article relates that Mr. Mason raises his own seedlings, transplanting them to his greenhouse at about four weeks of age. When the plants are 12 weeks old, he begin pruning them and keeps up the pruning practice until the plants get six to seven feet tall.

This helps him in controlling the fungus because the pruning allows the sunlight to penetrate and keep the plants producing.

Mr. Mason is currently selling a good part of his output to a commission merchant in Los Angeles, and restaurants and other specialty markets are his prime customers.

His mother now resides at Deep Creek Lake.

The sunroof works even when there isn't any sun.

When you slide back the sunroof on a Volkswagen Station Wagon, the sky's the limit.

That's because odd-shaped loads you'd have trouble fitting into an ordinary station wagon can stick up out of a VW. Like a tree. Or a refrigerator. (In fact, you never know what might pop up.)

And even when the sunroof's closed, the Volkswagen still gives you almost twice as much space as other wagons.

And a 4' by 4' door that lets you get right at all the room inside. (You don't have to be an engineer to move big, bulky loads in and out.)

And whenever you don't want to put big things inside your VW, you can use it for big people instead. It seats 9 of them and holds 13 pieces of luggage. All at once.

Other wagons only hold about half as much as a VW. Even if you hit the ceiling.

But after the VW's all filled up, you can still go through the roof.

tramped in the woodlands of Garrett County. She said he liked the Army but was not sure he would make a career of military service.

A 1964 graduate of Southern High School at Oakland, Sp. 5 Friend enlisted January 12, 1965. He will be 21 years old September 2.

The soldier's father, Arnold B. Friend, was killed in a crash of a private plane at Deep Creek Lake in 1963.

He has two brothers, Darvin Friend, an employe at the Highland Park Dairy in Oakland; Michael Lee Friend, 19, with an Airborne unit at Camp Gordon, Ga., and a sister, Mrs. Annis Colaw, wife of Fred Colaw, Oakland.

Mrs. Friend resides at 103 South 11th Street, Oakland and is employed as a cafeteria worker at Southern High School. She said today that her son was promoted to specialist fifth class on May 11.

According to Mr. Arnett's story:

Riding in a jeep, Spec. 5 Friend, a bulldozer driver from Oakland, Md., heard the shout "Ambush! Ambush!" over the jeep radio as the convoy spun along at 40 miles an hour on Route 1, toward the town of Xuan Loc, 40 miles east of Saigon.

Friend saw snipers in the trees and at the roadside. Shells exploded around the convoy. Then came a direct hit on the jeep's front wheel. It careened into the underbrush and caught fire. Friend was thrown out, striking his head against a tree.

The young soldier lay half stunned on the clay highway. His eye focused blurrily on a big armored carrier 300 yards ahead. Then he saw a figure slip into the highway and begin running toward the carrier.

Friend pulled himself to his feet. Gunfire crackled. Men screamed in pain. The Marylander began running at a crouch toward the armored carrier. It seemed to be the only island of safety. And the figure dashing toward it—dressed in fatigues with a pistol at his hip, a rifle in hand and carrying a bag — was obviously a Viet Cong.

"I ran past three Viet Cong lying in a hole", Friend said a few hours after the battle. "I bent my head down instinctively, I told myself that this was the end. I wasn't armed. All I had was my knife, But incredibly, they didn't fire at me. Maybe they were only ammo bearers".

A few yards farther on, Friend was struck in the chest by a bullet fired from the other side of the road. It pierced his flak vest and lodged against an ammunition clip in his pocket, splintering the bullets, but did not wound him.

Just ahead of him, the Viet Cong was starting to climb on the armored carrier that apparently had been stopped temporarily with a rocket hit.

"As I got nearer", said Friend, "I could see he had something in that bag, an explosive, a satchel charge. All I had on me was the knife, a hunting knife with a four-inch blade that I'd used to skin rabbits I'd shot back in Maryland.

"I pulled it out from the sheath. I had to do it".

Friend reached up and grabbed the Viet Cong sniper by the collar.

He raised his arm and drove the knife between the man's shoulder blades.

The Viet Cong slid down from the side of the carrier, his rifle falling from his shoulder, the bag of explosives from his hand. Friend glanced at the handle of his knife and the blood.

As he moved around the carrier, 2nd Lt. Ted Hendrickson of Rock Island, Ill., met him and pulled him aboard. The carrier started up with a roar.

"We picked up a few more wounded", said Friend, his face bruised but otherwise unhurt. "That lieutantent really saved us. He moved out of there fast".

For his part in saving the armored carrier, Friend has been nominated for the Silver Star.

"That's the least we can put him in for", said an 11th Armored officer.

School Project Aids Morale in South Vietnam

A combined English and social studies project at Kitzmiller School has resulted in acknowledgment from service men in Vietnam who have written that the work of the pupils is "good for morale".

"Project Vietnam" was initiated by Miss Henrietta Lease, instructor for the upper grades. The study was based on a study of Vietnam and tied in with a letter writing project in English.

Pupils were asked to furnish names and addresses of servicemen in the war zone. Students composed letters and mailed them overseas. The names of those responding were placed in a hat and one drawn as the recipient of a package toward which all students contributed.

"Winning" serviceman was Specialist Fourth class Donald James, son of Mrs. Tina James, Kitzmiller, and a former student at the school. After writing the letter of thanks for the package the young serviceman was wounded and flown back to Bethesda for treatment of his wounds. He arrived home over the week-end to spend a 30-day convalescent leave. He was expecting to talk to the students.

In his letter Specialist James wrote that the action of the students was "good for morale, especially to know that we are still backed by the people at home". He further wrote, "This is a conflict too few people understand but nevertheless a necessary and important conflict. If Communism can take over small areas, it eventually can take over the world. This is the goal of the Communists and we have been the ones chosen to stop it".

He concluded, "Morale is a small word, but it carries a big meaning for us who are here".

Out of the school nine years the soldier wrote that he used to complain about all the homework his teachers gave him but now realizes it was all for his betterment. He urged the students to "hang on there".

Miss Lease said the project lasted for nine weeks and resulted in greatly improved marks.

After winning "best of Fair" award at Middletown High school where Kathy Fay Falkenstein, 17, is a junior student, at the school fair, and at the county science fair, she was awarded a trip to San Francisco to attend the International Science Fair May 10-13.

Title of her project was "Amino Acid Assay or A-3. She extracted the amino acids from the cotyledon of the lima bean during different stages of germination. By using paper chromatography she was able to separate the free amino acids and identify them by comparing the results with a control.

The International fair included around 400 students from all states and several foreign countries. She traveled by jet. She had several offers of summer jobs at Berkeley, Calif, University of Wisconsin, Department of Agriculture either at Berkeley or Beltsville. She hopes to do laboratory research work, probably in the field of biology, after she is graduated.

Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edwin Falkenstein, of Myersville, and a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Falkenstein, Myersville, formerly residents of Oakland.

Conducts Survey For Leaf Beetle

The Plant Pest Control Division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture began survey work this month in Garrett county for an insect known as the cereal leaf beetle. This survey will be conducted during the months of May and June.

The cereal leaf beetle is a serious pest of grain cropss and is found throughout most of Europe, it was explained by James McHenry, Extension Agent. It was first identified in the United States in 1962 when it caused considerable damage in oats, wheat, and winter barley in Michigan. It has since been found in Indiana and Ohio.

The adult beetle is about 3/16 of an inch long. The wing covers and head are a metallic, bluish-black and the legs and neck region are red.

The immature stage resembles the Colorado potato beetle in shape and the body is yellowish.

Both adults and immature stages of the cereal leaf beetle damage grain crops by chewing long strips between the leaf veins. In a heavy infestation this damage causes the plants to appear yellowish-white.

The cereal leaf beetles overwinter in the adult stage and could be transported into non-infested areas in hay, straw, fodder, litter, small grains, corn, sod, and harvesting machinery.

Detection survey by Plant Pest Control Inspector will consist of visual examinations of grassy areas and grain fields located near feed companies and Farmer Cooperatives. Sweepings with nets will also be made.

Gov. Agnew expressed belief that community colleges should be separated from public school system and put under separate head.

Church World Service Clothing Appeal Made

The Church World Service Center at New Windsor, is sending its truck to Oakland on June 5 to collect clothing for distribution throughout the world. The truck will stop at Oak Park Church of the Brethren, opposite Southern High School for the collection. Church World Service is the united effort of several Christian groups to gather, process, and distribute usable items to people in need.

Good, usable clothing is needed. Due to the cost of processing and shipping to distant points, the items should be such that a great deal of use can be had by the recipient. The clothing should be securely bound in cardboard boxes or cloth bags with a label showing the weight and the name and address of the group or individual giving the material.

It is suggested that the cartons be brought to Oak Park sometime during the week prior to June 5.

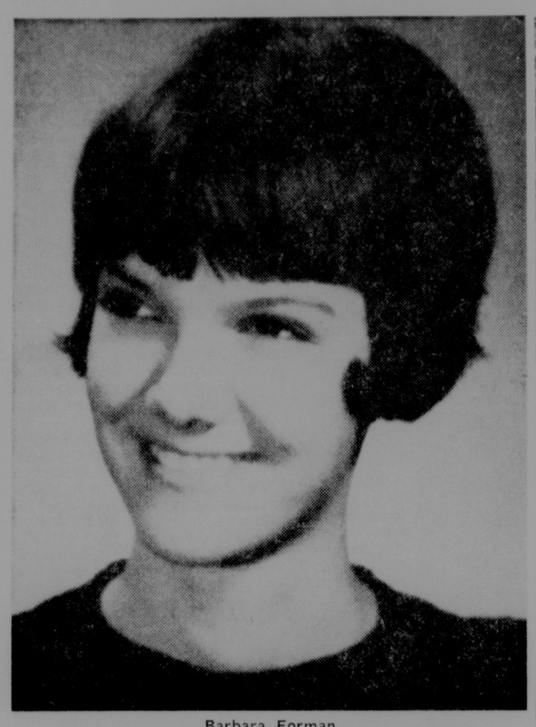
Barbara Forman Prom Queen



Barbara Forman

"Blue Hawaii" was the theme of the Junior-Senior Prom at Southern High school, Oakland, at which Barbara Forman was crowned Prom Queen for 1967 by Robert Rodeheaver, principal last Saturday evening. Miss Forman was escorted by Merlin Trickett.

The coronation took place at 10:30, highlighting an evening of dancing to the music of Bob Hill's Orchestra of Pittsburgh.

Gladys Wilt, accompanied by Connie Baker, sang the theme, "Blue Hawaii" for the Royal Court.

Under a starlit sky, amid palm trees, the royal court was preceded to the throne by Miss Sharon Evans and Jeff Orr, dressed as native Hawaiian children. Jeff carried the Queen's crown, while Sharon carried the Queen's lei. Both crown and lei were placed on blue satin pillows.

To begin the ceremonies, the orchestra played a fanfare and the grand march. Queen Barbara and her escort led the Queen's dance which followed the coronation.

Preceding Queen Barbara to the throne were the princesses. Miss Connie Dixon, wearing a long pink crepe gown, had as her escort Craig Hershman. Miss Jane Garrett, escorted by Bill Martin, wore a beige and gold brocade gown.

Attired in a white and turquoise dress, Miss Louise Martin had Jerry Cannon as escort. Miss Nanette Groves in a mint green gown was escorted by Darrell DeWitt.

Miss Margaret Michaels chose white chiffon for her dress and had Brad Frazee as her escort. Also gowned in white was Miss Carol Smith with Kenneth Gibson as her escort.

Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Forman, Oakland.

No! It doesn't happen in one day. It takes four years.

And it's not really the years that count. It's the days ... and the hours.

For when the scroll is in our hand ... what are we?

We are what we have become ... gradually ... through all those hours, days, and years.

So the wiser among us recognize a degree for what it is; a recognition of knowledge and proficiency that have been attained.

And while we're acquiring that knowledge ... and while we're applying that proficiency ... we build into our hours, days and years the spiritual fibre of religious conviction and Christian service.

For gradually — we are becoming the men and women that one day we will be!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

To Transform Defeat

Lesson for May 28, 1967

Background Scripture: Acts 8:2-40.
Devotional Reading: John 4:19-26.

Following a particularly expensive victory during the Franco-Prussian War, a German general is reported to have remarked: "If we have any more victories like this, we're finished!"

Rev. Althouse

Students of military history are aware of the truth behind this apparently contradictory statement. The price we pay to win a battle may sometimes cost us the war because it is too high. The seeds of defeat may be planted in the midst of our victories. Both victory and defeat may be mere illusions in the short run.

Beyond "Final" Defeat

This was certainly true in the struggle between the followers of Jesus and his enemies. To insure his defeat, they had Jesus put to death. In time, however, they found that death had not stopped his movement; if any thing, it seemed to spur it on. Once more they tried the strategy of force on his chief aposties, Peter and John. Assuming the threat of violence was enough, they warned them and, when that had no effect, they put them into jail. Yet each of these "victories" turned out to be subtle defeats.

Then Stephen came on the scene and once again they attempted to win with violence. The death of Stephen touched off a violent persecution against the followers of Christ. Surely now the defeat of the Nazarene would be final. Stephen dead, the little fellowship attacked, disciples dragged off to jail, others scattered in their attempt to avoid capture — surely this would seal the defeat of this strange group and silence them once and for all!

Their reasoning seemed sound enough. Many, many people have turned to violence and death to destroy their opposition, regarding it as "the final solution."

Often, however, it has been a hollow victory that later proves to have been a defeat. God has an awesome ability to raise up victories from the ashes of defeat. From the day of Christ's crucifixion, there came the morn of resurrection and the day of Pentecost. From the day of Stephen's martyrdom and the ensuing wave of persecution, there would come the beginning of the Church's mission to the whole world.

Lemons Into Lemonade

The strategy had been to kill Stephen and scatter the little band of Jerusalem Christians, but Luke tells us how God turned the tables: "Now those who were scattered went about preaching the word." (Acts 8:4 RSV) God was able to turn the evil intentions of his enemies to his own advantage. As Harry Emerson Fosdick once put it: he turned his "lemons into lemonade." Defeat was transformed.

The irony of it all is that, without the persecution, the Church might have remained content in Jerusalem and never gotten started in its mission to the world. It was persecution itself, intended to kill the gospel, that actually got the apostles out of Jerusalem and into the areas where God wanted the gospel carried. The violent opposition of men may affect the course of God's will but not its ultimate objective.

Learn To Capitalize

The little Christian community in Jerusalem learned that victory is not always victory, nor is defeat always defeat. Because God can turn our failures into his successes, we must learn to let him capitalize our disabilities, to bring good out of evil.

H.G. Wells had to give up a dull, poorly-paying job because of his poor health. Thus, he stayed home, wrote successful books, and became a world-famous author. Edison used his deafness to help himself to better concentrate upon his inventions. So it is when we turn over our liabilities and our defeats to Jesus Christ.

The followers of Christ are sustaining many defeats in the world today. As always, however, if we will seek both God's will and power, these defeats can be transformed into victories for the kingdom.

Bond Sales Up

Maryland's sales of E and H bonds increased 16.3 percent over the January-April sales of 1966 but still are not sufficient to meet our sales pattern demand.

The annual quota for this year is $105,300,000 with the January-April total being $33,892,798, or 32.2 percent of the quota attained.

In Garrett county there is a quota of $316,000. The April sales amounted to $31,340, making the January-April total $91,220, as compared to $93,695 for the same three months of 1966. The county has reached 28.9 percent of its quota and stands 19th among other counties of the state and Baltimore city. Queen Anne's county is first with 4.7 percent of its quota met.

Thirteen Killed On State Highways

The weekly survey of traffic fatalities by the State Police indicates that thirteen persons lost their lives on Maryland highways last week.

Six of the victims were drivers; four were passengers; and three were pedestrians, all of whom were less than nine years of age.

"Most of these collisions", commented Lt. Col. George Davidson, Chief of Operations of the State Police, "would have been avoided if the driver had been employing the principles of defensive driving as are taught in the defensive driving classes sponsored by the Baltimore Safety Council in cooperation with the Maryland State Police".

Colonel Davidson made it clear that "if every driver could be exposed to the defensive driving course, we could make a real dent in the highway safety problem. Therefore, I highly recommend that drivers contact the Baltimore Safety Council or the State Police and arrange to take the course".

Virgil Hanlin Has First Hand View Of Tornado Path

Virgil Hanlin, of Gormania, was one of the few who had a first hand view of the tornado and its path, along with two high school students, last Friday evening.

Virgil and his two helpers, Gerald and William Lower, high school students at Southern, were working at a pulpwood job at Rosedale. They worked that evening until the hail storm struck. They then moved to Oakland where they remained until after the hail, then began their homeward trek to Gormania. He said there was little rain and little wind. There was a nice sunset but there were heavy clouds in the East. They had known of the high wind alert throughout the day and were talking about the weather as they passed Loch Lynn Heights. Virgil had just asked the boys whether or not they had ever seen a tornado, and were passing the Lenwood Bittinger farm when they saw the funnel-like cloud. He estimated it at being about 1,500 feet up. Then it swooped down, directly on the sharp turn in the road, picked up some debris there, then went southeastward over the hill, made a complete circle and struck at the highway corner again and then went over the hill again. Virgil said the noise was like that of a dozen jets. The diameter at the top he said was huge, some 100 feet, with the cone some 75 to 100 feet in length, coming down to earth. They were only about 700 feet from the turn in the road and Mr. Hanlin said he could see debris floating all around within the funnel. He saw a man on the road near the turn that he was unable to identify, but he said the wind turned the man around and acted like it was going to pick him up and include him in the debris.

The three remained in the car the entire time. The disturbance lasted only a few seconds.

Apparently after striking the White home it dropped down again at Shallmar where trees were uprooted plus an outbuilding or two.

Highlanders Top Northern 5 to 1

Tom Dettmer scored in the first, third and fifth innings and Pitcher Bill Martin fired a three-hitter as Southern High defeated Northern 5-1 at Oakland in the first game of their annual series for the Garrett County championship.

Dettmer tripled, got aboard on an error, and singled and later scored on all three occasions pacing the Highlanders' offensive. Southern scored two more runs in the sixth inning off Jesse Thomas who went the distance for Northern allowing six hits while striking out two.

The victory was the fifth of the season in six games for Coach Tom Kuhn's Highlanders, while Northern is now 2-6. The two teams meet again on Monday for the conclusion of the series. Southern won both games last year 15-3 and 3-0.

After Dettmer tripled in the opening frame, Gary Bosley smacked a double for the first run and in the third Dettmer trotted home on a booming three-bagger by Bob Finch. In the fifth, Dettmer singled, went to second on a sacrifice and scored on Bosley's second hit, a single.

In the sixth, Sharps singled, went to second on a sacrifice and scored when Martin reached base on an error. Martin later scored on another error.

Northern, after being set down on no hits through five innings, erupted in the sixth for their only run and two of their three hits. Sisler doubled and scored on a single by Hunter.

OUR CHILDREN DESERVE BETTER CARE

Let's start giving the children a break. Stop leaving medicines and dangerous household products where they are easily available for our tiny tots to cause themselves possible harm or even death. There are much too many serious accidents.

We must never leave any medicine within a child's reach. After giving or taking any medicine, lock it up safely in a special cabinet. If you must keep household bleaches and other harmful household products under the sink, make the doors which enclose them impossible for children to open.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Brochure Published

A report on investment opportunities at Deep Creek Lake, prepared by Don Short, travel consultant and president of Travel Counselors, Inc., of New York, has been published by the Tourist Development division, Maryland Department of Economic Development and Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion council, and is now being distributed.

The pamphlet is a 28-page brochure. There were 2,000 copies printed in the Sincell Printing company office.

The report indicated at present there were facilities of 280 rooms in motels and other places, enough to take care of over 800 people, but suggested a need for 3,900 guest rooms.

The county is within 200 miles of seven million people, and the county has the potential of drawing many of them to this area.

A fire destroyed 29 motel units at Lakeview Country club, Morgantown, with loss up to $1 million.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 91. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., JUNE 1, 1967 PER COPY 10c NUMBER 14.

Our Apologies . . .

To Mr. and Mrs. Karl H. Zeigler:

Authorities have arrested an individual and charged him with the murder of your daughter, 20 year old Judy. This man had been found guilty in 1965, while a mere fifteen years old, of rape of a 22-year-old mother, and sentenced to not more than four years in the penitentiary. He was paroled in December, 1966. Should he be found guilty of the murder of your daughter, let The Republican be the first to offer our sincere apologies for the inadequacies of the State of Maryland in coping with the problem of parole and probation.

Offenders of society, throughout the country, are turned loose every day after serving only a small portion of their sentences, and are given freedom to duplicate their previous offenses. This is particularly true in the case of sex offenders.

Recent Supreme Court decisions must bear the responsibility of watering down the program of law and order, without which must follow complete anarchy.

The tendency, at present, is to ignore the constitutional rights and privileges of law abiding citizens in favor of those who flout the laws of the nation on every occasion and who are always the first ones to fly to the law when caught in a jam, and demand the protection of "their constitutional rights".

Because of previous Supreme Court rulings, this alleged offender must be informed that he does not have to say a word, answer a question, may not confess, even if he desires to do so, until an attorney has been appointed for him. If he claims he has no money for an attorney, the state must provide.

The pendulum has swung too far to the left, and before there is a complete breakdown, revision must be

Commissioners Prepare Levy

The County Commissioners have been engaged over the past several days in preparing the annual levy which will determine the county tax rate for the ensuing fiscal year which begins July 1.

No figures were available this week but the Commissioners stated yesterday morning they hoped to have the figures completed by the end of the week, and available for next week's issue.

The rate for the past several years has been $2.80 on each $100 of assessable property. The Commissioners said they felt certain that the rate would not be any higher, and there was hope that the rate could be reduced, but there was no definite word on the amount of the possible reduction.

There was uncertainty this year just how much of the assesable basis would be reduced because of the new regulation in regard to assessments of certain elderly people past 65 years of age. It was certain however, there would be an increase of several million dollars in the assessable basis on account of new property valuation and an additional levy on Texas Eastern Transmission company. The total assesssable basis last year was $56,448,544. Each million dollar increase in the assessable basis at the present rate of $2.80 would bring in an additional $28,000.

The county last year operated on an anticipated revenue of $1,872,358.53 with some $387,023.57 being estimated income from sources other than the direct levy.

The Commissioners said that as of yesterday morning there had been no further action on any increase in salaries of school teachers.

Ministry Begins At State Parks

The Summer Protestant Park Ministry will be held again this year, beginning June 1, it was announced by a committee of the Mt. Top Ministerial association which is sponsoring the event this year. The Rev. Don Matthews of Oakland, is to be the Park chaplain this summer.

Campground services or worship will be held for park campers and other interested persons on Saturday evenings.

The service in Swallow Falls State forest will be held at 7 p. m., in the picnic pavilion; and at Deep Creek Lake State Park in the recreation building, at 8:30.

These informal services are geared to families camping in the parks who would not normally attend services in one of the local churches on Sunday mornings. Casual dress is encouraged and the services will last about 45 minutes.

These non-denominational services were held last year under auspices of the Maryland Council of Churches, but the work was taken over this year by the local ministerial group. The committee in charge includes Rev. Stanley K. Armentrout, Rev. Charles Teets, Rev. Eldon Shingleton, Rev. Vaughn Taylor and Rev. James Remley.

The services will continue during the summer months.

Earns Air Medal

The air medal and a citation were presented to First Lieutenant John H. Updyke during recent ceremonies in Vietnam, his mother, Mrs. R. C. McComas, Oakland, has been informed.

Updyke is a naval aviator in Marine Attack Squadron 223, and has had a number of combat support missions in support of the Republic of Vietnam against the insurgent communist guerrilla forces during the period March 4 to March 25.

The citation declared "He contributed materially to the success of his squadron. His courage and devotion to duty in the face of hazardous flying conditions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service". The citation was signed for the president of the United States by L. B. Robertshaw, major general, U. S. Marine corps.

Lieutenant Updyke has been in Vietnam since the past January.

Dairy Princess Will Be Named

The selection of a county dairy princess will be at the annual spring meeting to be held Friday, June 9, at 7:30 o'clock, at the Accident Elementary school.

Mrs. Julia Stephens Hewgley, consumer specialist of the U. S. Food and Drug administration, will be the speaker.

Mrs. Hewgley will speak on "FDA, What It Is and Does". The Youthpower winner, Miss Bonnie Buckel, also will speak briefly. The public is invited.

Contestants include Valeria Durst, star route, Frostburg; Emma Jean Blocher, star route, Frostburg; and Sharon Kamp, route 2, Grantsville. The winner will be crowned by Connie Crowe, last year's dairy princess winner and the winner will go to Baltimore June 27 and 28 to vie in the state contest.

Judges for the affair will be Mrs. Glenn Randol, Robert T. Hoffman and Miss Linda Oursler. The winner will be interviewed by Thomas Butscher.

The speaker, native of Muncie, Ind., grew up in Nashville, Tenn. As the wife of a career military officer she has lived in many parts of the United States as well as overseas. She received her B.S. degree in home economics at George Peabody Teachers college.

She joined the food and drug administration in September. Her specialty is kitchen planning and design and was selected to present foods demonstrations at the 1964-65 World's Fair at the Festival of Gas pavilion.

No Further Word On Teacher Pay

There was no additional word on any proposed teacher salary increase, after last Friday's meeting at Northern High school of some 200 teachers of the county. However committees were appointed to investigate the tax structure of the county.

The Teacher association named a committee termed "Blue Ribbon Commission", to investigate the financial structure with particular emphasis on the ability of the county to support public education. This was taken to determine what steps should be taken in their request for a $400 across the board increase.

The Commissioners have twice rejected the request from lack of a second to a motion by one of the members, Allen S. Paugh, favoring the increase. The increase has been opposed by Hubert Friend and John Ross Sines.

In addition to requesting the MSTA to appoint the investigating commission the association also authorized appointment of what was termed "watch dog" committee to scrutinize the daily operation of the county government, the committee to communicate its findings to the teachers and the public.

Also authorized was formation and subsidization of a program of internal and external public relations, which is to include a speakers bureau and expanded publications to both the teachers and public.

Willard L. Hawkins, superintendent of county schools, had said the $400 increase for 239 teachers would cost the county approximately $96,500. The opinion of the teachers last Friday night was that the cost of the increase could be arranged by the commissioners without any increase in the tax rate, due to an increased assessable base, and that the increase would not interfere with a projected decrease in the tax rate.

He was sentenced by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill to not more than four years in the penitentiary, on December 5, 1965. He was arrested July 13, and had spent about 90 days in the Clifton Perkins hospital prior to his trial.

Hands Bandaged

Police said Miller, a freshman, went to school with both hands bandaged to the elbows. Miss Ziegler apparently had fought with her attacker because her arms, hands and back were slashed.

Two of Miss Ziegler's classmates told police they had been riding in her car when they passed Miller who was hitchhiking. They said Miss Ziegler told them she was not afraid of the youth and would drop them off at their homes and go back and pick him up. The Miller youth resided only a short distance from the Ziegler residence.

Mr. Mason lauded officers for their prompt and efficient police work since the victim's body was discovered.

Police Probe Woman's Death

Her Body Found Sunday Morning On Garbage Dump Near Eckhart

A Pennsylvania girl who spent some time at her summer home on Deep Creek Lake, was found dead last Sunday, her throat slashed with a linoleum knife and her head smashed, on an old garbage dump road near Eckhart, Allegany county.

The girl was identified as Judy Lee Ziegler, 20, of route 1, Salisbury, Pa., who was employed in the IBM department at the Kelly Springfield Tire company.

The investigation of many angles was being pressed by the State's Attorney and other authorities.

The girl had spent time Saturday picking out her wedding clothes. Her engagement was announced last month and she was to have married Donald Eugene Crowe, Beall High graduate, in November.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon with Rev. Frank Johnson, pastor of Emmanual Methodist church, route 40, in this county, officiating. Interment was in Hillcrest Burial Park.

Authorities said the victim, clad in a checkered blouse and capri-type slacks, apparently had not been sexually molested. State police were called early Sunday morning by Mrs. Annie Robinson of Butternut Hollow, telling them she and her daughter had found a body in the woodland near their home. There was no identification of any kind on her person.

Mrs. Robinson told police she had heard loud cries or screams about 4 a. m. Sunday but did not investigate. She said the old Hoffman road is a kind of "lovers' lane".

The victim was identified by her father, Earl Herman Ziegler, employed at Valley Lumber company, Cumberland. When she did not return home Sunday he notified authorities in Pennsylvania.

The victim's automobile was found Sunday in a body of water near the Elk Lick Rod and Gun club, at Pocahontas, Pa., about five miles from her home.

The girl's car was found partially submerged behind a dam in a lake. A stick was wedged under the gas pedal.

Dr. Benj. Skitarelic stated that death was caused by lethal blows to the head. The victim also had been slashed across the back and her throat had been cut three times. The skull was shattered on the top of the head and fragment of bone penetrated into the brain.

Investigators disclosed the victim had accompanied three girls to the movies after shopping in Searstown during the afternoon. She took the girls to their home in Finzel and

Breaking, Entering Being Investigated

Two recent breaking and entering occurrences, were being investigated by authorities, with no arrests having been made up to the present time.

A door of the Bowling alley was forced on the night of the 30th of May, with a quantity of food being stolen.

The plant of the Sterling Processing company was burglarized about two weeks ago, with a quantity of tools valued at about $2,000 being stolen. County authorities are still working on the cases.

Youth Drowns; Search Continues

The search for the body of a sixteen - year - old Baltimore colored male youth attached to the Forestry Camp for Boys near Lonaconing, who drowned Tuesday at the Swallow Falls swimming area, is continuing today, authorities said.

Melvin Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warrenton Watson, slipped away from the grasp of his companions and disappeared into the swift and muddy waters.

Yesterday about 30 persons searched the Youghiogheny river from the Swallow Falls second falls area downstream and dragging operations were halted about 4 p. m.

The victim was on a holiday picnic with more than 20 other boys and four members of the camp staff when the drowning occurred.

Robert Wolford, superintendent of the Maryland Forestry Camps for Boys, said that the area had been used for many years as a swimming area and was considered fairly safe. He said the five youths with the Watson boy reported he had started to slip away from where they were perched on a rock near the limits of the area, and that when a couple of the boys grabbed him he seemed to panic and pushed them away, at the same time being sucked into the river's swift current.

Mr. Wolford described the Watson youth as a six-footer weighing about 170 pounds and said he was able to swim.

Searchers included men from the county sheriff's office, Maryland state police, some 20 boys from the Lonaconing camp; ten camp staff members, a group from the State Department of Forests and Parks unit at Swallow Falls, and members of the Oakland Volunteer Fire company.

Southern Graduation Will Require Tickets

Southern High School seniors will receive their diplomas at the June 1 graduation exercises at the conclusion of an address by Dr. Marguerite J. Fisher. Mrs. Frederick Thayer III, member of the Garrett County Board of Education, will present the diplomas.

Because of the growth of the school and the increasingly large number of people desiring to attend the ceremonies, a closed-graduation will be held this year. Admittance to the graduation ceremonies will be by ticket only.

Each of the 186 seniors has been given six tickets to be used by relatives and friends. The 1116 ticket holders plus the members of the chorus who provide the music and the school officials who must attend will fill the gymnasium to capacity.

Seniors not needing all of their six tickets are urged to share with other seniors who would like to have more tickets.

Parents and friends attending the ceremonies are to be seated in the gymnasium by 7:45 p. m. At that time the seniors will be at the entrance preparing to enter.

The cooperation of everyone is requested so that all those attending will be seated before the processional.

Highlanders Take County Title 11-1

Southern High school copped the Garrett County championship yesterday with its second victory of the season over Northern High 11 to 1, on the Northern High school diamond.

Bill Martin, who gave up all four Northern hits in his three-inning tenure, picked up the victory, his second over the Huskies. Gary Bosley pitched hitless ball over the remaining four innings for Southern.

The two big blows for the Highlanders were the only extra-base hits of the game. Van Evans rapped a run-producing triple in the third inning and Rob Sharps hammered a double scoring a run during the six-run fifth inning.

Southern scored four in the first inning to take a lead which they never relinquished. The Highlanders were aided by ten Husky errors.

Jesse Thomas started and was tagged with the loss, going five innings, yielding five hits and all of Southern's scoring. Gary Reichenbecher hurled the final two frames, surrendering two hits in each of them. Sharps had a total of three hits for the winners, while Evans and Jerry Fike chipped in with two apiece.

It was the tenth victory of the year for Southern against a single defeat, that coming May 4 at the hands of Keyser, 4-1. Northern has a 3-7 overall record.

Playing for Southern were Dettmer, Speicher, Bosley, Finen, Sharps, Fike, Kitzmiller, Martin and Evans. Playing for Northern were Lowdermilk, Hetz, Thomas, Reichenbecher, Teets, Sisler, Hunter, George, Brenneman, Layman, Bach and Stanton.

Senior Dinner Held

The cafeteria staff of Northern High honored the members of the graduating class with a special dinner last Thursday at 1:00. It was the seniors' last full day of school. The meal for the occasion was completed with pie and a special cake decorated by the staff.

Tug-Of-War Held

Thursday's lunch period proved to be a break in monotony for anyone who paid 10 cents and ventured outside. Both lunch shifts were entertained with an old-fashioned tug-of-war in a muddy ditch the boys have been working on for several days behind the school. It was sponsored by the Auto Mechanics boys and several of them really hammed it up. Some of the features were exhibitions of wrestling, a showing of brotherly love by Raymond and Roger Winebrenner, and just slopping around in general. The "show" ended when Paul Dixon, the Auto Mechanics teacher, was dumped into the mud by some of his students.

Last Club Period Held

The last regular club period was held on Friday. At this time, due to lack of student interest, it was decided there would not be a Future Business Leaders of America club next year at Northern. The Nike Club, which holds it meetings after school, will replace the FBLA.

Next year's Pep Club officers have been elected. They are Janice DeWitt, president; Juanita Humberson, vice-president; Mary Humberson, secretary; and Shirley Resh, treasurer. The Club's picnic was held Monday in the school cafeteria, due to rain.

the circumstances under which our comrades have laid down their lives are not natural ones. The circumstances were not of their choosing. The occasion of the holocausts, which we all know so well, were brought about because of the selfishness of man.

"Yet, because our comrades in arms have laid down all they possessed of their young lives, we pay homage to them today and to the ideals for which they stood.

"Nothing is so disheartening as a lonely struggle. And nothing is so depressing as a struggle without a cause of an objective. When this man whom we honor today, a warrior known only to God, a symbol of all the millions of men who have given up their lives in their several generations that we might live in freedom, fought and bled and died, he did so knowing that he was not fighting a lonely battle, nor that he was fighting without a cause. Knowing these things gave him and those who preceded him, as well as those who followed him, strength and courage to give himself for a cause well known.

"Perhaps the issues of our day become clouded by many doubts and uncertainties. Perhaps we have failed to let our children know the real issues that face us as individuals and as a nation, whether it be in the cause of peace or in the cause of war. There are those person who tell us that we have failed those who are to follow after us; that we have not done the job of keeping the peace well.

"Perhaps they are right. But are they completely right? Have we learned our own lessons? How much home-work have we done? How much teaching have we passed on to those of the generations that would follow us?

"Had our comrade who lies here in God's holy ground thought for one moment that the nation he loved so well was not giving him moral and spiritual strength and comfort; should our nearly half-million men now committed to the struggle for freedom in South Vietnam believe for one moment that there are those in the MAJORITY who do not care for them or for the cause for which they are sweating, bleeding and dying; if they cannot see us standing here as well as tens of thousands of others on similar ground to honor ALL men who have dedicated their lives to the freedoms which are a part of this great nation; then this man, and all men have died in vain.

"From the days of the French and Indian wars, through the struggle for freedom from a tyrannical nation in the War for Independence; through the War Between the States; the Spanish American War; the First and Second World Wars; the Korean conflict; and now the war to wrest the underprivileged nations of Southeast Asia from the aggressor; men have lived and fought and died. We are not here to glorify war, for as General Sherman said one hundred years ago, 'War is hell!' We are not here to glorify he uniform their men have worn so gallantly, proudly and with valor. We have instead come to give thanks to God for the blessed privilege of being able to fight the good fight with all our might, against sin, the world and the devil, and to continue as Christ's faithful soldiers and servants unto our life's end.

"May the soul of this servant of God and of his fellow men, a symbol of all that is right, rest in peace, and may the light of Christ continue to shine upon him and upon his comrades both living and dead".

The rector concluded with the well known poem, "The Blue and the Gray", by Francis Miles Finch.

Graves of servicemen, Knights of Pythias, and many individuals, were then decorated with flowers and markers. Legion posts throughtout the county held special services at various cemeteries during the day. There were parades in several of the towns of the county.

Our Men In Vietnam

As the nation pauses this week to observe Memorial Day, we will be thinking both of the brave Americans who gave their lives for the cause of liberty in past wars, and the equally brave men and women who are daily risking their lives for the same cause in Vietnam.

This week I would like to share with you reports about three Western Maryland servicemen which typify the hard work being done, the risks being taken, and the sacrifices being borne by all of our troops. The experiences and contributions of these three Sixth District men are fine examples of the dedication, courage and commitment shown by each of the Marylanders now on the battle lines in Southeast Asia.

Major Daniel E. Wright, Jr., a Frederick County native, is currently making great contributions not only to improving American marksmanship on the front lines, but also to modernizing Marine training methods in general. For the past two months Major Wright, as a training officer for the First Marine Division, has been conducting "sniper schools" for riflemen near Da Nang. Begun in an effort to counteract Veit Cong sniping, the training courses have proven extremely useful. Major Wright's students, using the most modern rifles and telescopic sights, have learned to hit targets at distances of more than 1000 yards — well over half a mile. His methods, adapted from competitive marksmanship training may help to improve Marine rifle training in general, and thus will have results far beyond the immediate increase in First Division effectiveness.

Another example of Maryland ability is Spec. Richard Friend, a 20-year old soldier from Garrett County whose exploits last week have been widely reported. Spec. Friend, a bulldozer driver, was riding in a jeep near Saigon when his convoy was caught in a fierce ambush. Unarmed except for a hunting knife brought with him from Maryland, this young soldier — who had only been in Vietnam since March — was thrown from the jeep, and began scrambling along the road under fire toward an armored carrier about 300 yards away. As he neared the carrier, he saw a Viet Cong preparing to attack the vehicle with a high explosive. Catching up with the enemy, Spec. Friend dispatched him with his knife, thus saving the carrier, the men inside, and a number of wounded Americans who were subsequently taken to safety in the heavy carrier. For his bravery under extremely dangerous circumstances, Spec. Friend has been nominated for a high decoration.

Finally, I would like to share with you the inspiring story of Cpl. Reuben Darby, III, a Marine from Washington County. A month ago, while on patrol with a unit of the Third Marine Division, Cpl. Darby was severely wounded and lost one foot. Rescued by helicopter, he was taken to a base hospital, then to a distribution center, and then rushed to a naval hospital in the States. His parents have praised the consideration and superb efficiency of the Marine and the Naval Medical Corps in treating their son, and have told me that the Marines, despite the scope of their operations and the grave strains under which work must be done, kept the Darby family fully advised on the condition and whereabouts of the Corporal. Further, they have told me that Cpl. Darby, despite his grave injury, feels that his sacrifice was fully worthwhile, and in fact is seriously considering continuing his military service voluntarily. To me, there is no better tribute to the humanity and dedication of the men at all levels of our Armed services.

So on this Memorial Day, while we express our heartfelt hopes for peace in Vietnam and other troubled regions of the world, we can also be proud of the fine men of Maryland and all the states who, in the turmoil and terror of war, are serving their country and their fellow Americans so well.

Rough Draft of Constitution Is Made Public

With less than three weeks remaining before election of delegates to Maryland's Constitutional Convention, the commission which laid the groundwork for the convention has given the public a look at a rough draft.

The interim report, issued Saturday, includes the draft of a new constitution and commentary on the proposals.

H. Vernon Eney, chairman of the commission which made the report, said he expected a complete report by the end of this month with three more volumes of draft and commentary to be published this summer.

Eney said the publication delay was due to changes made in the language of the rough draft and preparation of the commentary — which he said gave meaning to the rough draft.

By the time the interim report was published, however, most of the major proposals had been before the public in newspaper stories.

Among the more interesting are:

—Commentary showing that the commission approved by a narrow 13-12 margin recommendation for a two-house General Assembly. Therefore language for both a bicameral and a unicameral or one-house legislature has been drawn up.

—Allowing the General Assembly to decide whether or not the state comptroller and attorney general should be elected or appointed and establishing election of a lieutenant governor. The lieutenant governor would be next in succession to the governorship.

—Establishment of a new four-level court system, with the Court of Appeals becoming the Supreme Court and the Court of Special Appeals the Appellate Court. A Superior Court would be uniform throughout the state with at least one judge in every county, while District Courts would take in more than one county and have limited jurisdiction.

—Requirements of every county to adopt a form of home rule with power to enact all its own laws except any specifically withheld by the legislature, and provision for establishment of a regional governing body for more than one county.

Two-Run Homer Wins for Northern

Jesse Thomas' two-run homer with two outs in the bottom of the seventh inning last Thursday helped bring the Huskies back from a five-run deficit going into the inning and gave his team a thrilling 8-7 victory over Rockwood, Pa., at Northern.

Thomas' circuit clout came with Bach on third base, who had tripled in two runs just prior to the game-winning homer. Northern was behind 6-0 as Eddie Reichenbecher was battered for four hits and had numerous errors behind him as Rockwood jumped off to what appeared to be a runaway.

But the Huskies came back with single runs in the fifth and sixth before erupting for their six-run rally in the seventh. Thomas, who came on for Reichenbecher in the fifth, pitched two-hit ball the rest of the way, allowing only a sngle tally in the Rockwood seventh. Thomas also ripped a two-bagger for the Huskies as did Sisler.

Do you earn too much to afford one?

For many people the Volkswagen would be an ideal car. Except for one thing.

It doesn't cost enough.

They're afraid nobody will realize they have any money, if it doesn't show in their car. In other words, they buy their car for other people. Not themselves.

Then there are those who earn enough to buy a much better car than the VW. But they don't. Because they can't find one.

For them the best car is one that's simply comfortable and economical. One they don't have to worry about. That doesn't make many stops for gas. And rarely needs repairs.

A car where the rare repairs don't cost a lot. A car where the car doesn't cost a lot.

They feel they can afford to save money with a Volkswagen.

Now next time you see somebody driving a VW don't feel sorry for him.

Who knows? Someday the bank might use his money to give you a new car loan.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

In appearances before the Congress and the American Newspaper Publishers Association Gen. William C. Westmoreland appeared as vigorous and dynamic as he is on the battlefields of South Vietnam. Indeed in every way the Westmoreland appearances on the home front had a tonic effect on the nation.

Sometimes the Johnson administration is said to suffer from a "credibility gap". But there was no question of disbelieving Gen. Westmoreland when he reported on the fighting spirit of American servicemen or when he spelled out their concern about defeatism among a small but articulate group in the USA.

The general was frank to say that the fighting men in Vietnam are deeply disturbed about "the unpatriotic acts" of demonstrators against the struggle in the Far East. The soldiers, sailors, airmen, marines and coast guardsmen on duty in Southeast Asia are risking their lives while a minority of kooks wave placards, insisting that the United States withdraw before the forces of communism.

More to be condemned, perhaps, is the small congressional faction, typified by Senators J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark), Robert F. Kennedy (D-NY) and Charles Percy (R-Ill) who are making careers of being "doves". These men, holding important posts in the legislative branch, surely must know that their dove-like sounds give aid and comfort to the enemy. As Gen. Westmoreland pointed out in his speech to the publishers, the North Vietnamese communists can't win the military battle, but they hope to win in the world arena.

It is no wonder, however, that the Congress and the people are impressed with Gen. Westmoreland. What a contrast he presents with Senators Fulbright, Kennedy, Percy and other defeatists.

Everything about the general suggested the "win" philosophy which always has been characteristic of the American people. He didn't come before the Congress with any easy promises, but with realistic description of the requirements of victory in a protracted struggle with communism. The general proved to be the very embodiment of determination and resolution, of sober analysis and intelligent confidence in the capacity of the United States to triuumph over the enemies of freedom. Gen. Westmoreland represents, in other words, all the zeal and energy and honesty that so many Americans long for in their national leadership and which they have so often been denied in recent years.

The general's forthright appearance before Congress, which was interrupted 19 times by rousing applause, gives hope that the military professionals, who were muzzled by the Kennedy administration, at long last are being unmuzzled.

Certainly, it is refreshing to hear words of leadership — words of challenge — from a leader who not only plans but bears responsibility for action on one of the supreme testing grounds of life — the battlefield. And hearing Gen. Westmoreland speak, many Americans no doubt thought of the upstart "whiz kids" of the Kennedy administration who once usurped authority in the Pentagon. Today, however, as the nation engages in real warfare, the job at hand takes men, not "whiz kids". Courage and honesty become more important than a Ph. D. in data-processing.

Among the important observations made by Gen. Westmoreland was the remark that the men fighting in Vietnam one day will return to leadership in this country. Indeed they will, and this is a bright promise. After each war in which the U. S. has engaged, the veterans have played an immense and constructive leadership role. The Vietnam veterans are badly needed to give the nation the dynamism characteristic of Gen. Westmoreland and to counter the pernicious effects of the beardies and weardies who are bent on plunging this country into anarchy and social revolutuion.

Truly, the Vietnam veterans are the hope of America.

from

Question

Just out of curiosity, how many prescriptions does the average person in this country have filled each year?

Answer

The A. C. Neilsen research organization made a study of this subject recently, and its report showed the average American having almost five prescriptions filled each year . . . the exact average being 4.8 percent prescriptions per person. The Neilson report went on to extend this present figure into the future, taking for granted the huge population increase expected along with the growing effectiveness of new drug discoveries. By the mid 1970s they estimated that this figure will rise, and the average person will be using between seven and eight prescriptions each year.

Appointments At Mt. Storm Listed

The Virginia Electric and Power Company today announced three appointments at its Mt. Storm Power Station, Mt. and Oakland, 176.

Dr. Jones said the crash program was only to stimulate more interest in the vaccine. The vaccine has been given by the health department since March of 1965 and has been a continuing program and will continue to be a continuing program, he pointed out. The latest immunizations should give the county a degree of protection which, while not protecting all individuals, will prevent the occurrence of an epidemic, he said.

Parents are still being urged to have their infants immunized as soon after their first birthday as possible. Immunizations will continue to be free in health department clinics for persons eligible.

made. Why sentence a man to four years, if he is out in less than two? The entire set-up has a tendency to frustrate law enforcement officers who, in desperation say "Wat's the use". It makes a mockery of a jury's decision. How long will such practices continue before citizens will rise up in righteous anger, and demand a change?

We deeply deplore our present inadequacies.

Special Election Notice Is Given

Residents are being notified officially this week of the approaching special election by the Board of Supervisors of Elections in an advertising notice being published this week.

The special election will be held Tuesday, June 13, and polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m., in the twenty voting precincts.

The usual facsimile of the ballot, normally appearing in The Republican on the Thursday before election, will not appear this year due to an order of the Board of Supervisors, claiming it is not necessary.

Citizens will be voting on their choice of representative to the constitutional convention. The two candidates are William W. Grant, Oakland, and Ralph Beachley, Friendsville.

Citizens also will have the opportunity to express their wishes in regard to a community college. The results of this will not bind the Commissioners, but will be an indication of how the people stand in regard to whether or not they would favor its construction and the set up of machinery to operate a junior college at McHenry, which would provide an additional two years of schooling at nominal cost to the student.

Your Federal Income Tax

The Republican, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, Baltimore District, will publish each week in this column, tax information that will enable taxpayers to become more familiar with the Federal income tax laws. CLIP AND SAVE FOR REFERENCE.

Questions and Answers

Q. A fellow in my car pool filed his return after I did but he has already gotten his refund. How can I find out what happened to mine?

A. You should soon receive your refund or a letter explaining why you have not received it. An inquiry to our offices about the refund now would not speed things up but only add to the workload of employees processing refunds.

There are a number of reasons why one particular refund claim might receive faster processing than another. Mistakes on a return, information omitted, or the selection of the return for audit before the refund is issued are common reasons for refund delays.

Q. Some travel and entertainment expenses I claimed are being questioned. What records do I need to back them up?

A. Your records should establish the amount, the time and place and the business purpose of the expense. You should also be able to show your business relationship to persons being entertained.

A current dairy, one in which entries are made close to the time expenses are incurred, supported by items such as cancelled checks, receipts and paid bills should be maintained to substantiate travel entertainment deductions.

Q. I just moved and have a question about my return. Who should I contact, my present district director or the one in my old office?

A. Contact the district office serving you now. To help IRS identify your return, be sure to give your Social Security number, former address, and the district where the return was filed.

Q. Even with graduated withholding and claiming no exemptions I still had tax to pay when I filed. Can I increase my withholding even further?

A. Yes. File a new withholding certificate—Form W-4—with your employer indicating the additional amount you would like withheld from your paycheck.

Q. On a second job, is there any way you can get them to stop taking out for Social Security? My main job takes care of that with plenty to spare.

A. The law requires each employer to withhold Social Security tax on the first $6,600 of wages paid each employee. At year-end, a credit may be taken against income tax for any excess withheld due to having more than one employer.

Q. Is there any way you can buy bonds for a child and avoid having to pay tax on the interest yourself?

A. Yes, have the bonds issued solely in the child's name or in his name with your name as beneficiary. Then the interest earned on the bonds should be reported as income by the child.

May Buy Golden Eagle Passports

In co-operation with the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, Department of Interior, the ASCS Office is offering for public sale annual permits to Federal recreation areas, according to an announcement by Darrell Martin, Chairman of the County ASC Committee.

Called the Golden Eagle Passport, the 1967 permit is a wallet-sized plastic identification card costing $7. Each buyer gets free a Golden Eagle lapel pin and a directory of all Federal recreation areas requiring admission fees. It admits the holder and all passengers in a private non-commercial vehicle to more than 2,500 Federal parks, forests, monuments, wildlife refuges, and other Federal recreation areas charging fees for admittance by automobile. There is no limit on the number of times it may be used.

In addition, the purchaser—who travels by a commercial bus or walks into Federal recreation areas, Federal monuments or other historic Federal buildings that charge admission fees, will be admitted by the annual permit.

Mr. Martin said the money from the sale of the Passports and other Federal recreation fees goes into the Land and Water Conservation Fund. This helps provide more local, State, and National outdoor recreation opportunities. Congress appropriated a total of $158 million from the Fund for use by the States during the three fiscal years 1965, 1966 and 1967.

Interested persons may contact the ASCS Office on South Third Street, Oakland.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing

A Tale Of Two Cities

If anyone doubts the danger of civil disobedience and planned disorder in the United States, he has only to examine recent tragic events and situations in Nashville, Tenn., and Rochester, N. Y. In both cities —great progressive communities which are the pride of their states — so-called "civil rights" advocates have created terrible havoc.

Nashville suffered the worst of the trouble in early April when "black power" advocate Stokely Carmichael was invited to speak at Vanderbilt University. Following his inflammatory talk, this Tennessee city—a center of educational activity —was torn by riots. In the words of the press, "Roaring marauders, many of them screaming 'black power', struck through a 30-block area, shooting, looting, destroying cars and trucks and setting fire to stores with flaming Molotov cocktails".

Great as was the tragedy that hit Nashville, the greatest tragedy is that of the mental attitude which was responsible for Carmichael's visit to the Vanderbilt campus. The visit, approved by Chancellor Alexander Heard, supposedly was in the interest of "free expression". But what university, what city or state in America, needs free expression in the form of Molotov cocktails? Those who invite the Stokely Carmichaels of our day, and those who approve their visits to respectable places, may foolishly imagine that they are implementing a constitutional guarantee of free speech. If this is their idea, then they have indulged in the most tortured logic — logic unworthy of men who profess to be educators and leaders of public opinion.

The Stokley Carmichaels of this country don't have a monopoly on civil rights. The average, law-abiding citizens of Nashville and other communities have a right to live in a community free of rampaging mobs and student arsonists.

It is time that those who administer colleges and universities bear in mind the right of the law-respecting majority. It is time that colleges and universities refrain from operating as privileged sanctuaries for every would-be terrorist of American society.

As for Stokely Carmichael, there is some question as to whether he is an American citizen. Yet he has abused this country, its laws, flag and public decencies. Americans can only ask, if he is not a citizen why hasn't he been deported to his native Trinidad? If he is a citizen why hasn't he been arrested for treason? "To hell with the laws of the United States", said Carmichael recently. Refuse to serve in Viet Nam, he thundered at the Negro students; and they roared back with the new litany of the civil righters, "Hell no, won't go"... .."Hell no, won't go". Who is Stokely Carmichael's powerful friend in Washington who is protecting him against either deportation or arrest for treason?

Even as Nashville suffered riots, Rochester, N. Y., has suffered the arrogance and pressure tactics of FIGHT (Freedom, Integration, God, Honor—Today) a radical community action group. For months FIGHT (established with funds provided by the Rochester Council of Churches) has been trying to intimidate the Eastman Kodak Co., one of the nation's most respected and enlightened companies. It has been trying to force Kodak to accept FIGHT as the exclusive recruiting agent for unskilled persons who will be trained by the company.

FIGHT imported Stokely Carmichael to address a rally in Rochester. Carmichael told the rally: "We have been looking for a fight against a big company, and you've got everything we want". What FIGHT had in mind is plain enough. A leader of the organization says that it plans "guerrilla warfare" against Kodak. It also plans to hound Kodak's officials and to create disorder at the company's annual meeting. Despite the campaign of harassment against this and other highly respected companies, church groups continue to give financial and other assistance to FIGHT. According to the New York Times, the presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church has withheld proxy votes from the Kodak board on stock owned by the church. This action was taken to protest Kodak's failure to enter into an agreement with FIGHT.

In Rochester, then, is found an example of the intimidation campaign which radical groups plan to use against American corporations. Both the mass riots and the selective intimidation are equally shameful. The American people should wake up to this ugly war — a war waged from within by people who want to break down our free society.

Moving Camporee Is Well Attended

A total of 580 boys and leaders from 39 units attended the third annual "Moving" Camporee of Potomac Council Boy Scouts of America, over the week-end, along the C & O Canal.

Ross O. Decker, council camping and activities chairman, said representatives from all districts in Allegany and Garrett counties of Maryland, and Mineral, Hampshire, Hardy and Grant counties of West Virginia attended.

The Scouts camped at Green Ridge Station Friday night and after breakfast Saturday morning, they hiked approximately eleven miles to the Cardinal club along the historic C & O canal, carrying all gear.

Mr. Decker said other than tired shoulders and aching feet, the scouts completed the hike in good shape. A few of them needed a lift with their packs at the end of the hike, but only one requested a ride from the National Park Service jeeps which were patrolling the canal in case assistance was needed.

The group made camp Saturday night on the grounds of the Cardnial club. The Ahtuhquog Lodge, Order of the Arrow, conducted tapping out ceremonies at the Saturday night campfire, at which Robert W. Bell, chief ranger, C & O Canal National Monument, Hagerstown, discussed the historical background of the famous canal. All persons participating in the camporee received a special historical trail patch developed for scouting units covering a portion of the trail on foot, bicycle or canoe. A number of local units are planning additional trips on the canal in order to earn further segments of the patch. A medal is available for those who complete the entire 184 miles from Cumberland to Washington. A complete trail guide of the canal has also been developed by the five cooperating scout councils which will be available early in June.

Rev. W. W. Patterson, retired Methodist minister, LaVale, and Rev. James V. Hobbs, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, Cumberland, conducted services Sunday morning.

Local Items Of Long Ago

From long-forgotten files of THE REPUBLICAN, Captain James A. Hayden, Editor, we quote some items which may bring a nostalgic recollection to an elder reader here and there. Those of our younger readers who pause for a moment in the course of the hectic life of the present for a glance towards the past, may be interested by mention of some incident involving an ancestor or an old friend of the family.

Under date of July 20, 1916 the "Forty Years Ago" column noted that General William Tecumseh Sherman was a visitor at the Deer Park Hotel. "Where he and General Grant met and fraternized".

The Oakland Hotel, then "A new hostelry for the accommodation of summer visitors, reported one hundred arrivals".

"Marian McKimmey had a fight with a mother bear and her two cubs at Fairfax Stone, Garrett County. The mother bear ran away when two shots struck her and Mr. McKimmey took the cubs to his home".

On January 7, 1882 The Republican stated that "The Baltimore and Ohio has a large force of hands engaged in construction of a dam across the Little Yough River between Oakland and Deer Park, for the purpose of forming a lake from which the Company hopes to get ice for its hotels". (Editor's note:—This dam extended across the Little Yough valley, from a point east of the former Mountain Lake Helper Station, to what is known as the Garrett Road opposite the Railroad. Water was backed up for perhaps half a mile, and in winter a great deal of ice was cut from the resulting Lake Yough and shipped in boxcars to various points for use in the Baltimore and Ohio hotels. However, following the typhoid epidemic of 1893 which resulted in a number of deaths in the Deer Park—Mountain Lake area, the use of this ice was discontinued and the Lake was drained. The remains of the dam still may be seen today.)

The same issue reported that the Mountain Lake Park Association had contructed a temporary dam across Broad Ford Run on the Association's grounds, with the expectation of securing ice for use next season. It also was constructing an icehouse with a capacity of about 400 tons. (Editor's note:—This dam evidently was extended later, for as far back as the Editor can recall, the Deer Park-Oakland road ran across the breast of the dam. Near the center of the causeway was a small bridge under which ran the overflow from Broad Ford Run. This dirt road was abandoned about 1935 when the present Route 135 was built some distance south of the old road. The icehouse mentioned, which burned down one summer day many years ago while full of ice, stood near the east end of the dam and was served by an extension of the existing Baltimore and Ohio siding over which boxcar loads of ice were shipped in winter. Also along this siding, and just below the old road, stood the little electric light plant which furnished electricity for the community until the coming of the interstate high tension line years ago.)

In July, 1882 The Republican recalled that in "The Year Without a Summer - 1816" cattle froze in the northeastern and middle states in the month of June, and Maine and Vermont had 10 inches of snow. July was wintry and icy, and August was the same. September was a little warmer, but then came bitter cold weather until the end of the year. The following year, 1817, was fine, with a productive season". No mention was made of the effects of the cold year in this area.

About this time a telegraph line was run from the Lake View Planing Mill, via Mountain Lake Park, to the office of Thomas J. Peddicord and H. Wheeler Combs. (Editor's note:—Was the Lake View Planing Mill the one operated for many years by the Rathbun family at Mountain Lake Park? Messrs. Peddicord and Combs were well known Oakland attorneys of that period. Mrs. Eleanor Helbig, Mrs. Edwana Rook and Mrs. Ara Rebecca Hinebaugh, all of Oakland, are granddaughters of Mr. Peddicord.)

An item of interest of fishermen was to the effect that Lieutenant D. M. Mason "Last week caught a salmon trout in the Yough near Oakland. It was a beauty, and the first fish of that type ever caught in the Yough." Mr. Mason was the Agent of the Baltimore and Ohio at Oakland for years. He had been a Sergeant in the Confederate Army and at the time mentioned (1882) was a Lieutenant in the Garrett Guards, crack local militia unit of the 1880's, and 1890's, which enjoyed an enviable reputation for marksmanship.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President—National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

The clique of Presidential foreign policy advisors who are promoting the idea that Soviet Communism has changed, that it can now be trusted and that the United States should aid it with trade and treaties and favors of all kinds have a word: "Detente". They say 'detente' now exists between the Soviet Communist Dictators and the American President. It is not an English word, but our digging through foreign dictionaries establishes it as French, and meaning "lessening of tension and conflict" between nations.

The Presidential advisors use it to describe "a warming up, in a friendly way" of the Soviet attitude toward America. The word wasn't used but the same thought was present back in 1933 when Stalin was "warming up" to Roosevelt and the U. S. granted diplomatic recognition to the brutal dictatorship in the Kremlin; nor when President Truman called him "Good Old Joe"; nor when President Eisenhower gave Dictator Khrushchev world-wide respectability in a White House embrace; nor when President Kennedy brought to his own children in his Virginia home the warming presence of Kremlin officialdom.

Stalin's agreement with Roosevelt in 1933 was "warm and friendly" and was followed by the spread of Communist subversion into every nation on earth and a fantastic expansion of Communism's aggressive world power. Truman's "Good Old Joe" took the U. S. and its Western allies, following World War II, Poland, Eastern Europe, Czechoslovakia, China, and North Korea — to mention just a few major Red advances. Following his "warming up" social whirl in the White House with Eisenhower, Khrushchev engineered the monstrous killing off of the freedom uprising in Red Hungary and put Castro in power in Cuba (with indispensable U. S. help).

And after Kennedy's friendly fraternizing with Kremlin family personalties, Khurshchev, under the eyes of his American "friends", sneaked ballistic missiles with nuclear war-heads onto the plains of Cuba fronting the U.S.A., just 9 miles from Key West, Florida (and some reliable sources say "friendly negotiations" resulted in some of these deadly missiles remaining in mountainous caves in Cuban uplands).

The entire period of Soviet advancement along their unchanging road to world conquest has been noteworthy for the "gulling" (Webster: "deceiving") of diplomats and heads of state with the outstretched Kremlin hand of friendship. Said Senator Thomas Dodd, member of the Internal Securities Subcommittee:

"They (the 'detente' promoters in our State and Defense Departments and the White House) tell us that the Soviet leaders are bound to be influenced if we can persuade them that we seek understanding and accommodation, even at the cost of making a few concessions. I say that this argument, too, is false. The many lessons of recent history demonstrate how futile it is to seek to reform totalitarian regimes by being nice to them, by making concessions to them, or by seeking to appease them. This approach has invariably led to disaster."

And this exchange of un-warming facts between Senators Dodd and Strom Thurmond:

THURMOND: "Is it not true that the Soviets are supplying aid of every kind to North Vietnam and that 80 per cent of that aid goes in Soviet ships by sea and about 20 per cent goes by rail or plane across China? And is it not true that in 1966 the United States suffered 35,000 casualities in Vietnam, and that for the first six weeks of 1967 casualities were running 1,000 a week—50,000 a year?"

DODD: "Yes".

A Country Doctor Has A Busy Evening

In these days when no prospective mother in Garrett County would consider giving birth to her baby except in a hospital; when even the most minor injury results in a hurried trip to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital from almost anywhere in the County, a yellowed clipping from a local newspaper, dated August 21, 1947, tells a story which is in startling contrast with conditions today. Dr. Edward E. Sollars came to Deer Park many years ago as a young doctor not long out of medical school, and for 40-odd years served much of the surrounding community for miles in every direction. He exemplified to a high degree those qualities always associated with the title "Country Doctor." Always available in time of need, regardless of weather, distance, road conditions or the fact that he knew many of his patients could be relied upon to forget completely about paying his nominal fee, for many years he made his calls on horseback. Later on he traveled by horse and buggy, and for the last few years of his career by automobile when road conditions permitted.

The clipping reads as follows:

"The day of the country doctor has not passed, nor will it pass in the years to come, but rather as time goes on will the nation be more convinced than ever that it takes 'many specialists' to make one good country doctor.

"Light was shed on this subject in a noble manner during and after the terrific storm of last Tuesday night when the little office of Dr. E. E. Sollars, in the village of Deer Park, was used by the Doctor under adverse conditions to care for the injured who needed medical attention.

"At an early period after the storm broke, light and power lines in Deer Park failed, thus throwing the doctor's office into complete darkness. 'Preparedness' having been the motto of the country doctor years before the Boy Scout movement came into existence was solely responsible for rays of light again to flow through the little office by the use of flashlight augmented by candles which are always on hand just for such emergencies.

"Shortly after a single candle had been lighted in the little office, Clyde Campbell, a resident of Deer Park, appeared at the office with Mrs. Grace Solomon, also of Deer Park, a daughter of Guy Gilson, who had been injured in an automobile wreck near the Baltimore and Ohio station at Mountain Lake Park. While an ambulance had been dispatched from Oakland for the injured woman, Campbell happened to come along, and recognizing the woman, took her in his car to Deer Park.

"Mrs. Solomon suffered painful injuries. Her mouth had been badly cut and many bruises were found on her body. Dr. Sollars dressed her wounds and while she was still resting in his little office, two more patients were brought in, making it necessary to move Mrs. Solomon to another room in the Doctor's home.

Lightning had sent two patients to the Doctor, and under the best of conditions a victim of a bolt of lightning presents a problem to any man, but apparently not too much for a seasoned 'Country Doctor,' who with his flashlight and candles relieved these two patients of their shock and went to work dressing their wounds.

"The victims were Mrs. Gussie Groves and niece, Dorothy, who lives in Virginia and was visiting her aunt. Mrs. Groves lives very close to the Sebold home which was completely destroyed by a tornado in June, 1944, and fearing a like storm on Tuesday night, she and her niece went to the cellar of the home. Lightning found its way to the cellar, however, and near where Mrs. Groves and her niece were huddled was a pump. From this pump, or to it, seemed to pass the bolt of fire which badly burned Mrs. Groves' left arm and pierced her left leg in two places. Dorothy, while not burned on the arm, suffered like punctures of the right leg. Both suffered great shock, having been rendered unconscious for a period of time. Also, in each case a terrific headache resulted from the shock.

"After the busy evening, and realizing the importance of light in his community, Dr. Sollars drove to Oakland to report the power failure at Deer Park, the telephones having been disabled by the storm. It takes 'many specialists' to make one good country doctor."

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Samuel VanSickle, who died June 5, 1966.
The one for whom we cared,
With such abiding love,
Has found the wondrous shining path
Up to his home above.
The home where joy forever dwells,
Where loved ones but await
For us to share their happiness
Beyond the heavenly gate.

Blocking The Track

A strike against a major segment of the nation's transportation system is not simply a strike against one or more companies. It is a strike against the American people who depend on public transportation for passenger service and movement of vital freight.

Last summer, the U. S. suffered a long, costly strike when union contempt for the public interest grounded more American domestic air carriers. The losses to business were tremendous, and the public was cruelly inconvenienced at the very time when most people are on the move.

Now comes the threat of a rail strike. Here again, the public would be the chief victim. For normal operation of the railroads is essential to the prosperity of this country.

Before the strike becomes a reality, it is imperative that the public opinion be made evident to the six railroad shop unions. They should be made to understand that the American people have had enough of union high-handedness.

The Chicago Daily News, commenting on the rail strike threat, recently said: "It should be evident that the only thing blocking a settlement has been union intransigence — supported by the administration's reluctance to act". Indeed the administration proposal is to set up a five-member study board that would mediate the dispute and put off the showdown until 1969. "This timetable", said Daily News, "would carry past the presidential election of 1968; the voters must not be distracted by a crippling rail strike in a campaign year — it might turn them against the administration".

So it might. The public might well be sickened by further tender solicitude, on the part of the White House, for the wants of the union bosses who have no hestitation in threatening a strike which injures the American people and which would seriously impede the nation's defense effort in Vietnam.

There has been altogether too much delay in arriving at a showdown on union tyranny. Union power has to be curbed. This is a basic public need and public issue. The American people must act decisively.

Consider what the printer's union in New York City did recently in the case of the World Journal Tribune. Seven hundred thousand New Yorkers bought the newspaper each day, but the paper was forced to stop the presses and close its doors. Two thousand six hundred men and women employed by the paper lost their jobs because the union was determined to make wage demands that the newspaper management could not possibly afford to meet.

Indeed the World Journal Tribune had been put together as a combination of three other dailies that had been virtually "done in" by the unions. The net result of the union activity in New York City is that the metropolis has only one afternoon daily newspaper, and that of an ultra-liberal character.

The union leaders, who wield this enormous power, also deprived the individual union members of their livelihood — a shocking, tragic, and outrageous record for a free country that prides itself on a free press. Obviously, the press can't be free where arrogant union leaders have the capacity to muzzle a newspaper by illogical economic demands.

The transportation industry also could be wrecked by irresponsible unionism. In the case of the railroads, they have had a long, uphill fight for modernization. Today's railroad managements, however, have attained remarkable success in weeding out 19th century work practices. They have developed giant new freight and tank cars, won new business (such as the movement of new automobiles on new tri-level cars), introduced "unit" trains that provide lost cost shipment for high volume service, and have prepared the rails for a brilliant new era in cargo and passenger service.

Today the U. S. railroads represent a $27 billion investment. Yet this investment could be severely injured if the railroad unions were allowed to return to the work practices of the steam locomotive era or if the unions insist on irresponsible demands, using a strike weapon as a train wrecker. The loser in such a situation would be all the people of the United States who benefit from modernizing of the country's basic transportation system.

Terms Co. Airport Essential To Area

Mr. George Hanst
The Republican
Oakland, Maryland
Dear Editor:

I would like you to print the following letter recently received from Capt. R. G. Alexander, regarding the Garrett County Airport, and the Deep Creek Lake area. This letter was addressed to me, instead of Mr. Adam Wagoner, manager of the airport. Upon talking to Mr. Wagoner, we decided the letter should be published for county residents to read.

Dear Sir:

I was overhead today on V44 and noticed the proximity of your Airport to Deep Creek Lake. I'd like to fly out with my son to try the fishing. Do you have any info on ground transportation, fishing license requirements, boat rentals, camping grounds, etc?

Would appreciate hearing from you. We base our Beech Debenaire at Montgomery County Airport, Gaithersburg, Maryland.

Thanks,
R. G. Alexander
Capt. U.S.N.

I sent Capt. Alexander a "Vacation Guide" along with the other information he requested. I might explain that V44 is Victor 44, an East, West airway crossing Northern Garrett County.

This is a good example of what the airport means to the county. Here is one man who is willing to spend money at the airport on landing and tie-down fees, and possibly gasoline. He needs ground transportation. He wants to purchase fishing licenses, and, no doubt, bait. He wants to rent a boat, and is interested in camping facilities. He will also need food. With one visit here, I know he will pass the information on to his flying buddies. I feel the airport is a great asset to the county and not a "White Elephant".

The county has seriously needed an adequate airport for quite some time. We all know that aviation is progressing at a rapid pace. There has been no place where a plane could safely land between Elkins, W. Va., and Connellsville, Pa., while flying North and South, and no place between Morgantown, W. Va., and Cumberland, Md., while flying East and West. My small strip at McHenry has served in this capacity to some extent in the past, but it is no longer adequae for the modern high performance aircraft of today. Many planes have landed here in the past due to weather. I, personally, know of five landings made at the county airport within the past year due to weather. It is questionable if these landings could have been made in just any field without either aircraft damage, or possibly loss of life. If the county airport saves one life in this respect, I figure the airport is paid for. What price can one put on a human life? Perhaps these "White Elephant" people have the answer.

There is a definite need at the airport for an extension to the runway, and a need for lights and hangars. The residents of the county should become aware of this. I am certain Mr. Wagoner would be interested in discussing the airport possibilities with any other interested person. Drive up to the airport some Sunday afternoon, but don't just turn around and drive away as I have seen many people do. Go in and talk to Mr. Wagoner and look over the Airport Register. It is interesting to learn who flys in, where they are flying from, and whether they are on business or flying for pleasure. I will wager that those people who refer to the airport as a "White Elephant" have no background or qualifications for making such a statement. May we hear from these people again?

Your truly,
Charles H. Bowman

Community Mental Health Centers Advanced

In the midst of headlines about the war in Vietnam, tensions in other parts of the world, and dramatic controversies at home, it is easy for us to overlook important signs of solid, but unspectacular, progress in many fields. One such sign is the action taken by the House last week, when we passed —unanimously — a bill to extend our present community mental health centers programs into the 1970's.

The combatting of mental illness is a challenge of national import. It has been estimated that one out of every ten Americans will spend some portion of his life in a mental institution or undergoing treatment. Fully half of the hospital beds in the country today are occupied by the mentally ill. Problems of mental health are as persistent as those of physical health, and Congress has accepted its obligation to help improve the quality and availability of essential services throughout the country.

The legislation extended by the House last week was first enacted in 1963 and expanded in 1965. It is based on relatively new and extremely promising concepts of treatment, which deemphasize static institutional care of the mentally ill, and emphasize instead dynamic preventive aid and treatment in each community. Instead of being isolated — in some cases, virtually imprisoned — in a lonely institution for years, many persons suffering from mental illnesses are now receiving help in community centers, near their families, their friends and their jobs.

In its first three years, the Community Mental Health Centers Act has provided Federal support for the construction and planning of approximately 286 public centers serving 47.2 million people. Some dramatic successes have been achieved. For example, patients who could have expected to spend 11 years in a state institution have been released to their homes in six months. Some patients suffering from disabilities which usually require a hospital term of 12 months have been able to go back to their homes and families in six weeks.

Much more remains to be done. A critical problem right now is the severe shortage of skilled manpower, which has hobbled progress at so many of our hospitals and health centers. This year's bill should help to ease the manpower strain, by providing aid for the initial staffing of new community mental health centers, with the amount of Federal support gradually decreasing as local, state and private sources assume more of the financial responsibilites involved.

At the end of December, 1966, there were 452,329 patients in public mental hospitals in the United States. The treatment provided in new community centers should make it unnecessary for thousands of men, women and children ever to be admitted to such hospitals in the future. The Mental Health Amendments of 1967 are thus a great step forward, and I trust that the Senate will follow the lead of the House in giving overwhelming approval to this legislation soon.

Larry is in seventh heaven. He got his baseball suit yesterday, and is finally a full-fledged member of the neighborhood team.

He is the youngest one in the lot, and certainly the smallest. But he packs a great deal of leadership ability in that half-pint frame. We had not lived in our neighborhood one month, before he was bat boy and unofficial mascot. In just a few short weeks, morale improved. Two of the boys nicknamed, "Loudmouth" and "Fatso" became "Speed" and "Lefty." The boys began to cooperate and play better as a team. They moved steadily upward in the league.

You can imagine what this did to our spirits. How proud we were, and yet humble too, for we knew we could not take complete credit for his sense of fair play. You see, he has been brought up in the Church as well as in our home. It's a wonderful feeling to realize that in such a few short years our son has shown the influence of Christian training.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

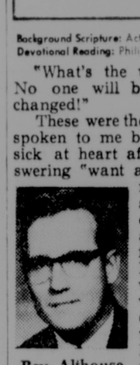
Can People Change?

Lesson for June 4, 1967

Background Scripture: Acts 9:1-31.
Devotional Reading: Philippians 3:3-11.

"What's the use of trying? No one will believe that I've changed!"

These were the hoepless words spoken to me by a young man sick at heart after days of answering "want ads" for employment. Every prospective employer gave him an application form; every application form wanted to know whether he had ever been in trouble with the law. Convinced that lying could no longer be a part of his life, he told the truth each time. Each time he was turned away with something roughly equivalent to: "Sorry, we can't use you."



Rev. Althouse

No Radical Change

Why would no one believe that he had changed? He was a good-looking boy; despite his history of arrests for various offenses, he had a "sincere face." His appearance was neat, clean, and he was courteous in his manner. If anything, his appearance should have encouraged trust and a willingness to take a risk on him.

Prospective employers would not believe he had changed because there is a basic suspicion that people cannot change radically. It is believed that there is something "fixed" about a person's character, something that remains ever the same. While small changes and minor growth may take place, these have few consequences.

What a strange opinion of human nature for those who count themselves as Christians. They tend to divide all people into the "good guys" and the "bad guys," these divisions remaining quite rigid and unchanging. In doing so, they forget that Jesus taught that all men have potentialities for both good and evil. No one is wholly good or wholly bad. None of us are doomed to be one or the other.

What God Can Do

Saul, once the passionate persecutor of Christ's followers, encountered this attitude after he had his life-changing experience on the Damascus Road. Taken to Damascus, Paul waited for God to make known his will for him. While he waited the news of his experience spread through the Christian community. One gets the impression that it was regarded largely with suspicion and outright rejection. "Nobody changes that much," seemed to be the general reaction from most people. Even later when he had been accepted by the Damascus church, the suspicion accompanied him to Jerusalem.

Once again in the Damascus Road experience of Saul we see how God can foil the opposition of men to his plans. Saul's persecution might easily have finished the early Church, but God used that danger to accomplish his purpose. Furthermore, when he encountered Saul on his way to Damascus, he accomplished three things in one: (1) raised up someone to take the place of the martyred Stephen; (2) enlisted Saul's talents for the kingdom instead of against it; and (3) ended the persecution against the Church. In other words, he gained an apostle, lost an enemy, and protected his Church.

Yet this might never have happened if someone in the Christian community had not been willing to believe that Saul the persecutor could become Paul the apostle. There was Stephen who prayed for him as Saul watched him die. There was Annanias, the fearful but obedient man who helped Saul begin a new life in Damascus. Finally, there was Barnabas who was willing to risk his own safety to claim a new recruit for the Way.

Unless We Believe

How can people change unless someone is willing to believe that they can change? How is conversion possible when we continue to doubt the power of God to transform a person's life? Why should we be willing to believe that Saul became Paul if we will not believe that the delinquent can become a useful citizen?

If you were willing, like Barnabas, Annanias, and Stephen, to take a chance on God's power to transform men, whom do you know that might become a new person in Jesus Christ?

DIVERTICULOSIS IS VERY COMMON

Very briefly, Diverticulosis is a condition where outpouchings, similar to the blisters caused by "stone bruises" on automobile tires, swell out along the intestines. Often they cause no bother. Many people have them with no problem.

Sometimes one or more of them becomes irritated and inflamed. An infection results which requires prompt medical attention. This is called Divirticulitis. Constant pain, often accompanied by nausea, vomiting, chills and fever are among symptoms. For any intestinal discomfort not promptly relieved a physician should be consulted. We can fill his prescriptions.

Control Approved On Water Quality

The Maryland Water Resources Commission has adopted stringent regulations setting quality standards for the Chesapeake Bay and all rivers and creeks in the state.

Commission members said the new rules would be sent to the U. S. Department of the Interior for consideration. They said the rules in some cases were also goals, since it may be years before pollution can be brought down to desired levels.

"It's important that we set the goals high", said Robert J. McLeod, member of the five-man board. "But these goals aren't going to be obtained immediately, and I think everybody should be made aware of that".

The regulations—to eventually control all use of public waters for industrial, recreational and drinking use—will go into effect June 30.

They were formulated after federal legislation was passed requiring states to set standards of water quality or have them imposed by the Department of the Interior.

If the rules should be rejected by the Interior Department the regulations would still be effective in the state.

The regulations set six water use classifications for rivers and creeks, including water contact recreation, shellfish harvesting and public water supply.

One of the objections to the regulation plan has come from persons who thought that streams designated for a particular purpose would automatically be used for that purpose.

Permits still would be required by persons planning to take water from streams or discharge waste into water.

Average Driver?

An insurance company has distributed figures to show who is better than average when it comes to driving, and who is the worst. The survey covered one and one-half million drivers in 40 states, relating auto accident rate to occupations.

Extension workers had the best record, financial proprietors, managers and officials, second, and aviators, third.

Farmers were fifth, professional and semi-professional, 6th; clerical workers, 9th; educators, 11th; retired persons, 13th; trainmen and bus drivers, 20th; housewives, 23rd; printing and allied industries, 24th; insurance, real estate agents, 25th; military personnel, 26th; law enforcement 31st; medical, 32nd; sale clerks, 33rd; truck drivers, 36th; nurses, 38th; auto salesmen, 39th; editors, reporters, photographers, 40th; service station, garage workers, 41st; churchmen and workers, 50th; legal profession, 51st; students, 60th; traveling salesmen, 62nd; unemployed, 64th.

This was just a part of the list.

Hearing Set on Assault Charge

A hearing was set for next Monday on a case involving a teacher and student.

The charge of assault and battery upon Roy Allen Hardesty by Grant Hardesty, was brought against Ray Victor McManis, an instructor at Southern High school. The student was alleged to have received a broken shoulder bone.

Sixteen Are Killed On State Highways

Last week sixteen persons lost their lives in Maryland traffic accidents. Four of the dead were drivers, seven were passengers, and five were pedestrians.

Although alcohol and speed played their usual part in death on the highway, the most outstanding thing about the accident experience of the last seven days was the loss of a large number of pedestrians. In this category, the very young and the very old were the pawns in a deadly game. It is true that these people are often not as careful as they should be, but this still does not relieve the driver of the necessity of exercising extreme caution, of driving defensively. The operator should always "expect the unexpected" and be prepared to take such evasive action as may be necessary to avoid striking a pedestrian.

"The high toll of pedestrians last week alarms me", said Lt. Col. George Davidson, Chief of Operations of the Maryland State Police, "and I take this opportunity to urge every motorist to use caution at all times to prevent such accidents from occurring. A small tot or an elderly person is certainly no match for a heavy, speeding motor vehicle".

Alcohol was present in three instances; speed in four; and driver error was present in twelve cases.

Southern Downs Elk Garden Again

Gary Bosley and Harvey Speicher drove in two runs each leading Southern to a 10-4 decision over Elk Garden last Thursday at Elk Garden.

The Highlanders behind Bob Finch, Jerry Fike and Bill Martin, scored two runs in the first inning, three in the second and four in the third in building up a 9-3 lead, then held on to keep the Stags in check the rest of the way.

Finch started for the winners and allowed Elk Garden only three runs, all in the second inning. Dunithan went the distance for the losers, allowing 14 hits and walking two. Dunithan also drive in two runs on two hits, including a double.

It was the second victory for Southern over Elk Garden in two days.

Gets Unusual Reception

Earl Glass, of Paradise Point, Deep Creek Lake, reported an unusual experience with his television set last Thursday evening while endeavoring to watch channel 3. He said his TV hadn't been very good that evening. Around 11:45 a TV station in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, identified itself with the call letters CIBRTV.

He said the audio and visual reception was good and they watched about half an hour before the station faded out. The language spoken was French and he recorded portions of it in an attempt to learn what was said. One thing he understood was a soap commercial. He thought perhaps the unusual occurence was due to activity of the Northern Lights.

Tuesday, June 13, will be legal holiday, when special election is to be held.

Cost of living increase was sharpest in six months, three tenths of one percent.

He entered a plea of not guilty but was found guilty and sentenced to six months in the House of Correction, by Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney. The sentence was suspended upon condition he makes restitution of the money or material. The amount involved was $1,200.

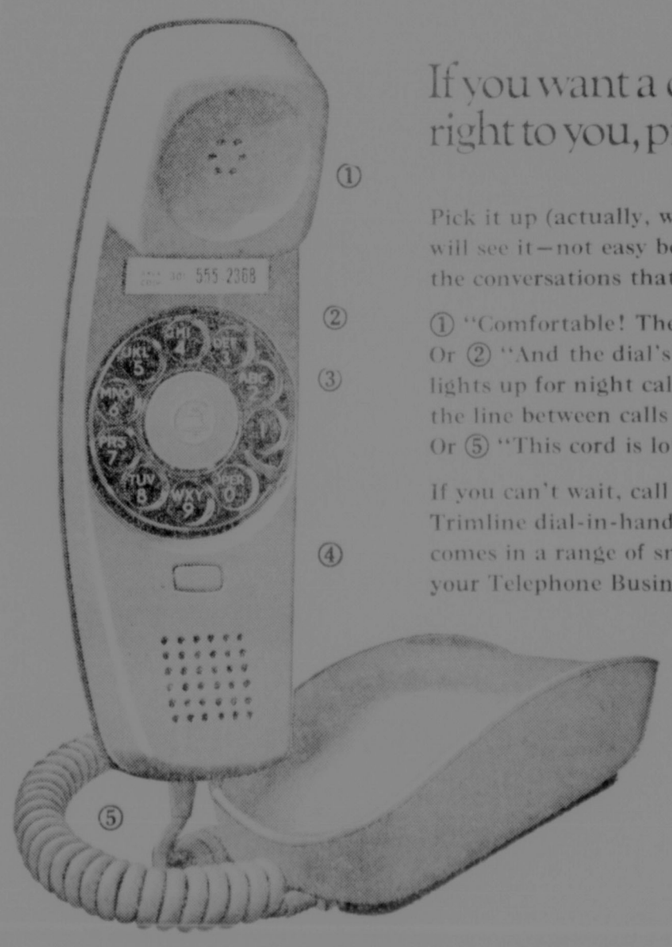
If you want a sculpture to admire, here's one.



If you want a conversation piece that comes right to you, pick up the Trimline® phone.

Pick it up (actually, we deliver it), place it where people will see it—not easy because it's so tiny and trim—and listen to the conversations that the Trimline® phone causes:

① "Comfortable! The whole phone cradles in the palm of your hand!" Or ② "And the dial's right here on the phone!" Or ③ "The dial lights up for night calling, too." Or ④ "The recall button clears the line between calls so you can dial again without hanging up." Or ⑤ "This cord is lots longer. You can really move around as you talk."

If you can't wait, call your Service Representative and order your Trimline dial-in-handset phone. The cost is only pennies a day. And it comes in a range of smart colors. If you think you can wait, stop by your Telephone Business Office. You may find, then, that you can't wait.

Wed May 20 In Richwood

Calvary Methodist Church, Richwood, W. Va., was the scene of the Saturday, May 20, open church wedding and reception of Miss Jeanne Ellen Brown and Mr. Larry Charles Allen of Charleston, W. Va. The Rev. Charles Rogers officiated and a musical program was presented by Mrs. D. G. Seacrist and Mr. Russell Marshall.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle B. Brown of Oakland, former residents of Richwood, wore a floor length gown of silk organza styled with an Empire bodice and A line skirt. A wide band of Venise lace trimmed her bateau neckline and shirred sleeves. A full chapel length train extended from the yoke at back. Her head piece of Alencon lace petals trimmed with pearls held her bouffant illusion veil. She carried a long cascade made from white Cymbidium orchids with stephanotis and ivy.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick D. Allen of Virginia St., Charleston, W. Va.

Mrs. George Bailey of Charleston, was matron of honor for her sister and bridesmaids were Miss Jeanne Allen, sister of groom; Miss Gretchen Briner of Oakland, and Miss Linda Fox of Charleston. Their dresses were floor length styled with an Empire bodice of Sanaron rose crepe, short sleeves and fashioned with an extra wide back panel. Their head pieces were a circular veil of rose crepe, they carried cascade bouquets of pink daisies.

Miss Ann Dunn was flower girl and wore a floor length dress similar to that of the bridesmaids.

Bill Bailey, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

The bridegroom's father served as the best man and groomsmen were George Bailey, Richard Talhimmer, Charleston; David Frazer, Richwood.

When Mr. and Mrs. Allen left for their wedding trip, she was attired in a beige dress with matching accessories and wore an orchid corsage.

Sermonette By Area Ministers

Oakland Church of the Nazarene
Pastor Rev. Donald Green

The Supreme Choice

I have set the Lord always before me: because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved. Psalm 16:8.

Life is full of Choices. Every day from the time we get up in the morning till we go to sleep at night we have decisions to make. Some of the decisions we make are very vital, some are not quite so important. We must select something to do and leave others undone.

The Psalmist in my texts tells of an important decision that he has made. The choice which he made was not a short ranged decision. Rather his decision was full of meaning for his present and future. He says, "I have set the Lord always before me ...." How important it is for the Lord to have a place in our hearts and lives.

Notice he says I, this makes it personal. It is not the other man but the Psalmist that has done this. He personally has put the Lord in charge of things. He will be my guide and director. The Lord will be the one in my life and all else will center about him. Is the Lord alway before you?

He is before me always. He is with me at all times and on all occasions. We cannot put our religion in one compartment and our daily life in another. If the Lord is our guide people we come in contact with should know that we are Christian. We must live the type of life the Bible tells us we should.

When we make the decision like the writer of the scripture, we can have the Lord at our right hand. This makes life more secure, because we know in whom we have put our trust. We will not be free from all the trouble around us but the Lord is at our right hand to help us in the difficulties of life.

Because of the Lord nearness the Psalmist says, "I shall not be moved". We can have a faith in the Lord that will keep us whatever we face in life.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

May 28, 1967
Editor, The Republican
Oakland, Maryland
Sir:

The teachers of Garrett County, through their local and state organizations, have made it clear that they expect and will insist on an across the board salary increase of $400.00 for the coming school year.

To accomplish this, it has been necessary for them to petition the County Commissioners to include this increment in the 1967 tax levy, which would add some $96,000 to the budget. To this date, their pleas have fallen on unsympathetic ears and motions to grant the salary raise have failed for want of a second.

Because of this, the teachers' associations have made what can only be described as threats against the County Commissioners. First, they declare if the raise is not granted the state association will form what they call a "blue ribbon" commission to look into the entire financial structure of the county to determine if it can support public education; second, they threaten the formation of a "watchdog" committee to keep tab on the activities of the county government.

Regardless of the merits of their salary demand, and regardless oi whether it is eventually granted or refused, I am delighted that they have issued the ultimatum and I am hopeful that it has not been an idle threat.

We need to know who is "keeping the store" in Garrett county, and if the teachers want to undertake the task of finding out, more power to them. I hope they will honor their pledge of keeping the public informed, regardless of their findings.

I am in some part a product of the educational system of Garrett county, and for more than 20 years have been actively engaged in the newspaper business here, in almost every position from mechanical worker to editor, and I know how difficult it can be sometimes to secure the information about the county government the teachers say they will attempt to obtain.

I do not pass judgment on the merit, or lack of merit, of their salary request; I merely want to point out that since the threat of investigation is theirs, I hope it is carried through.

After all, who is "keeping the store"?

Very truly yours,
Wilbur W. Close

Scout Honor Court Held at Accident

A boy scout Court of Honor was held last Monday, May 22, at the Accident fire hall with a number of scouts receiving awards.

Conducting the court was Rev. William E. Carlson. Melvin Schwing and John Brenneman presented second class scout awards to Edward Bach and David Sowers. Scoutmaster Paul Frank, Jr., presented four-year service stars to Charles Coddington, Robert Hetrick, Larry Brenneman, Bill Aiken, Richard Carlson, Ronald DeWitt. Three year stars went to Edward Bach and David Sowers. Charles Coddington received special recognition for gaining five merit badges in three months.

New officers are Robert Hetrick, senior patrol leader; David Sowers, scribe; Grant Sutherland, librarian. Bill Aiken is patrol leader of the Badgers with Lee Sutherland assistant. Leader of the Bear patrol is Larry Brenneman with Franklin Schwing assistant. A new patrol, Flaming Arrows, recently formed, has Charles Coddington as leader and Grant Sutherland as assistant.

Twelve boys received C. and O. Canal historical trail badges for participating in the ten mile moving camporee of May 20. Grant Sutherland was named Den Chief for McHenry Neighborhood den. Cecil Tennant, Deep Creek district, awarded the troop charter for the year to Roy Glotfelty, commander of American Legion Post 208, sponsor of troop 82.

Tentative plans were discussed for a canoe trip on the Potomac river in June; a trip to Buhl planetarium and a Pittsburgh Pirate baseball game. Mr. Frank has qualified as a Hunters' Safety intructor and will be teaching gun safety and marksmanship in the near future. Refreshments were served.

At a meeting following the court of honor Mrs. John Brenneman was elected president of the Mothers' Auxiliary; Mrs. Owen Bach, secretary; and Mrs. Melvin Schwing, publicity chairman.

SWANTON

The Swanton P.-T. A. held its last meeting of this school year on May 16. Officers were installed for the coming year as follows: President, Betty Wildesen; vice president, Modena Baker; secretary, Mary Rodeheaver; assistant secretary, Virginia George; treasurer, Kathryn Jones.

To vote in next Tuesday's special election is vital for a number of reasons, not the least of which is an expression of your acceptance of responsibility as a citizen of the United States.

The new state constitution that will be created by the persons whom you elect at this election will serve the generations of our children and grandchildren as well as our own. It is of utmost importance that delegates to the convention have the vision and capacity for independent thought so that they can design a document of government capable of meeting that challenge.

The community college question is also a most important one for the citizens of th's county, for the size of the vote will give the County Commissioners an indication on how people feel. Over the past several months The Republican presented questions and answers about the college, about its importance in the continuing education of our young people; about its economic value to the county, and how we feel it's operation can be accomplished without additional tax burden to the property owners. The newspaper conducted an opinion poll which showed heavily in favor of the college.

Citizens are urged to consider the main aim of the coll ge and not allow other unrelated questions to sway them from the chief purpose. Teacher salaries, legalized liquor, and resentments have no place in this vote. Several letters to the editor this week point up numerous reasons why the citizens should support the junior college. We repeat what was said a few weeks ago. We would like to see a big vote IN FAVOR of the college.

There is speculation on the size of the vote. Some predict as little as 15 percent, others go as high as 25 percent. How satisfying it would be if the percentage would reach 60 to 75 percent! And it could.

Hawkins Explains Projected Cost Of Junior College

The projected cost of a junior college building, and the part the state would play in financing the structure, should the County Commissioners, after obtaining a favorable vote from the citizens, was itemized this week by Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools.

Mr. Hawkins pointed out:

"Garrett county would receive 75 percent of the cost of the construction of the junior college building as an outright grant from the state. Originally, $912,000 had been granted by the Board of Public Works out of the $1,200,000 estimated cost of the building. This grant ran into some legal difficulties, which were corrected by the last ession of the legislature. Under the new formula Garrett county would get 61.8 percent of the cost of the building, plus $175,000 as a special grant. This would provide 75 percent or more of the original cost of the plant, leaving only 25 percent to be provided by the county over a period of years.

"The current operational costs are estimated at $900 per pupil for an enrollment of 200. Of this amount one-third is paid by the student, one third by the State, and one-third by the county. The $900 per student cost is in line with the 1967-68 anticipated cost per student in Allegany, Washington and Frederick counties. It is quite likely that the state will bear a larger portion of the cost within the near future".

Recommends Funds For Vocational Education

The State Board of Education in its monthly meeting May 31, recommended that the Board of Public Works approve $271,440 for vocation education in Garrett county.

Part of the money, $62,640, would go to an addition to Northern High school near Accident. The rest would provide for construuction of an addition to Southern High school in Oakland.

The 1965 Maryland Legislature authorized $10 million for land acquisition and construction of public vocational schools.

4 Liquor Permits Added To List

Four new liquor licenses were granted in recent days by the new liquor control board, since the county became "wet" under new legislation passed at the recent session of the Maryland legislature.

Two of the licenses were granted to persons who formerly held beer licenses. They were Lena Lawson, Friendsville and Clarence M. Savage, Red Run lodge. They traded in their beer licenses and paid an additional $687.50 for their liquor licenses.

Two other licenses were issued for $800 each, one to David M. Marple for WISP ski area, at McHenry; and Clarence A. Long, for Point View Inn and Motel. Marple also obtained a licence to sell draft beer for $75, a completely new license.

The new laws became effective last Thursday, June 1. Previously it had been legal to sell liquor in four of the sixteen voting districts, Districts 3, 7, 11 and 15.

There are 56 licensed places to sell beer or beer and liquor, prior to the addition of the new ones. Members of the liquor board include Stewart Stahl, chairman; William D. Casteel, co-chairman; and Lewis Hutson.

Tax Rate To Be Fixed Next Week

The annual tax levy is not to be completed until next Wednesday, the County Commissioners announced through their clerk, Harold J. Adams, this morning.

There was no indication what the rate might be and no indication that there would be any change in their decision to forego any further raise in teachers' salaries for the coming year.

The Commissioners have been laboring with figures, budgets, assessable basis and other problems for a number of days in an effort to have a definite announcement.

The assessable basis being used is in the neighborhood of $62 million dollars which is some 6 million above the figure of last year. There were some figures from the office of the State Department of Assessments and Taxation to the effect that the estimated assessable basis was around $69 million, but these estimates could not be verified.

The tax rate last year was $2.80 per one hundred dollars of assessable property. At this rate an additional million dollars incease in the assessable basis would bring in $28,000.

The commissioners, however, were "sitting tight" on the final amount, and what the tax rate would be for this year will not be known until next Wednesday.

Recover Boy's Body At Falls

Week-Long Search Ends When Victim Floats To Surface

A week-long search for a 16-year-old Baltimore youth, who drowned May 30 at Swallow Falls ended Tuesday evening at 6:15 when the victim's body came to the surface of the Youghiogheny River in a deep hole where the drowning occurred.

The victim was Melvin Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warrenton Watson, who was a member of the Forestry camp for boys near Lonaconing. He was on an outing with a group of other boys of the camp when the tragedy occurred.

Edward Bowser and Ted Raynovich, Jr., Oakland, experienced in scuba diving, were preparing to enter the water when the victim's body floated to the surface. Deputy Sheriff Wayne Wilt and personnel of the Forestry department also were at the scene. The body was taken to the Leighton-Durst funeral home in Oakland.

Young Watson was swimming with five other youths when he started to slip away from where they were perched on a rock near the second falls swimming area.

When a couple of his companions grabbed him he seemed to panic and pushed they away, at the same time being sucked into the river's swift and muddy waters.

Scuba divers had been in the hole once before but did not locate the body. A search was also conducted downstream from the place where he disappeared. Up to 40 persons had joined in the search at various times since his disappearance.

The victim was a six-footer weighing about 170 pounds and was able to swim. Searchers had included men from the sheriff's office, state police, forestry camp boys, camp staff members and a group from the State Department of Forests and Parks unit at Swallow Falls.

On Sunday, Charles Subelet, Cumberland; Donald Smith, Bittinger, and Robert Barnard, Lonaconing, all scuba divers, joined Bowser and Raynovich in the search for Watson's body and submerged in deep holes downriver from where he had disappeared.

Sewage Plant Discussed By Town, Commission

Representatives of the Garrett County Sanitary commission, George Perrine and Jack Turney, attorney, met with the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland, at their regular meeting Monday evening, June 5, in an effort to work out common problems with the construction of a sewage disposal system.

The Sanitary commission had been operating on the premise that the three communities of Oakland, Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn Heights would construct the plant in cooperation, but Oakland has evidenced its desire to have a separate system.

The Sanitary commission advised the council of Oakland it had final construction permit for the sewage disposal plant and declared it wanted to deal with it as well as Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn on a contract basis, since it had no desire to take over the town sewage systems already in place.

The Oakland council said the Griffith engineers had indicated the plan of the Chester Engineers was not adequate for their needs. The Sanitary commission had previously agreed to accept the plan of the Chester Engineers.

The Oakland council then passed a motion asking that the Griffith engineers send a copy of their plans and specifications to the Chester Engineers for study. Whether or not this would be done was not ascertained.

Gary Lee Miller Held For Action Of Grand Jury

Accused Slayer Of Young Woman Taken To Oakland County Jail

Gary Lee Miller, 16, of Pocahontas, Pa., last Friday was ordered held for action of the October term of the Allegany County grand jury on a charge of first degree murder in the slaying of Judy Lee Ziegler, 20, route 1, Salisbury, the previous week-end.

The Miller youth, through his attorney, Julius E. Schindler, waived preliminary hearing before Magistrate Lee C. Barnet, in Trial Magistrate court in Cumberland.

Allegany State's Attorney Donald W. Mason represented the state at the hearing and recommended that Miller be held without bond pending the jury action. Magistrate Barnett then ordered the youth held without bond and he was returned to jail.

Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein took Miller to the county jail at Oakland because of security reasons and the crowded conditions at the Cumberland city jail which is being used to house county prisoners while the new county jail is being constructed.

This week Miller was ordered to be sent to Clifton T. Perkins State hopital, Jessup, to ascertain his mental condition. He was taken there Monday.

Associate Judge Harold E. Naughton signed a court order directing that the youth be sent to the hospital for examination by physicians and psychiatrists. A report on the findings is to be forwarded to his attorney who petitioned that his client be sent to the institution.

The hospial, Maryland's newest psychiatric facility, is a maximum security hospital.

The Miller youth was arrested May 29 by Pennsylvania authorities and returned to Cumberland Tuesday after waiving extradition in Somerset county, Pa.

The body of Miss Ziegler was found early Sunday morning, May 28, on an old garbage dump road near Eckhart. She died of head wounds and had been slashed several times on the neck and body.

Almost 2 Million In Social Security Paid Last Year

Some $1,957,548 in social security payments was paid to residents of Garrett County last year, up 7 percent from the year before.

At the end of 1966, 2,734 men, women, and children were receiving funds at a monthly rate of $60, Edward G. Phelps, Social Security District Manager, reported. Some 1,344 were older people, he said, receiving funds as retired workers, the wives and husbands of retired workers and as the surviving widows or aged dependent parents of workers who have died.

"But social security is not just for older people", Mr. Phelps pointed out. Some 435 young widows and children in the Garrett County area were receiving funds amounting to $21,217 at the end of December. Two hunderd twenty-four workers and dependents were receiving payments at a monthly rate of $50.

"Practically every young family in Garrett County has survivors protection under social security that can total $75,000 or more, and equally valuable disability insurance protection".

The average worker, he said, can expect to collect more than the value of his social security tax contributions just in the benefits payable to him and his wife in retirement. If he does not live to retirement, his family stands to collect far more than the contributions he has paid; and the same will be true if he should become totally disabled for work before 65.

Monthly payments to the family of a worker who dies, leaving 2 or more children, can range from $66 to $368 a month, depending on the worker's average earnings under social security.

Social Security survivors' payments, Mr. Phelps said, can be made to the family of a young man who has worked and paid social security contributions for as little as a year and a half during the three years before his death.

Payments to the mother and children continue until the youngest child reaches 18, or indefinitely, if the child has a disability which began before his 18th birthday and makes it impossible for him to work and become self-supporting. Under a change in the law enacted in 1965, a child's payments can be continued up until age 22 if he or she continues in school.

Under the schedule of taxes in the present social security law even the group of young workers who will start work in 1974, after the maximum tax rates for old-age, survivors, and disability insurance go into effect, will pay only about 80 to 85 percent of the value of their potential payments. The matching contributions paid by their employers will account for the other 15 to 20 percent.

Over a working lifetime of 45 years, ending with his retirement at 65 in the year 2019, a young worker who earned the top amount covered by social security in every year would contribute a total of $10,318 toward his retirement protection. Adding interest, compounded at 3-¾ percent, the value of the worker's contributions at age 65 would be $26,412. The value of the funds payable to him and his wife in retirement, assuming average life expectancy, would be $32,853, 20 percent more than the value of his total social security contributions.

"These calculations", Mr. Phelps said, "are based on an assumption that the law will not be changed at all during the young worker's lifetime.

Locals To Attend Church Conference

The Church of the Brethren Annual Conference will convene on June 20 on the campus of the University of Oregon at Eugene. Participants from this area are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beachy, Rev. and Mrs. Guy Ludwig, Rev. and Mrs. Owen Stultz, Rev. and Mrs. Eldon Shingleton, and Paul Wolfe. The Conference will close on June 25.

A basic question will be the matter of merger talks with other groups. The Conference last year at Louisville, Ky. voted "to move as rapidly and resolutely as possible" in the exploration of merger with groups "sufficiently similar to us in doctrine, policy, and mission that merger might be feasible and productive".

The world assembly, the 181st recorded by the communion, will be attended by some 4,500 members, including approximately 1,000 delegates.

To The Voters And Taxpayers Of Garrett County

During the past eighteen months we have heard much argument pro and con concerning a college for our county. As your Commissioners we have felt that this controversial issue should be decided at the polls by our citizens and taxpayers.

We would like to stress the importance of this issue to every voter, and ask that all our interested citizens take the time to go to the polls on June 13 and express their views, otherwise the will of the few may prevail over the will of the majority.

HUBERT A. FRIEND
JOHN ROSS SINES
County Commissioners

Voters Of Garrett County ELECT
RALPH BEACHLEY
OF FRIENDSVILLE TO REPRESENT YOU AT THE State Constitutional Convention

- His Background—A native Marylander and a life-long resident. Has a Master's Degree in Government from Columbia University. Has taught government in Maryland high schools for 35 years. Has been a member of the Legislative Committee of the Maryland State Teachers' Association for six years.
- We need remember a constitution is something apart from a system of statutory law. For this reason a person trained in government and the theory of government such as Beachley is eminently qualified to represent you.
- We need delegates who can fashion a document free of excessive detail and which is understandable to the average citizen. Persons who are not legally minded are less apt to become bogged down with legal wordiness.
- Ralph Beachley believes in writing into the constitution every protection possible for the smaller counties including proper representation in Annapolis, equitable home rule, a superior court judge and not less than one district judge for each county.
- In a speech delivered before an inter-city Rotary Ladies' Night in Cumberland in April, Governor Spiro Agnew stated:

"The constitution is not only the supreme and most important law of our State, but sets the moral, philosophical and legal basis for every protection you enjoy and every right and privilege that your government provides. Of the 142 delegates to the convention, one will represent Garrett County. By numbers you will be sparse. But writing constitutions and imbuing them with foresight and enlightened thought is not the result of roll calls but of individual creativity. The representative from Garrett might well prove himself to be the most singular talent in the entire assembly of delegates. The opportunity is his once you have sent him to the convention. So send your finest and then give your most earnest attention to his deliberations."

Ralph Beachley is a man with such capabilities. Give Garrett County a break by electing him your delegate to the Constitutional Convention.

Methodists Meet In Annual Session

Some 1200 delegates representing over 200,000 Methodists in West Virginia convened on the campus of West Virginia Wesleyan College at Buckhannon, yesterday for the 29th United Session of the West Virginia Annual Conference of The Methodist Church. It will conclude June 11.

Heading the program for this year's sessions is Dr. Gordon Elliott Michalson, preident of MacMurray College, Jacksonville, Ill., and Bishop Fred G. Holloway, resident bishop of the West Virginia Area.

Bishop W. Earl Ledden, retired bishop of the Syracuse Area of The Methodist Church, will be a special guest of the conference and will assist in presiding at business sessions.

A major item of business for delegates to consider on the opening day will be the question of the merger of The Methodist Church with the Evangelical United Brethren Church. Scheduled for 3:00 p. m., on June 7, the vote in West Virginia will become a part of the total vote of tht Methodist Church which is currently being taken in the respective annual conference bodies across the United States.

The actual consummation of the union, establishing The United Methodist Church, will require in both churches a two-thirds affirmative vote of the aggregate number of members of the several annual conferences. At this date 19 of the 87 Methodist conferences in the United States have reported their votes, indicating an affirmative vote of 90.48% so far. Seventeen of the 32 EUB annual conferences have reported their vote, with a cumulative total percentage of 76.78% in favor of the union.

The announcement of ministerial appointments for West Virginia is also anticipated on the first day of the West Virginia Conference meetings. This will be the first time in the history of West Virginia Methodism that appointments have been made at the opening sessions. It has previously been the custom for the presiding bishop to read the ministerial duties as the last item of business on the closing day.

Recent graduates of the Maryland Firearms and Hunter Safety Training Program offered in the Accident area are: Larry Brenneman, Richard Carlson, Ronald DeWitt, Rick Mayberry, Gary Reckner and Lee Sutherland.

The Program was offered by Maryland State Department of Game and Inland Fish in cooperation with the National Rifle Association. All the graduates received their shoulder patch and certificate of satisfactory completion of the program on Saturday, June 3rd, from instructor, Paul Frank, of Accident.

The program was designed (1) to encourage safe gun handling and reduce hunting accidents; (2) to teach hunter responsibility; (3) to enlarge the knowledge of the Principles of Game Management and (4) to promote a better relationship between hunters, landowners, and the Department of Game and Inland Fish. It was set up by a 1966 resolution of the Maryland General Assembly.

At least four hours were spent studying guns and ammunition, proper gun handling, safe hunting methods, the rifle, the shotgun, and the hunter's responsibilities. The student who scored the highest on the written examination and who also scored highest on the range was Richard Carlson.

The next session of the course will be Tuesday, June 13th, in the basement of the Accident Fire hall at 8:00 p. m. Tax Reform Law Going To Courts

The question of whether or not Maryland's tax reform program passed by the 1967 General Assembly can be petitioned to referendum is apparently headed for the courts.

Some 20,000 signatures to petition the tax plan to referendum were filed with the secretary of state C. Stanley Blair. However Attorney General Francis Burch said he would instruct Blair to refuse to accept the petition.

"There are several references that clearly indicate this bill is not subject to referendum", Burch said. "It is an appropriation bill for the maintainence of the state.

Opponent Disagrees

Appropriations measures cannot be petitioned to referendum.

But Courtland D. Ferguson, a Bethesda advertising executive who organized the drive against the tax law, disagreed and said he would take any such refusal to court.

"It is a tax reform bill, not an appopriation bill", Ferguson said, "Gov. Agnew himself never called it an appropriation bill until last week".

The law includes a $120 million income tax increase. It has already been challenged in a court suit initiated by the state and will be given a hearing in Baltimore Circuit Court Monday.

Challenges Law

The suit, filed by Baltimore real estate developer Stanley I. Panitz, challenges the law on five constitutional questions that were raised by State Comptroller Louis Goldstein.

In addition to the signature to petition the tax law to referendum, 20,000 additional signatures were also filed Wednesday to put the state's new open occupancy law on the 1968 presidential ballot. A total of 27,593 signatures on each law must be filed by June 30th to have them placed on the ballot.

The two laws would be suspended until after the balloting.

Ruling the tax law unconstitutional could throw state and county finances into chaos. Many counties have already set property tax rates based on the assumption the new taxes will be collected and apportioned to them.

From this county Karen Schaible, Regina Sanders, Valetta Lee, Jennifer Gosnell, Michael Bigler and Ann Feaster, of Southern High school will be helping in the program. The week-end is scheduled June 23, 24, and 25, with dinner Friday evening with keynote address and other discussions that evening and on Saturday. A dinner is scheduled Saturday evening. A panel discussion is scheduled Sunday morning following church activities.

Exploitation Department

The experts who plan political campaigns seem to have stumbled on the Biblical observation that the poor will always be with us. So, the poor are about to be organized into an irresistible pressure group by politicians with a stake in the so-called Great Society.

This came to light when Congressman John R. Hunt, of New Jersey, disclosed that an anti-poverty outfit called the Trenton Community Action Training Institute had developed a program designed to flood Washington with letters from the poor "every time the President of the United States presents a bill". The Congressman said that this was "nothing more than a political action program in favor of the Democratic Administration".

The basis of the program is a booklet that urges the poor to write to lawmakers in Washington, and sample letters are given expressing support for the Johnson Administration programs. Noting this, Congressman Hunt said he saw "no need for a federally sponsored training program on how to write your Congressman".

When the program was exposed, its originator denied that it was federally sponsored, and insisted that it was being underwritten by a private donation. Even so, the scheme has all the earmarks of exploitation, with the poor being callously exploited for political purposes, and the taxpayers being even more callously victimized. Congressman Hunt has requested that R. Sargent Shriver investigate and report to the Congress.

There was a time in this country when poverty was looked upon as a temporary condition and the idea of public assistance carried a stigma to be avoided. Now welfare has become a way of life and the poor (euphemistically referred to as "underprivileged" "disadvantaged", etc.) are being herded into a bloc whose votes will be exchanged for bigger and better handouts.

Being on relief is becoming so respectable and dignified that it's soon going to be demeaning and degrading to go to work.—U. S. Press Association.

Heart Fund Tops Quota

A total of $28,176.23 was raised for the Allegany-Garrett County Heart Association for the fiscal year 1967-68, it was announced by Hugh A. McMullen, chairman.

Some $10,000 will go to the Heart Association of Maryland and the American Heart association for research and the production of professional and public education materials. Some $18,665 has been budgeted for use in Allegany and Garrett counties. The goal was $28,000.

Hears From General In South Vietnam

Stanley Weese, of Oakland, had satisfaction in recent days from hearing from General W. C. Westmoreland, in charge of the fighting forces in South Vietnam.

Mr. Weese had written to the general several months ago. Since many Americans have died defending our liberties, and we pay homage on Memorial Day to those who died so gallantly defending our American freedom, Mr. Weese wrote to the general thanking him and those who serve under his command for their sacrifice that liberty might prevail in America.

Since one of our basic freedoms is the freedom of expression, Mr. Weese ended his communication with a poem:

The young men die in battle,
The ole men sleep in bed.
The tortured earth of Asia is furrowed deep with red.
The old men sat conferring,
With smile, scheme and lie;
The old men made the blunders,
And today the young men die.

In General Westmoreland's reply he thanked Mr. Weese for the Christmas greetings from the area and the poem. He said, "Your support is appreciated. Merry Christmas and a happy new year". Weese at the present time is employed in Philippi, W. Va.

Question

We always used to hear that the chemicals in a human body were worth less than a dollar. What are they worth today?

Answer

You're right in remembering the human body's worth being set at less than a dollar. In fact, the figure usually given in the past was 98c. Interestingly enough, there has been a radical change where the value of chemicals contained in the human body is concerned. The valuation is based on the much greater demand for enzymes and nucleic acids by all types and kinds of laboratories . . . a demand which has now put the valuation of human body chemicals at almost $800.00!

Speaking of Insurance

It was a warm day in May, 1896, when Henry Wells met Evelyn Thomas on a sunny street in New York City. Henry was driving his Duryea Motor Wagon. Evelyn was on her Columbia bicycle. They crashed. This has been recorded as the first automobile accident. Consider the nightmare that has followed in its wake.

Last year, 98 million drivers drove 88 million vehicles about 900 million miles. While doing so, they slaughtered 49,000 Americans.

Until some solution is found, the experts say, do this: (1) stay one car length behind the next car for each 10 miles per hour of speed; (2) get your foot over the brake pedal 50 feet before each intersection and keep it there till you enter the cross street; (3) at stop streets, stop with your front bumper even with the curb of the cross street. If that street is parked, get your front door even with the curb line.

This is called defensive driving. It might keep you alive until the day when you can depend on the other driver's good judgment.

CAPITOL COMMENT

by
Charles "Mac" Mathias
Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

The U. S. Navy and The Gulf of Aqaba

To many Americans, the Gulf of Aqaba seems to be a remote and minor part of the world, in which we have little interest and no business. But the Gulf of Tonkin seemed just as remote and unimportant three short years ago. Just as the Tonkin waters proved to be very fateful for the United States, the waters of Aqaba may come to have great importance for us in our efforts to keep the peace.

The show down at Aqaba is certainly as dangerous as the incidents in the Gulf of Tonkin in August 1964 which accelerated the Vietnamese conflict toward the fierce level of combat at which we are now engaged. Further, I think the confrontation in the Middle East is far more deliberate. Without question, the belligerent spirit of some of the participants in the blockade is prompted in part by a desire to plunk some of the feathers of the American eagle, and to show up or at least to challenge our commitment to preserving the peace.

The events of the past few days have revealed serious shortcomings in our own situation, shortcomings which have made our task this week far more difficult. In general, we have not followed the recommendations by many naval experts in regard to the kind of sea power, or naval presence, which the U. S. should maintain in the waters of the Near East.

Last fall, I had the privilege of meeting officers and men of the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean. The Sixth Fleet is of course one of the most powerful naval forces in the world. In its sheer weight, power or armaments, and balanced composition it is probably second only to our own Seventh Fleet, now on duty in the Far East. Yet the Sixth Fleet, based for many years in the Mediterranean, is restricted in its response to the events in the Gulf of Aqaba and the Red Sea, because the most convenient access to those waters is through the Suez Canal.

The dangers of over-reliance on passage through Suez were foreseen before the current crisis by many Naval leaders, who advocated that we should maintain strong and mobile forces east of Suez, in the Indian Ocean. Obviously any ships on long-term duty there would have to be relatively independent of local bases, supply stations and service centers. The most appropriate force, therefore, would be one powered by nuclear energy. Both the Navy and the Armed Services Committee have recommended great expansion of our fleet of nuclear-propelled ships, but the civilian heads of the Pentagon have continuously discouraged and downgraded these proposals.

I trust that the current crisis will prompt a full review of these naval policies, before either the present confrontation erupts into a war, or some new and even more serious threat arises in that quarter of the world. Our past experiences in other incidents have shown that the combination of vigorous diplomacy and a strong military deterrent can be the best guarantee of the peace.

Homemakers Will Stress Dairy Month

Since June is Dairy month the homemaker club members will be using and serving milk and dairy products more because this is the time of peak seasonal milk production, it was announced by Mrs. Freda Denison, extension agent.

She suggested a few hints using butter to make everyday menus more glamorous. For a perky horseradish sauce for fish or boiled beef, blend one part of horseradish into 4 parts of melted butter and pour over the beef or broiled, baked or fried fish before serving . . . Spread sizzling steaks with creamed butter and finely chopped parsley just before serving. . . A tiny chafing dish or butter warmer keeps a supply of melted butter at the table, ready for use as desired . . . Butter piping hot toast and sprinkle with cinnamon-sugar for a delightfully old-fashioned treat. . . Blend butter with mustard or chili sauce for double duty as a sauce for barbecued meat and as a spread on toasted split rolls for hot dogs, hamburgers, and steak sandwiches.

Stage Company Returns

The Center Stage Touring Company of Baltimore is presenting the play, Our Town, by Thorton Wilder at Southern next fall. In early May, this company presented excerpts of Shakespeare.

Our Town has won fame because of its unusual presentation. No scenery or settings are used; a stage manager steps out on the stage and tells what would normally be seen by the audience.

School officially ends tomorrow morning when the students return to the school for their report cards, but yesterday was the last day of classes. Of course, for the hopeful juniors, there's the date of June 4 and the commencement exercises for the class of '68.

Social Security For Young Families

Why should a man with a wife and young children concern himelf with anything that seems far away as social security?

A new booklet, "Social Security Information for Young Families", specifically designed to answer this question is now available, Social Security District Manager in Cumberland, Edward G. Phelps, announced.

"Social Security is not just a retirement program, and it is not just for old people", Mr. Phelps said. This new booklet gives the young worker important information about the survivors and disability protection that he and his family have now.

Nine out of ten families in this area have social security survivor protection which can amount to over $75,000 in payments if the breadwinner in the family should die, Mr. Phelps pointed out.

Disability insurance is the other social security program of particular importance to the young worker. After just five years of work under social security, the worker and his family are eligible to receive monthly payments if he should become severely disabled and the condition is expected to last a year or longer.

Mr. Phelps said that "Social Security Information for Young Families" explains in detail suvivors and disability protection, what it can mean to a family, and how to make an application should it become necessary. Also included is information on how to check your social security account and the financing of social security.

Copies of this pamphlet may be obtained free of charge from the Cumberland Social Security Office at 6 Pershing Street.

She's One Hundred And Likes Jets

On Sunday, June 4, Mrs. Edith Cross, of Akron, Ohio, native of Garrett County, became 100 years old. Obviously she is not a person to look backward for "the best", but recommends the use of jets in air travel.

The date of her birth is tattooed on her right forearm, her initials on her left forearm. Her wedding ring never needs to be sized or polished; it too, is tattooed.

The tattooer was Mrs. Cross' husband, John E. Cross, a Goodyear man who died in 1939. They did not believe in wsearing jewelry, said Mrs. Cross' daughter, Mrs. William Childs, of Tallmadge.

Mrs. Cross is the oldest living member in the nation of the Church of the Brethren. She was a lady blacksmith.

The account of Mrs. Cross appeared in the June 1 issue of the Akron Beacon Journal under "features".

In her family history there is the old boast of "Indian blood". She was a Sines, a family that stretched back in to the dim forests of frontier Pennsylvania. Some of them settled in the mountain areas of Maryland. Edith Sines Cross was born in Oakland, daughter of a blacksmith. He wanted her to be a teacher.

She tried teaching a few months but didn't like it. Then, said the father, "You'll come into the blacksmith shop with me". She did and liked it. She was also a mail rider.

When she married John E. Cross he delivered mail by horseback along a nine-mile route that circled the area that later became Deep Creek Lake. He was injured and for nearly five years she delivered the mail.

Mr. and Mrs. Cross went to Akron in 1913. They were one of the first families to move into Goodyear Heights. The house was soon filled with 14 boarders. To further help pay for the house Edith Cross did sewing, wall papering, washing and ironing, and two days a week baked pies for an East Akron restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. Cross had six children. Survivors are Mrs. Childs, Otis, retired from Goodyear and living in Jacksonville, Fla.; and Sherman, of Selma, Ala. Until fairly recently Edith Cross lived alone in the 11-room house and did all her own work. A broken hip ended that. Now she sits at a picture window in the O'Neil Nusing Chateau.

There was an open house Sunday for Mrs. Cross. She termed "hard work" the secret of her long life.

An account of Mrs. Cross was sent to The Republican by Ross C. Durst, of Cuyahoga Falls, O.

Question and Answers

Q. I filed for my refund a month ago. Isn't it about time I received it?

A. No, it is still too soon. Look for the refund to arrive anytime after the first of June. Some returns filed at the deadline may not be processed completely till the end of June. If your return is incomplete or contains an error, processing will take longer. There will also be a delay if the return is selected for audit before the refund is issued.

Q. My daughter is working as a sales girl this summer to earn money for college. If she makes more than $600 will I lose my dependency deduction for her?

A. If your daughter is under 19 or is a full-time student you will not lose your dependency exemption for her just because she earns $600 or more during the year. As long as the other dependency tests are met you may continue to claim her.

If she does earn $600 or more, or has withheld, she must file her own return.

Q. I won the $75 prize given each year to the outstanding history student. Is that taxable for me or my parents?

A. Unless you had to perform a specific action to win the prize, such as write an essay or give an address, the prize would not be considered taxable.

Q. I just opened a gas station and have to file employment tax return on which I must show an employer identification number. Can I use my Social Security number as my employer identification number?

A. No. If you are liable for business taxes you must obtain an employer identification number even if you have a Social Security number. Your Social Security number should be used on your individual income tax return and not on business tax returns.

To get an employer identfication uumber use Form SS-4 available at local IRS and Social Security office. This number must be shown on all business returns as well as Schedule C of your individual return.

Q. I've been asked to bring in my records on charitable deductions. I made some sizeable cash gifts last year. What can I bring to prove these?

A. A statement from the receiving organization which indicates the amount and date of the gift and idenifies you as the contributor will be helpful in substantiating the contribution.

Q. I think a mistake was made in my refund check. Who do I write about it?

Huskies Lose To Mt. Savage 2-0

Successive doubles by four Mt. Savage High school players produced the game's only runs as the Indians edged Northern High school Huskies last Friday at Frostburg State college field by the score of 2-0.

Mt. Savage earned the right to meet Williamsport in the finals last Saturday.

Gary O'Baker and Jesse Thomas hooked up in a pitching duel and the former emerged the victor on a three-hitter and drove in one of his team's runs. Thomas turned in a five-hit performance but the trio of doubles in the second inning beat him.

O'Baker recorded his fifth win of the season as Mt. Savage chalked up victory No. 10 against five losses. Thomas fanned three and failed to give up a walk.

The fielding highlight was provided by left fielder Dennis Blank who put down Northern's only threat in the fifth inning when he turned in a sparkling running catch and made a perfect throw to Helmick to double up a runner off first base, ending the inning.

An eathquake shook a large area of Mississippi.

Flying Cross Won By Capt. Sines

During a brief ceremony in the 228th aviation battalion headquarters in An Khe, Vietnam, Captain Kenneth A. Sines, of Friendsville, received the Distinguished Flying Cross for heroism in that area.

Captain Sines is the grandson of Mrs. Orpha Sines and the son of recently deceased Arnold Sines, Friendsville. His wife, Mrs. Shirley Hauser Sines, and daughter Lou are remaining in Columbus, Ga., area until Captain Sines' return from Vietnam which is scheduled for August.

The citation read:

"For heroism and meritorious achievement in connection with military operations against a hostile force. After one aircraft was unable to extract a long range patrol receiving intense hostile fire in the mountains west of landing zone Byrd in Bhin Dhin province, Capt. Sines, as pilot, and his crew volunteered to attempt the extraction in their CH-47 Chinook helicopter. Shortly after departing landing zone Hammond the number one generator failed causing great concern. Capt. Sines elected to continue the mission that was escorted by UH-1 helicopter gunships. Upon arrival at the pickup zone Capt. Sines determined by use of a high recon that an extension to the troop ladder which was to be used for the extraction of the six member patrol was needed. Once the extension was added Capt Sines hovered over the dense double canopy jungle and maneuvered the tail of the aircraft until the ladder reached the ground. It was discovered at this time that two members of the patrol were wounded and unable to climb the ladder. Capt. Sines instructed the crew to rig a makeshift hoist from the winch that would extend over the ramp extension and down the ladder. As Capt. Sines and his co-pilot hovered at treetop level with the trees posing a constant threat to the rotor blade and the fuselage of the aircraft, two crew members descended the troop ladder to assist the wounded with the makeshift hoist.

After one hour and thirty minutes of hovering and just prior to the extraction of the last member of the patrol was accomplished the low fuel warning light came on in the cockpit. As contact was broken with the enemy on the ground by the gunships the last member of the patrol was brought aboard the aircraft. Capt. Sines then flew his aircraft to landing zone Pony where the patrol received medical aid and the aircraft received enough fuel to return to landing zone Hammond. By his heroism, aggressiveness, devotion to duty and dedicated service in saving the lives of six men, Capt. Sines is in keeping with the highest tradition of the military service and reflects great credit upon himself, his unit, and the United States Army".

What marvelous buildings has man erected through the centuries. What lofty and inspiring structures has he created.

But how many of these glorious accomplishments stand intact today? We can see famous ruins the world over — mute reminders that what man builds is not permanent.

Today our buildings contain great slabs of concrete holding hidden wire and steel that will not break with stress. But can we be sure that today's creations will be standing a hundred years or two hundred years from now? Of course not.

Of what can we be certain? What does last?

Certainly the gifts of God tower indestructibly today as they have for generations . . . the things of the spirit — faith, hope and love. Our church buildings may crumble or be destroyed, but the fellowship of believers is perpetual throughout the ages.

Discover for yourself the great spiritual truths. Discover for yourself through His Church, those things which endure forever.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

No, Lord!

Lesson for June 11, 1967

Background Scripture: Acts 9:32 through 11:18. Devotional Reading: Acts 10:34-43.

Several months ago, while attending a meeting in Dallas, I had a chance conversation with a man who obviously wanted very much to talk with someone. We were sitting at neighboring tables in a restaurant. I'm not sure how the conversation began, but we hadn't talked for more than a few minutes until he was unburdening himself of something that apparently troubled him very deeply.

Rev. Althouse

He was an engineer, a civil engineer with a master's degree, to be exact. He had just started a new job that day, but it was his previous job, the job he had just left, that bothered him. Weeks ago, he had been approached by a firm that offered him a substantial raise in salary. Desiring to be fair with his present employer, he informed his employer that he was contemplating the offer and asked whether he might want to consider meeting it.

I Don't Understand"

His employer refused, saying: "I know that other engineers of your ability are getting that much and more, but it is more than enough for an Indian!" With that, the employer began an abusive tirade, demeaning the man and his race. The engineer was a highly competent man, but because he was an American Indian, his employer could not fully treat him as an equal human being. "I don't understand," the man at the next table kept saying: "I worked for him twelve years and he never called me a d——d dirty Indian before!"

This incident just happened to occur in Dallas. The man across from me might just as easily been a Puerto Rican in New York City, a Negro in Philadelphia, or a Mexican in San Diego. Or — and this is hard for me to admit — it might have happened in the little town where I live or the county-seat metropolis nearby.

This is not a new problem in the world. The New Testament recalls for us the wall that stood between Jew and Gentile. It was a wall so great that Peter refused to have anything to do with Gentile converts to Christ. So strong was the heritage of prejudice in Peter that he responded with an outright refusal: "No, Lord!"

To Avoid Corruption

The barrier between Jew and Gentile (and we must remember that at that time the followers of Jesus still regarded themselves as Jews) seemed reasonable enough. Throughout the history of the Hebrew people there had been a constant and obvious temptation to adopt the pagan (Gentile) religious practices of their neighbors. Time and again the Lord sent his prophets to warn the people to give up their Gentile ways and worship him alone. The Hebrew people, therefore, learned to avoid all contact with Gentiles in order to avoid being corrupted by pagan influences. It began as a "reasonable" idea. In time, however, it developed into prejudice and racial pride. It was carried to the usual human extremes.

Peter said, "No, Lord!" It was rare for Peter to defy his Lord's wishes. So it is today. If we are going to say, "No, Lord!", it is more than likely that it will be over some issue of pride and prejudice. He shows us clearly what is his will for society and we respond, saying: "No, Lord, I don't mind 'them' having equal rights, so long as they don't get 'uppity.'" "No, Lord, I'm not prejudiced, you know, but I don't have to have 'them' in my home, do I?" "No, Lord, our property values will plunge." "No, Lord, you don't know them as we do." "No, Lord" . . . (and you fill in the rest).

Insulting The Creator

What the Master said to peter, however, he says also to us: "What God has cleansed, you must not call common." When we demean any of God's creatures — and he created them all, didn't he? — it is an insult to the Creator, not the creature. It was hard for Peter to rise above his prejudice, but he did it and so must we: "Who was I that I could withstand Jesus Christ?" Let our "No" become "Yes!"

Issue Is Delayed

The June issue of The Glades Star, publication of the Garrett County Historical Society, will be late this time, due to the illness of Robert B. Garrett, editor, it was announced by Paul Calderwood, president. Material will be assembled as soon as possible and turned over to the printer for completion, he said.

To The Voters Of Garrett County

I think we should all realize the importance of the special election of June 13. It will undoubtedly have a great effect on our county and state. Many feel it is a wasted time to vote on issues such as these; as our representatives have failed, in the past, to go along with the voters' decisions. The last example being the legalizing of whiskey. Perhaps we may be fortunate enough this time for our representatives to abide by the voters' decisions.

I think everyone who attended the meetings held by the County Commissioners, Member to the House and Senator, are well aware that the Community College was the main topic of discussion. Election day is the time to express your opinion without criticism, whether for or against. I would like to mention also, that during the meeting at Friendsville, Commissioner Friend said "He felt the only fair and democratic way to settle the College issue was for the public to vote on it." After this statement, Mr. Ralph Beachley disagreed by saying "Democracy is wrong." Mr. Beachley is entitled to his opinion of government just the same as you or I. I disagree. This is something to consider when voting for your delegate to the Maryland Constitutional Convention. Do you want this type of thinking in our new Constitution? I think all should make a special effort to vote in a very special election.

Sincerely,

Harry C. Faucett

11 Are Killed On State Highways

Last week eleven persons lost their lives on Maryland highways according to the weekly survey of the State Police.

Three of the deceased were drivers, five were passengers, and three were pedestrians.

"Death searched its highway victims out in some rather unusual ways last week", said Lt. Col. George E. Davidson, Acting Superintendent of the Maryland State Police.

"In one case the driver's attention was momentarily diverted by a bee. He lost control of the car and it crossed over the center line and met another car head on. One life was lost as a result.

"In still another instance, a pedestrian was standing on the curb, safely so he thought, when a vehicle went out of control, ran up over the curb and killed him".

Colonel Davidson concluded: "These two cases certainly emphasize for us the necessity of being alert at all times, to be prepared to cope with the unusual as well as the routine driving problems".

Speed was present in three of the fatalities, alcohol in two, and "driver error" in nine.

Vote For The County Community College

A study, commenced two years ago by a voluntary committee of about 40 people representing all sections of Garrett County, showed both the need for and the feasibility of a two-year Community College, and tentative plans were drawn up. The State Board of Education has endorsed our plan; the State of Maryland has offered $900,000.00, 75% of the estimated cost of construction; the College has had the support of our service clubs, farm organizations, chambers of commerce, PTA's. Our previous County Commissioners gave it their backing, as have most of the citizens of the county who have taken the time to learn the facts. At public meetings held in various parts of the County the sentiment has been overwhelmingly in favor of tht college, as have more than 700 ballots received by THE REPUBLICAN. What are the basic facts about the college in brief?

1. Education is becoming increasingly important in our modern economy, and all too many of our Garrett County young cannot afford to go away to school. The cost at our college would be approximately $300.00 per year, as compared with $1,500.00 per year or more to go elsewhere.

2. The college would provide (a) two years of transferable academic credits, (b) business education, (c) vocational and technical training, (d) evening courses for adults in accordance with need and interest.

Statistics show that the life income of a person with advanced education is more than double that of those without it.

3. The McHenry location was selected after considerable study because it is an excellent site, and because it is centrally located, accessible to all of the county.

4. Cost to the County.

A. Construction. Of the estimated total cost of $1,200,000, more than 75%, more than $900,000, will be a gift from the State, leaving a balance of $300,000 to be paid by the County. After 1969, when the County will make the last payment on the $1,500,000 original high school bond issue, the annual $80,000 payment will be released and this will be sufficient to pay off the $300,000 loan (if needed) as well as to cover the tuition costs.

B. Under present laws, the State will pay 1/3, the County 1/3, and the student 1/3, of the estimated $900 annual cost per pupil. (Estimate based on known costs at other Maryland community colleges). The County's estimated annual cost, $60,000, would be covered by the above $80,000, and no tax increase should be needed.

That is where the matter stands today. The College is needed if Garrett County is not to fall behind the rest of the state and country. The project is sound, the financing is sound. The college will become an asset to Garrett County, bringing in revenues, creating jobs, and opening opportunities for a better life for our young. It will be many years before another such opportunity comes our way. Will we, for selfish reasons, let it slip by?

The outcome is up to us all. It will be settled by the coming referendum on Tuesday. If you believe in the College, be sure to vote, and VOTE FOR THE COLLEGE!

GORDON K. DOUGLASS

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

June 6, 1967

To The Editor:

Next week, June 13th, we, the citizens of Garrett County have an opportunity and privilege of casting our vote on two very important matters. First, we have a chance to vote for a delegate to represent Garrett County at the Constitutional Convenion which will be held this Fall. Fortunately, we have two very good candidates. It behooves all civic-minded citizens to go to the polls and vote. Each should vote for the person who can and will represent Garrett County best and one who will help make a good constitution for Maryland.

Second, we shall have a chance to vote for a Community College. Your State Senator, George R. Hughes and I really put forth a lot of effort to secure our share of State funds for the college. Here are the facts concerning the financial arrangements. The total cost of the college will be $1,200,000.00. The State has agreed to furnish 75% of this cost, or $900,000.00. Garrett County will only have to put up $300,000.00. When you go to the polls on the 13th, you will be voting on a referendum which will enable the Garrett County Commissioners to borrow the necessary funds for the college. This small amount will be repaid over a period of years and the cost to individual taxpayers will be very small.

I believe that a Community College is a very important investment in the future of Garrett County. At a very small price we can enable many boys and girls, many older citizens, and many returning veterans to get a start toward college training or preparation for some desired technical training which will help in getting and keeping a good job.

I urge every right-thinking and fair-minded citizen to go to the polls on June 13th. Vote for your delegate to the Constitutional Convention and vote for the Garrett County Community College.

Sincerely and respectfully yours,
B. O. Aiken, Delegate
Maryland General Assembly

Associate Judge Harold E. Naughton last Thursday awarded the plaintiff $1,941.42 damages in a suit in Allegany County Circuit Court in which the defendant failed to make an appearance in court.

John Franklin Browning, for his own use and the use of the Erie Insurance Exchange had sued Joseph J. McSorley.

Browning, a corporal in the State Police, and native of this county, was injured and his automobile damaged in a collision with McSorley's car on U. S. route 220 near Cumberland May 29, 1962. The insurance company paid the claim to Cpl. Browning for his damages and the company brought suit against McSorley to recover money from him.

if you ever had any doubts about electric heating, forget 'em!

"Once I convert to electric heating, if I don't like it there's nothing I can do about it." WRONG! If you're not completely satisfied after one year, Monongahela will remove your heating equipment and pay you its original cost. Fair enough?

"Electric heating's expensive to operate . . ." WRONG! Try us. Let us estimate your monthly heating bill. That doesn't cost a cent. We'll do it in minutes with the new ELECTROCOMP, a briefcase-size computer.

"It costs too much to switch . . ." WRONG! Monongahela's wiring allowance plan will help pay the cost of installing your new flameless electric heating equipment. Financing may be arranged over a 10-year period . . . and paid in convenient monthly installments.

Still have questions? Great. We expect them. Anything as modern and remarkable as flameless electric heat is sure to cause comment. So let's talk. Call Monongahela for the answers.

Ordinance No. 2

Under the Charter of the Town of Mountain Lake Park

Adopted 1966

An Ordinance of the Mayor and Council of Mountain Lake Park, Maryland, entitled "An Ordinance Prohibiting Abandonment of Vehicles: Restricting the Disposition or Keeping of Wrecked, Non-Operating, or Discarded Vehicles on Streets or Private Property: Providing for Impounding of Certain Vehicles: and Imposing Penalties."

WHEREAS, in the Town of Mountain Lake Park vehicles are or may in the future be abandoned in the streets and other places within the Town; and

WHEREAS, there are or may, in the future, be dismantled, partially dismantled, wrecked, junked, non-operating or discarded vehicles left about the Town, other than in junk yards or other appropriate places; and

WHEREAS, such conditions tend to impede traffic in the streets or interfere with the enjoyment of and reduce the value of private property; invite plundering; create fire hazards and other safety and health hazards to children as well as adults; interfere with the comfort and well-being of the public; and create, extend and aggravate urban blight; and

WHEREAS, adequate protection of the public health, safety, and welfare requires that such conditions be regulated, abated or prohibited;

NOW THEREFORE:

Section 1: Definitions. Be it Ordained By The Mayor and Council of Mountain Lake Park, that the following definitions shall apply in the interpretation and enforcement of this Ordinance:

(1) "Persons" shall mean any person, firm, partnership, association, corporation, company, or organization of any kind.

Section 3: Impoundment of Abandoned or Unattended Vehicles. And be it Further Ordained, that when any vehicle, or part thereof, or any kind, be abandoned or unattended on any public road, highway, street, alley or parking lot, or on any private property within the Town of Mountain Lake Park, as provided in Section 2 of this Ordinance, the Town Policeman, or his designated agent, shall have the authority to impound and remove such vehicle, or part thereof, and charge the owner thereof the cost of towing, storage, or any other charges incurred in connection therewith; provided, however, that no vehicle, or part thereof, shall be removed from any private property if, at the time of the intended removal, the owner or person in charge of such vehicle is present and shall agree in writing to remove such vehicle, or part thereof, within five (5) days. Section 5: Redemption of Impounded Vehicles. And Be It Further Ordained, that the Town Policeman, or his designated agent, shall keep a record of all vehicles, or parts thereof, which are impounded and shall be able at all times to furnish owners, lien holders, or persons entitled to the possession thereof, with information as to the place of impoundment, the charges incurred with regard to the impounding and shall be authorized to release such vehicle, or part thereof, to such owners, lien holders, or persons entitled to the possession thereof, upon payment of such charges and the assurance to the Town Policeman that such vehicle will not thereafter be left upon any public or private property in the Town of Mountain Lake Park in violation of the laws or ordinances of the Town of Mountain Lake Park. Any vehicle, or part thereof, impounded under the provisions of this section shall remain impounded until disposition of the vehicles, or parts thereof, either by sale or by release to the owner, lien holder or person entitled to possession thereof, under the provisions of this section.

A ONE-ROOM AIR CONDITIONER IS FINE... IF YOUR WHOLE FAMILY LIVES IN ONE ROOM.

If you want to live in, say, two rooms, you just buy another one-room air conditioner. For three rooms, another . . . and so on. It's really very simple.

It's also very silly! And supporting a flock of one-room air conditioners is very costly, too.

Now let's get serious. For only $14 a month (maybe less), you can own clean, trouble-free, economical Gas whole-house air conditioning. With normal installation, a hefty three-ton unit is yours without even a down payment.

Here's the best part. If your home is heated with Gas, you probably already own about half a Gas air conditioning system: the ductwork, the blower and the filter. All you need is a cooling unit and a condensing unit.

For all the refreshing facts, just call the Gas Company. Gas whole-house air conditioning provides comfort for every member of your family . . . in every room of your house!

Orientation Day Held

Tuesday the sixth graders from Grantsville, Friendsville, Accident, and Yoder Schools invaded Northern. They visited this year's seventh grade classes; the ones they will have next year. The Junior Chorus sang and a film was shown.

The Viking Holds Picnic

Wednesday, after school, the Viking staff of this year and also next year's staff held their annual picnic at Deep Creek Lake State Park.

Friday the last day of school, the report cards and attendance certificates will be given out, and then home for the summer.

Band Ends Season

On May 26, Southern's Senior Band led the fourth division in the Mt. Savage parade which started the town's Spring Festival. In competition with seven bands, Southern took second place, with Meyersdale High School coming in first.

In the Dapper Dan Parade in Cumberland on May 29, Southern took honorable mention, fourth place.

The band marched for the last time this year in the hometown Memorial Day Parade. Among those who marched for their last time with the Highlanders were Louise Martin, Drum Majorette and Connie Dixon, Head Majorette. Miss Dixon headed over her baton and hat to Susie Ridder, next year's head majorette. Graduating members of the majorette corps were Leslie Hinebaugh and Janet DelSignore. Next year's corps includes Sharon Teagarden, Sherry Tressler, Mary Liller, and Ellen Lowdermilk. Skip McCartney will serve the band a second year as drum major in the '67-'68 season.

Seniors and their parents were honored at the first annual senior band dinner at St. Paul's Methodist Church on May 31. Mrs. Glenn Dixon was named band mother of the year, and Playford Ryan, who has served for two years as president of the Band Boosters, was honored as father of the year. Mary Cosby, band president, and Tom Ryan were named senior girl and boy of the year.

Nazarene Church Plans Vacation Bible School

Oakland Church of the Nazarene will hold a vacation Bible School June 12-23. The session will be at 6:30 in the evening through 9 p. m. The location is 8th and Alder.

The school theme this year is "God Speaks Today". There will be classes for all from Nursery through the teenage. Everyone is welcome. Rev. Robert C. Roberts is pastor.

Highlanders Lose To Fort Hill 3-1

Fort Hill High school, Cumberland, garnered only two hits last Friday but took advantage of some sloppy play by the opposition to defeat the Southern Highlanders of Oakland by the score of 3 to 1 at Frostburg to qualify for the finals of the Maryland district One class A-AA baseball tournament.

Fort Hill registered its ninth consecutive triumph and gained the right to play Frederick High school.

Dave Joy went the route for Fort Hill and took his third straight victory without a defeat. He limited the Oakland nine to four hits, one being a triple by Rob Sharps who scored Southern's lone tally in the 5th inning on an error.

Fort Hill took a 2-0 lead in the first inning. Curtis Kime singled and stole second and third. After Lewis and Decker struck out Kunis drew a pass. Renotas fanned but was safe at first when the catcher let the ball get away and Kime raced home. Renotas made a dash for second base and when no one covered the bag the ball went into centerfield and Kunis crossed the plate.

The Sentinel's final tally came in the third when they coupled a walk with a wild pitch, error and sacrifice.

Jerry Fike pitched good enough to win most ball games but shaky support was his big handicap. The Southern twirler struck out ten but gave up six bases on balls and two of the walks resulted in runs.

The Highlanders were charged with five fielding miscues. Sharps collected two of the four hits by the Highlanders who had a 7-game winning streak going prior to Friday's games and are now 1-2 for the season.

Band Banquet Held At Northern High

The annual Northern High School Band Parent Banquet, was held Wednesday evening in the school cafeteria. A welcome was extended by Mrs. Daniel Wampler, president, who also introduced the guests, Clinton Englander, George Edwards, Willard Hawkins, and Francis Harris, principal. A moment of silent prayer was held in memory of Ross Fike, a '66 graduate former member of the band, who died from injuries received in Vietnam. Melvin Schwing awarded the following 11th grade students with band letters, following the banquet: Steve Vincent, Debbie Bender, Lynn Sutherland, Bonnie Buckel, Allen Duckworth, Dana Umbel, Rick Platter, Karen Markel, Terry Goehringer, Donald Friend, Glenda Folk, Richard Lansberry, DeWitt Leonard, Betty Lowdermilk, and Sharon Wiley.

IMMUNIZATION SHOTS ARE ALSO FOR ADULTS

Toxoids and vaccines are a must for children. They can practically eliminate the dangers of smallpox, typhoid, tetanus and others.

But many adults who were vaccinated in their childhood seem to have forgotten the importance of this protection. Positive prevention does not always last forever and many adults have neglected necessary booster shots. It is important that all adults visit their physicians as soon as possible to get this added protection.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

THE REPUBLICAN

A Good Start . . .

There is no doubt about it—a good start has been made on getting the junior college for this county, but there is yet much additional work to be done. This is not to minimize the work that was accomplished in the special election Tuesday when the desire for the college was expressed favorably by two to one.

To our knowledge this is the first time any school problem requiring a bond issue or expenditure of a large sum of money was ever voted favorably by the citizens. The fact that it did pass by such a majority is indicative of the way people are feeling. We are thankful for this reaction.

A junior college to provide economical and additional education for the young people is becoming a necessity. We are proud that the voters want to provide better educational opportunities.

We are proud also of the action taken by the county commissioners the morning following the election when they unanimously passed a motion to establish the college, indicating their willingness to proceed. They must now provide funds to purchase the ground for the college, now under option. This must be done very soon. The amount needed, some $31,575, will apply toward the county's share in the total expense. They are empowered to borrow an amount to insure construction of the college. But the first responsibility is getting the ground paid for.

After this is done there are other responsiilities as outlined by Willard L. Hawkins, in a letter to the editor this week. The groundwork has been laid, and we must keep the ball rolling.

The possibility of a college ready to open its doors in September of 1969 is in the making. Let us make it a reality.

Grant Elected Delegate In Light Voting

Oakland Attorney's Edge Two To One Over Ralph Beachley

William W. Grant was elected as a delegate to the Constitutional Convention by a two to one majority over his opponent Ralph H. Beachley, in a special election held Tuesday.

Grant received 2,046 votes compared to 1,039 for Beachley. The Friendsville man, vice-principal of Northern High school and a student of history, carried only one voting precinct, second precinct of district three, at Jennings where the vote was 27 to 23. He was even with Grant in district 3, Grantsville with 120 votes each, but in other areas Grant had the edge. The three Oakland voting precincts gave Grant 649 ballots compared to 215 for Beachley.

Mt. Lake Park gave him 243 votes against 79. In Friendsville Beachley lost by five votes, 132 to 137, and he also lost Accident 107 to 131. A complete tabulation of the unofficial figures appears in today's issue.

Grant, an Oakland attorney, will be the county's only representative to the convention which has been called to begin at Annapolis on September 12.

Only about one-third of the eligible voters turned out for this special event. In district 6, at Sang Run there was in the neighborhood of 50 percent casting ballots but these figures did not hold up in other areas of the county. One precinct at Oakland had 40 percent with the other two around 36 percent.

The percentage was higher than most any other area of the state, but it was felt that the junior college question created more interest here.

The official count which will be made on Thursday, and the obsentee ballots were not expected to make any appreciable changes in the totals.

President Johnson's family television interests were accused of attempting to dominate Austin, Tex., TV market by undercutting.

Extra Dividend Is Declared By First National

The Board of Directors of The First National Bank of Oakland has declared a regular cash dividend of fifty cents per share plus an extra dividend of twenty cents per share on its Capital Stock, payable July 1, according to George K. Littman, President.

This total dividend of seventy cents per share compares with sixty cents per share paid for the first half of 1966.

Mr. Littman stated that the Board of Directors has also voted to transfer $100,000 from its Undivided Profits account to Surplus as of June 30, 1967. The bank's Capital and Surplus will then total one million dollars.

He said the bank has experienced its best six month period of operations since it was estabished in 1900, and that the outlook for the remaining half of the year appears very encouraging.

In addition to the above distributions of profits, Mr. Littman stated that reserves had been set aside for taxes, interest on savings accounts, depreciation as well as a reserve against loans. With total resources of approximately twenty million dollars, the continued growth of the bank with the area economy is very gratifying, he said, not only to the Board, but to the more than 300 stockholders as well.

Candidates Named In Park Primary

At a primary election for nominees for mayor and city councilmen at Mt. Lake Park on Tuesday, James C. Frame, with 88 votes, and Allen C. Murray, with 62, were named to run in the general election to be held the second Tuesday in July. Clarence H. DeWitt, who received 19 votes, was eliminated.

All four councilmen who were running, were nominated and will run for three positions at the July election. They were John L. Fitzwater, Jr., with 122 votes; Cecil A. Jackson, with 128; Eugene Mason Paugh, with 116; J. Edward Tasker, with 83.

Four Juveniles On Plastering Spree

Four juveniles had the idea this week to get into the plastering business—only they were going to plaster the automobile of Robert E. Boal, instructor at Southern High school with eggs. This they did, but the chemical reaction was such that the enamel on the automobile became discolored.

Town police apprehended the boys. An estimate of the cost of repainting the car was established at $34. Mr. Boal said he did not desire to press charges, so the boys are being held responsible for the payment of the repainting job. If they don't come through, other steps will be taken, the police officers stated.

Voters Approve Establishment Of Jr. College

Majority Is Two To One; Commissioners Act Favorably

Voters on Tuesday favored the establishment of a community college in this county by a two to one majority, and the Commissioners on Wednesday morning moved swiftly to make the junior college a reality.

A motion was made by Hubert Friend that the Commissioners abide by the decision of the voters to establish a junior college in Garrett county. The motion was seconded by Allen S. Paugh, president, and made unanimous by John R. Sines.

The voters favored the college 2,138 votes against 921, in the special election which saw only about thirty percent of the voters casting their ballots. In only three precincts did the college question fail and these were by narrow margins. Bloomington, district 4, turned down the question 29 to 31; Red House, second percinct of district 8, voted against the question 35 to 45; and district 11, The Elbow, showed 11 votes in favor as opposed to 15 against. In other voting precincts many of them showed substantial voting in favor of establishing the college.

Two of the Commissioners, Messrs. Friend and Sines, had maintained all along that they were not opposed to the college but wanted a definite expression from the people. The special election for the naming of a delegate to the Constitutional Convention provided the opportunity and legislation was enacted which made it possible to put the college question to a referendum vote.

The Commsisioners, however, turned down a motion made by Mr. Paugh, to add an additional five cents to the tax rate to provide funds to pay for the ground which is under option at the present time at McHenry. Mr. Paugh said he felt this was wise since there had been a substantial reduction in the tax rate for this year, that a definite start would be made. The motion failed for want of a second. The option must be taken up by September.

County Scene On 'Phone Directory

On the cover of the new Garrett County telephone directory, to be issued soon, will be a color photograph of a local point of interest—Muddy Creek Falls.

Gerald C. Crabtree, Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company manager at Oakland, announced that directory distribution will begin on Wednesday, June 21, and will be completed on the following Monday.

In the initial distribution of some 7,100 directories, there will be an increase of about 1,100 over last year. The high percentage of increase in the number of directories demonstrates the rapid growth taking place in Garrett County.

Mr. Crabtree pointed out that the new introductory section includes a page for listing frequently called numbers and provides dialing information that should be more easily found and readily understood.

He added that a post office zip code page has been inserted between the white and yellow page sections.

The directory will include a description of Muddy Creek Falls and other attractive features of Swallow Falls State Park.

As the directory notes, "Muddy Creek" is a misnomer for the clear, sparkling water that tumbles down a fifty-one foot ledge near the creek's confluence with the Youghiogheny River.

Commissioners Cut Tax Rate By 55 Cents

Rate Will Be $2.25 Per $100 Of Assessable Property

The County Commissioners completed the levy for the next fiscal year several days ago and yesterday morning announced a reduction of fifty-five cents in the tax rate for the current year. The rate will be $2.20 per $100 of assessable basis, plus an additional 5 cents for fire departments, as required by law. It was the first reduction in many years.

The tax rate had been $2.80 since May of 1964, when the first full fiscal year's rate was laid. Prior to that time the rate had been laid for a calendar year. In 1963 it was $2.60, $2.35 in 1962, and in 1956 was $2.

The tax rate was not approved by Allen S. Paugh, president of the Commissioners, who had endeavored unsuccessfully to get the other two commissioners to add five cents to the levy which would have provided funds to pay for the property for the junior college, which is located at McHenry and which is under option. The option must be taken up by September and payment made. Mr. Paugh made the motion on Wednesday morning following the favorable vote by the citizens to support a community college, and he made the motion that "five cents be added to the tax rate to provide money to pay for the ground for the junior college and to provide some funds toward architectural fees". The motion lost for want of a second.

The motion to make the rate $2.20 per $100 plus five cents for fire departments was made by John Ross Sines and seconded by Mr. Friend. Mr. Paugh did not vote and would not approve.

The county will operate on an expected revenue of $2,059,005.60 which is an increase over last year of $185,647.07. Of the total amount expected the levy is expected to bring in $1,496,000, and some $698,005.60 will be obtained from other estimated income.

However the total will be less $72,000 for discounts, $7,000 for insolvencies and $56,000 for tax credits for the elderly, all of which were estimated.

Among items listed under other estimated income were $140,747 surplus, $70,000 from beer tax, $10,000 from distilled spirits tax, $75,000 revenue from liquor dispensaries, $70,000 from cigaret tax, $60,000 from auto license fees, $69,000 from Maryland state property tax.

The assessable basis of the county this year was estimated at $68,000,000, an increase of around $12 million over last year. This was judged on $36,700,000 for real property; $1,718,098 for personal property, farms; $1,593,545 for business property, and returns from State Assessments and Taxation board on corporations, of $27,988,357.

The levy showed the following figures: $21,700 for legislative and executive; $33,700 for judicial; $15,453, for election; $69,219.83 for finance; $2,000, legal counsel; $15,700, general government buildings; $6,550, other general government; $43,446, for public safety; $745,162.40, for highways; $2,400, sanitation; $47,399, conservation of health; $14,000, for hospitals; $66,512.19, for public welfare; $6,700, for correction; $768,479, for schools; $111,394 for school bonds and interest; $19,730 for recreation; $17,034, for public service enterprise; and $52,100 for miscellaneous.

The amount for the roads department, $745,162.40, is an increase of over $108,000 more than last year. The Board of Wheat To Egypt?

In these critical days between cease-fire and resolution of the crisis in the Middle East, the United States and the United Nations have begun to seek ways to build a new, stable order in that troubled part of the world. Until peace in the Middle East has been secured, there cannot be a truly peaceful atmosphere anywhere in the world. As we look forward now, it is also valuable to look backward, and to gain what guidance we can from the wisdom and the mistakes of the past.

The whole question of relations with the militant nation of Egypt was discussed at great length in the House of Representatives in 1965. At that time, the Administration was proposing to extend certain credits to the United Arab Republic for the purchase of American wheat under P.L. 480, the Food for Peace program.

You will recall that during that period, President Nasser was not only guilty of aggressive policies toward the State of Israel, but was also highly abusive toward American policy, officials and activities. He officially stirred up mobs to attack American properties in Egypt and in general was following a course which was far from conciliatory, prudent or objective, as compared to the efforts of most of the civilized world to keep the peace.

It was in this atmosphere that we debated extending further credits to Egypt. With many of my colleagues, I felt that cutting off American wheat sales was the clearest way to advise President Nasser unmistakably that we would not tolerate aggressive activities in Egypt at the possible extent of world peace. I voted in this way on at least two separate occasions. Unfortunately, however, the Administration prevailed, and further credits to Egypt were approved by a majority of the 89th Congress.

The lesson, in my judgment, is that we cannot hope to deal effectively with a nation such as the U.A.R., or with a personality such as President Nasser, unless we can be sure that our voice is being heard in that nation. I am certainly not opposed to sensible policies of assistance to the underdeveloped and poverty-stricken nations of the world, and believe that we do have a moral duty to help them at least get to a point at which they can help themselves. But when a government is obviously on the wrong course, headed in a direction which is going to cost us all tremendous misery, concern and loss of life, then I say the time has come to get the message to that government to stop, look and listen.

This is the message many of us tried to convey in 1965. Now it must be conveyed to many Middle Eastern states again.

PHARMACY PHACTS

Clinton W. Englander

Question

I've never really understood just what is meant when the word "quack" is used in a medical sense. Can you explain this please?

Answer

A quack is a person who literally robs you of your money (and often your health) by either pretending to be a licensed physician or claiming to use "healing methods" which he implies or states "medical doctors don't know about." In other words, a quack is a dishonest person who pretends to be a doctor . . . a person who has no hesitation about stealing your money for so-called treatment which, at best, may not harm you, but will more than likely damage your health . . . or even allow you to die for lack of proper medical care. Please see this column next week when I will go on to answer your second question about how you can "spot a quack."

Awards Presented To W. Va. Farmers

Preston County reaped a bountiful harvest of the newly created West Virginia Agri-Business (WVAAA) Achievement Award Monday, June 5, at a banquet held at Arthurdale Inn, Arthurdale.

Four individuals and firms received the new award. Commissioner of Agricultuure Gus R. Douglass said the new award was created to recognize those persons having outstanding achievement in farming and other phases of the food industry.

The first achievement award went to J. W. Ruby and Sterling Farms. Sterling Farms employs 500 people in its farm operation. The citation reads: "By displaying outstanding ability in bringing together ideas, financing, management and other job skills, they have established themselves as a state and national agricultural leader. And, by their willingness to integrate independent producers into their corporate activities they have made possible a rapid increase in community production and greatly aided the economic growth of the entire state".

For outstanding work in the educational and information fields, Alton J. Anderson, County Extension Agent, Kingwood, was presented with the WVAAA award. His citation reads: "By a unique understanding of the people and problems of Preston County, he has successfully provided leadership which has substantially contributed to a growing agri-business economy.

"His skills and techniques will continue to inspire other agricultuure leaders in West Virginia and the Appalachian Region as they strive to solve local problems".

Ed Grose, of Cranesville, was cited for his pioneer work to bring about better business mangament on farm operations. The citation reads: "Through his efforts to achieve an orderly solution to the problems of limited land, high production costs and gaining a joint community effort in the interest of more efficient marketing, he has developed techniques which could serve as guidelines to other individual groups and communities in solving agricultural problems common to West Virginia and the Appalachian Region".

For their efforts in starting a new agriculture business raising hogs in a sterile controlled environment, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Barlow, Tripp-Way Sanitary Hog Operation, were also presented with the WVAAA. The citation reads: "For Displaying the confidence and resourcefulness of pioneers they have successfully embarked on a new agriculture enterprise. Their success has contributed to the economic growth of the entire state and they are providing inspiration for others to follow."

Commissioner Douglass said that the award would continue to be presented to those people and firms meeting the qualifications estabilshed by his office.

The awards were presented with the concurrence of Commissioner of Commerce Angus Peyton and Governor Hulett Smith.

Swimming In Red Ink

When 1967 began, economists thought the national economic situation had a dangerous pallor. Now the pallor has deepened, and the patient seems in real trouble. Unless the right medicine is given, the United States could face terrible economic illness in the next fiscal year — the worst case of "deficitis" since the end of World War II.

The new year began with President Lyndon Johnson's estimate of an $8 billion deficit in the fiscal year commencing July 1. In recent days, however, Secretary of the Treasury Henry H Fowler gave a $11 billion forecast for the deficit when he asked Congress to hike the debt ceiling to $365 billion.

Mr. Fowler's forecast is based on the assumption that business activity will accelerate rapidly and that the Congress will approve the six per cent surcharge sought by the President.

The calculations of the Secretary of the Treasury could prove to be overly optimistic. Some economic observers are of the view that the deficit could pass the $20 billion mark. If this stupendous deficit develops, the American people will really feel its impact in terms of runaway inflation, tight money, whopping taxes, and, in all likelihood, unwelcome price and wage controls.

"Doves" in the country are quick to blame the war in Vietnam for the deficit. Certainly, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara made poor calculations as to the cost of the war. He grossly underestimated the expendiures required — hardly the kind of performance one expects of an official described as a human computer. But defease spending is not the villain. After all, expenditures for national defense are necessary expenditures for the safety and survivals of the American people. Americans are ready to double defense spending if the security of the Republic is at stake.

The facts is that in recent years non-defense spending has climbed faster than defense spending. Six years ago, spending on defense amounted to $44.7 billion. In the current fiscal year, defense spending totals $68.7 billion, or an increase of 54 per cent.

But consider the other side of the picture. In 1961, non-defense spending was $36.8 billion. Today, it totals $58.7 billion, or a rise of 59 per cent.

In May, moveover, President Johnson pledged to carry on the Great Society's lavish programs and to augment them. He refused to cut back on the wasteful War on Poverty, which hasn't helped the poor. By promoting the Great Society at this time, he apparently hopes to regain favor with radical groups such as Americans for Democratic Action, which have condemned the effort in Vietnam.

Mr. Johnson refuses to make a guns or butter choice. He intends to buy the guns, but he also intends to give away a lot of the higest grade butter — in the form of welfare subsidies of one kind or another. He gives "renticare" and "headstart" programs high priority, despite the pressing need for cutbacks in this area in order to assure adequate funds for defense and stability in the national economy. The Office of Economic Opportunity is screaming for more money to spend in the nation's big cities this summer — a form of federal tribute designed to appease protest groups.

Unquestionably, the American economy is very strong and sound. The U. S. potential for strengthening free enterprise is a modern miracle. New ideas and hard work by skilled managers and employes result in new processes, new services and new goods. But even the strongest economy cannot withstand irresponsible spending.

If war imposes a strain, then it is essential to remove other strains — such as the federal government's commitment to welfarism.

If President Johnson refuses to acknowledge this economic fact of life, he will have the American people swimming in red ink by the time he ends his term in office. Overpsending on welfarism is what has wrecked Britain. The U. S. should take note of this horrible example and turn away from the brink.

Reductions in non-essential spending have never been more essential.

If a person is proven eligible and the amount of the tax credit stated, the individual will present this when he pays his tax bill and the treasurer will then substract the amount of credit shown on the certificate of eligibility from the total amount of his tax bill and write his check accordingly.

The Board of Commissioners emphasized that those making applications should allow sufficient time for processing and certification.

Sr. Mary Augustine Is Visiting Here

Sister Mary Augustine RSM is at present a visitor at St. Peter's Convent, Oakland. Sister will be remembered by many folks here. She came to Oakland in 1924 and remained seven years teaching piano to the many children and adults.

A highlight of that period was a pageant celebrating the bicentenial of the birth of George Washingon. The pageant was arranged and produced by sister Mary Augustine who also made all the colonial costumes needed. The pageant began with the boyhood of Washington, this character acted by James Helbig, then a boy of nine. It traced on through the troubled days of the war. An act pictured the social life of those days. Included in this was the dancing of the French Minuet by sixteen dancers. Much interest was aroused in the town when the call went out for the loan of eight swords needed for the men to make the arch through which the ladies danced.

The final act showed James Treacy, a tall lad, who posed on a pedestal as the "Father of Our Land" Surrounding the statue was a group of the children of today who sang:—

"The call through the years to sing our praise and thanks, George Washington, to you".

Sister Mary Augustine returned for a few years in the early fifties. She told her church that her years in Oakland were among her happiest.

She is the author of a book published recently entitled. "A Little Of This and More of That about Things Musical", a compendium for music students.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our husband and father, the late Clark Glotfelty, who departed this life one year ago on Father's Day.
A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
God in his wisdom has recalled
The boon his love has given,
And though the body moulders here,
The soul is safe in heaven.
Sadly missed by his Wife and Family.

Fire at Finzel Is Extinguished

A house fire last Friday on Samson's Rock road near Finzel, burned out a kitchen and the bedroom immediately above it, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Layton.

Mrs. Margaret Myers, mother of Mrs. Layton, said she was washing clothes in the basement when she heard what sounded like an explosion upstairs. Upon investigating she found the kitchen in flames.

The Frostburg fire department was notified and firemen responded with three pieces of equipment and 25 to 30 men. The fire was extinguished about 30 minutes after the alarm was received. Firemen treated Mrs. Myers for a slightly burned arm which she received in a vain attempt to save a pet canary. Clarysville firemen assisted.

To Oppose Decisions

Recent decisions and recommendations of trial examiners in a dispute between two West Virginia coal companies and the United Mine Workers are in no way a final decision, it was announced by attorneys for the mining companies.

Fred Shaulis, president of the Kingwood Mining company said the company had advised the National Labor Relations Board and the union that exceptions to the Trial Examiner's findings would be filed and an appeal taken which may result in a reversal of the findings and exoneration of the company from alleged unfair labor practices.

Leonard Fry, president of the Allegheny Mining corporation at Mt. Storm, made a similar statement for his company.

It was expected to be months before any final decisions would be reached.

Charles Dintaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Dintaman, and Gary Turney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Turney, both of Mt. Lake Park, were on the dean's list at Frostburg State Teachers college for the past semester. The former had been on the dean's list also for the first semester.

Questions and Answers

Q. I still haven't gotten my refund from the return I filed in April. What could have happened?

A. Some returns filed in April calling for refunds are still being processed. This is normal as it takes several weeks for returns to move through the processing pipeline.

Many refunds are delayed beyond the usual processing period because the returns were incomplete or contained errors. Common causes of delay were missing or inaccurate Social Security numbers, missing signatures, missing W-2 statements and other required supporting documents.

Q. My return was audited and I ended up with a bigger refund than I claimed. Isn't the purpose of the audit to collect more taxes?

A. No. The purpose of an audit is to make sure that the correct taxable income was reported neither more nor less.

It is true that the number of returns examined which are found to be underpaid is greater than those found to be overpaid. About $3.1 billion in additional taxes was recommended in 1966 as a result of audit examinations.

However there were 300,000 returns found to be overpaid last year and a total of $279 million was returned or credited to taxpayers as a result of audit examinations.

Q. I just purchased two tickets to a charity ball. Won't this cost be deductible for me?

A. The cost of the tickets will be deductible to the extent they exceed the value of the food and entertainment you receive. The sponsors of the event should be able to tell you what the deductible amount will be.

Q. I want to get rid of some of my old records. Are there any I should keep for tax purposes?

A. Records should be kept as long as they are material to your tax obligations. Generally speaking, keep copies of your tax returns and related records for at least three years after due date for filing the return. Some records, such as property acquisitions, capital improvements and the like, should be kept for a much longer period.

Q. Are any of the expenses connected with duty in a reserve unit deductible?

A. The cost of your uniforms, as well as their care and maintenance, will be deductible unless you receive an allowance from the military for this purpose. Travel costs to evening reserve meetings are generally not deductible. The exception would be if you worked at your regular job the day of the meeting. Then the cost of a one-way trip from your job to the meeting would qualify for a deduction.

To date, only 7% of the regular teaching staff has resigned for all causes, including five retirements. The local school system loses about 10% of its teachers annually, and additional resignations are to be expected during the month of June. Due to the comparatively low salaries for Garrett County teachers, more resignations than usual might be expected. With the approval of the teachers listed only one vacancy exists in the Garrett County schools as of the present date. This is a vacancy in the auto mechanics department at Northern and candidates are being interviewed for this assignment.

Other matters coming before the Board were:

1. Approval of bids for building supplies for summer maintenance.
2. Analysis and approval of new furniture needs for the coming year.
3. Approval of modernizing home economics department and library at Northern.
4. Approval of hospitalization program for teachers and custodians.
5. Approval of sick leave policy for teachers, starting with 40 days in 1967-68 and accumulating 10 additional days each year thereafter up to a maximum of 100 days.
6. Discussion of priority to be given to new building projects for the public schools of the county. The Board of Education has on hand some Capital Outlay funds to be used by the school board to meet the matching requirements for Vocational projects and for perhaps one project under the regulations of the new State school building formula. Already approved by the State are two Vocational projects - one for Southern for Home Economics and Business Education, and one for the Northern High School Agriculture Department - costing $390,000. Of this amount the State will contribute $268,000, leaving the balance to come from Federal and local funds.

These projects are at a standstill because of lack of Federal funds. However, some Federal funds are anticipated to supplement the State grant of $268,000, during the next fiscal year. The difference between the $268,000 State grant and the amount available under the Federal Vocational Act, must be provided by the County Board of Education. When this amount can be determined the school board will then know whether or not it has sufficient funds to proceed with the Bloomington or Swan Meadow projects - the two given top priority by the school board at this time. If one or both of these projects can be built, depending upon the amount needed for the Vocational projects, the Capital Outlay funds of the school board will be exhausted, and all future building improvements must come from new county funds, matched by the State under the new formula for school building construction. The school board will probably not be in a position to make a decision on these building priorities until late summer or early fall.

7. The school board was also informed that the Planetarium had arrived and work on the Annex building for its installation was in full progress.
8. The Board voted to transfer all present seventh grade pupils at the Kitzmiller School who will be in the eighth grade next year, to Southern High School. The decision to transfer these pupils was made as a result of a poll of the parents, indicating that parents of nineteen out of the twenty-four pupils involved wanted their children when they became eighth graders to attend Southern High School. The Board of Education received no dissenting votes from the parents of the other five children.

Terra Alta Dentist Still Is Critical

The condition of Dr. Mont M. Gardner, Terra Alta dentist, remained critical in University hospital in Morgantown, W. Va., where he was taken following a two-car accident Saturday evening, June 3 about one-half mile west of Terra Alta on state route 7.

Dr. Gardner remained unconscious for several days from injuries he sustained when the International Scout he was driving was struck in the rear as he was pulling onto route 7 from Secondary 7-22 at the Whitedale Brethren church. With him was his young daughter, Elaine, who was treated and released from Preston Memorial hospital.

Investigating state police said Dr. Gardner's vehicle was struck by a 1957 Plymouth driven by Jerry Coen, 20, of Terra Alta. Coen, who was treated and released from Preston Memorial hospital, for slight injuries, told officers that he swerved trying to avoid the collision after the Scout pulled onto the highway into his lane of traffic. Both vehicles were traveling east.

Two passengers in Coen's car, Larry Lantz, Oakland; and Clifford Sypolt, Terra Alta, were uninjured.

Coen was cited for not having a drivers's license. The investigation is continuing. Damages to both vehicles were estimated at $1,200.

Dr. Gardner was a classmate of Dr. H. R. Gibson, Oakland dentist.

A Nebraska girl, Jennifer Reinke, 14, won national spelling title.

Deadline Set For Wheat Allotments

Wheat acreage allotments for the crop to be harvested in 1968 will soon be computed and notices of allotment will then be issued to farmers. The size of allotments has not yet been determined but this information is expected this month. Producers without wheat allotments who wish to secure an allotment for 1968 production have until July 1, to file a request for a "new farm" allotment, Darrell Martin, ASC Committee Chairman, announced.

New farm wheat allotments may be issued only where the producer meets all of the following requirements: has grown wheat in two of the last five years; has no interest in any other farm that already has a wheat allotment; has the land, labor and equipment to grow wheat; and at least 50 percent of his current year's income will come from the farm, exclusive of the wheat allotment requested.

Mr. Martin said that formal application for a new farm wheat allotment must be made by filing a written application, on a form provided for that purpose, at the ASCS County Office.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Work Yet To Be Done For Junior College

Board of Education
Oakland, Maryland
June 14, 1967

To The Editor,

First of all, let me say the resounding approval given the junior college project for Garrett County was a very gratifying one for me personally, and one in which all Garrett County can be justly proud. It is a solid indication that the people of the county do want to move forward in their efforts to provide better educational opportunities for their children.

My main reason for writing this letter, however, is to answer the question already put to me several times today — Where do we go from here? While much time, thought, and work have already gone into the junior college planning, much more needs to be done. I shall try to outline the steps that lie ahead and the approximate timetable for their realization.

The No. 1 item is to take up the land options with Gerald Glotfelty and Robert L. Glotfelty. The option with Gerald Gloffelty expires June 21, one week from today. The amount of this option is $25,000. The option with Robert L. Glotfelty also expires June 21, or one week from today and is in the amount of approximately $6,575.00 (depending upon the acreage to be surveyed). Both options may be extended for a period of six months. It becomes the responsibility of the County Commissioners to provide funds for this land. This site has been approved by the State Board of Public Works, the State Department of Education, the County Board of Education, and the Lay Citizens Site Committee, and its further approval was voted upon by the citizens of Garrett County in yesterday's election.

Following the acquisition of title to the building site, the next big job will be to nail down the State's share of the money needed to build the plant. Here we anticipate getting 75% of the cost of the building (and grounds) estimated at $1,200,000. Under the new 1967 legislation as we understand it Garrett County will get 61.8% of the cost of the building, plus $175,000. The $175,000 was a special grant secured for the college by Delegate B. O. Aiken at the last session of the Legislature in order to guarantee Garrett County 75% of the cost of construction. I will be in Baltimore this week and will proceed to set the wheels in motion to tie down this appropriation for the Garrett County Junior College. To complete this task may take from four to eight weeks. Let me say here that it is my understanding that any money Garrett County puts up now for land can be credited later toward the county's share of the cost of construction. So by paying for the land now, it will mean approximately $32,000 less that Garrett County will have to put up later as its share of the cost of construction, if I am correct. The same would be true from any fees for architectural services that might have to be advanced by the county.

As soon as the land titles are clear and the State funds have been legally allocated and approved, the school board will then authorize the architects to proceed with plans. Here again the architects have been employed for this project and have presented a preliminary drawing and picture which can be seen in the window of the Garrett National Bank. The reliable and well established firm of Johannes & Murray has been employed by the Board of Education to do the architectural work. This firm has also been approved by the State Board of Public Works, a requirement for this project. We might also add that this firm is doing the work for the new Allegany County Junior College.

To complete the architectural work on this proposed plant will take approximately four to five months. At this point the plans will be ready to submit for public bidding. These plans must be approved by the State Department of Education and State Board of Public Works. Contractors bidding on this project will need approximately eight weeks. So we are talking about six to seven months from the time the architect starts on the project until it is under contract. Thus, if all goes well the building should be under contract by March, 1968. It should then be completed and ready to open September 1, 1969. This I believe is the earliest time schedule that it is practical to suggest at this time. The immediate urgency is for the County Commissioners to provide the money to acquire title to the optioned land at McHenry.

At least nine months in advance of the opening of the college, a president must be selected. The president will be the person with full responsibility for the administration, organization, management, and staffing of the college. He will have the responsibility for recruiting students, setting up the curriculum offerings and for making and accounting for the annual budget. The president will be selected by the Board of Education acting under the present law as the Board of College Trustees unless this law is changed to give this authority to a separate independent board, which is likely to happen within the near future. The selection of the president must be approved by the State Department of Education.

All of the above, of course, is predicated upon a mandate from the people for the county to provide its share of the cost of the project. Very little will have to be budgeted in this fiscal year other than the cost of the land, but the county's share of the operating costs and "seed" money for the first year must be budgeted in fiscal 1968-69. In 1969 the final payments on the high school bond issue will be made, thereafter releasing $80,000 annually which could be applied to junior college operating costs.

The junior college movement is one of joint responsibility between the county and State. I am preparing to move ahead as rapidly as possible according to the schedule as outlined above. The county must fulfill To the Editor:

its responsibility by providing money for the land as the first move in complying with the voice of the people.

It is my earnest hope that the college will grow and prosper over the years and that it will render an invaluable service to the educational welfare of the whole Garrett county commuunity. Given time and patience and good leadership, I believe this hope will be fully realized.

Very sincerely,
Willard L. Hawkins
Superintendent of Schools

Youngsters Learn Banking at First

Youngsters are now becoming familiar with The First National Bank and learning how to write checks through a long-range educational program where children are able to cash special "Kiddie Checks" good for one lollipop.

The special checks are authentic in appearance and printed on safety paper. They are furnished in fillers of 12 checks each with instructions on how to write the checks on the inside cover. The checks do have a restrictive phrase, however, "Good for one Lollipop", and are signed by the children —more or less legibly.

The V.I.P. Kiddie Checks enable the children to enjoy a traditional lollipop while participating more fully in banking. Up to now, they could only deposit money in savings accounts. New, they may draw on the First National Bank's supply of sweets with their own negotiable instruments. It helps teach them money (or lollipop) management.

With 90% of all business and personal financial transactions now being carried out by check, an early introduction to them is considered important.

The check books are free, and there are no service charges.

ON AN EVEN KEEL

Young Stan learned to row this summer. It was hard work but he didn't complain about the blisters. He was a captain in control of his ship, and very proud of his new position!

Being in control is often hard work, even for adults. Many people wish they could control their tempers, or perhaps curtail bad habits, but they fail to find within themselves the strength of will that would help them.

When problems are too big for us, that's the time to ask God for assistance. We are His children and He knows all our weaknesses. Through church attendance and prayer, we can be guided to a more serene approach to daily life. We will find His presence a constant support as we begin to take pride in our new possession . . . self control.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read you Bible daily.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

Even More Committed

Lesson for June 18, 1967

Background Scripture: Acts 11:19-30. Devotional Reading: Ephesians 2:11-22.

The reports that came back to the little community of disciples in Jerusalem were quite encouraging — up to a point.

The persecution against the followers of Christ could not wipe out the Church: many of the disciples were able to escape from Jerusalem to Phoenicia, Cyprus, and Antioch. Let all the congregation say "Amen!"

Rev. Althouse

Not only had many disciples escaped from Jerusalem, but they were preaching the Gospel in these far-flung places. Let all the congregation say "Amen?"

Finally, there comes a report from Antioch saying that many Greeks (Gentiles) there were hearing the Gospel and responding to it, forming a considerable community of Gentile followers of Christ in Antioch. Let all the congregation say: "WHAT'S THIS?"

Another Change!

We can imagine what was the reaction of some Jerusalem Christians: "Another change! What is the Church coming to? What will become of it if 'they' keep changing everything?"

First they had been asked to overcome their considerable feelings about Samaritans and accept these despised people into the fellowship of Christ. Next, they had been shocked to hear that a few Gentiles had even become followers. Now, however, word came to them saying that a whole Gentile community of followers had been established in Antioch and was continuing to grow. They were being asked to think, not of a Jewish Christian Church with some Gentile Christians in it, but a Church which is every bit as much Gentile as Jewish.

It is the same kind of problem faced by many Christians congregations today when they are challenged to welcome and even admit as members Negroes or Puerto Ricans. Let one Negro attend your Church and apply for membership, and there may be comparatively little difficulty getting this past the governing board of your church. In fact, you may even find that some of your people will look upon him with a sense of satisfaction as "our Negro member." But, instead of one, let that number be multiplied and let the congregation be faced with the possibility of receiving a large group of Negroes as members — perhaps, in time, a majority — and then we find a different attitude.

Loss Of "Our Ways"

It wasn't that the people in Jerusalem had anything against the Gentile convert as such, you understand, but they were rightly afraid of the changes these new people would bring into the Church. The fellowship in Jerusalem didn't want anything to change. They were accustomed to a pattern of life that included all the major religious duties of the devout Jew. This involved obeying the strict food laws, going to the Temple at the hours of prayer, and attending the synagogue on the Sabbath. What would happen to their way of life if the Church took on a Gentile flavor? This is the same fearful question we ask today when the Church opens wide its doors.

They were justified in their fears of change. It wasn't long until the Jewish Sabbath was replaced with a Lord's Day observance commemorating the resurrection of Christ on the first day of the week. The food laws were largely ignored by Gentile converts. In fact, the inclusion of Gentiles seemed to change the whole style of life to which they had become accustomed.

Hand Of God

Barnabas was probably no more eager for change than anyone else in Jerusalem. Yet, it must be said of him: "When he came and saw the grace of God, he was glad." When he saw the hand of God in these changes, he accepted them. He was committed to a style of life, but he was even more committed to the will of God.

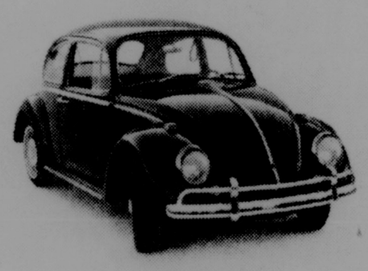
Try Our Want Ads—They Pay.



Don't let the low price scare you off.

That's the price of a new Volkswagen.

Some people won't buy one because they feel they deserve something costlier. That's the price we pay for the price we charge.

And some people are afraid to buy one because they don't see how we can turn out a cheap car without having it turn out cheap.

This is how:

Since the factory doesn't change the bug's shape every year, we don't have to change the factory every year.

What we don't spend on looks, we spend on improvements to make more people buy the car.

Mass production cuts costs. And VWs have been produced in a greater mass (over 11 million to date) than any car model in history.

Our air-cooled rear engine cuts costs, too, by eliminating the need for a radiator, water pump and drive shaft.

There are no fancy gadgets, run by push buttons (The only push buttons are on the doors. And those gadgets are run by you.)

When you buy a VW, you get what you pay for. What you don't get is frills.

And you don't pay for what you don't get.

Change Procedure Jail Sentencing

As a result of a new law passed by the recent general assembly, persons will not be sentenced in a specific state institution after they have been convicted in circuit court or trial magistrate court.

The new law, which went into effect June 1, now provides for convicted persons first come under jurisdiction of the Maryland Department of Correction and then they will be assigned in a specific institution to serve their sentences.

Male prisoners will be first sent to the Maryland penitentiary, while the female prisoners will be sent to the Maryland Correctional Institute for Women at Jessup. A receiving and diagnostic center has been set up at both institutions where the prisoners are processed and then assigned.

Courts will still determine the length of the sentence, but the state will determine where the sentence is served.

Other penal institutions are the House of Correction, the Maryland Correctional Institution at Hagerstown, the Maryland Correctional Camp Centers, and Patuxent Institution.

Twelve Are Killed On State Highways

The indiscriminate use of alcohol stood out as the major cause of fatalities on Maryland highways last week.

In commenting on the situation, Lt. Col. George Davidson, Acting Superintendent of the State Police, said: "Alcohol played a part in three-quarters of the deaths on Maryland highways last week and certainly stood out as the major contributing factor. Operators, passengers, and pedestrians all shared the tragic consequences of the indiscriminate use of alcohol in highway safety.

"Driving or walking is becoming increasingly complex and the situation will undoubtedly continue. Obviously this demands a great deal of self-discipline on the part of both operators and pedestrians, and in no aspect of safe driving or safe walking is self-discipline more important than when alcohol is involved".

Lt. Col. Davidson concluded: "Alcohol very definitely diminishes one's ability to cope with traffic problems, and any attempts to disprove this fact often have fatal results. Last week's record points this up all too well".

A total of twelve persons were killed last week. Six were drivers, two were passengers, and four were pedestrians.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in eight cases, speed in six, and "driver error" in nine.

BURSITIS IS A PAINFUL AILMENT

In many cases bursitis is considered to be part of an arthritic tendency. A bursa is a little sac, often containing an oily like substance. It may be positioned under a muscle or a tendon and there it serves as a pulley.

When a bursa becomes inflamed it may fill up with calcium, (sometimes called "lime") salts, which can be easily seen with X-rays. In the early stages it cannot be seen with an X-ray examination. Usually two out of three cases can be quickly cleared by a couple of treatments with rays. Sometimes injections are needed. Quick medical examination and treatment usually saves much pain.

Ordinance No. 2

Under the Charter of the Town of Mountain Lake Park

Adopted 1966

An Ordinance of the Mayor and Council of Mountain Lake Park, Maryland, entitled "An Ordinance Prohibiting Abandonment of Vehicles; Restricting the Disposition or Keeping of Wrecked, Non-Operating, or Discarded Vehicles on Streets or Private Property; Providing for Impounding of Certain Vehicles; and Imposing Penalties."

WHEREAS, in the Town of Mountain Lake Park vehicles are or may in the future be abandoned in the streets and other places within the Town; and

WHEREAS, there are or may, in the future, be dismantled, partially dismantled, wrecked, junked, non-operating or discarded vehicles left about the Town, other than in junk yards or other appropriate places; and

WHEREAS, such conditions tend to impede traffic in the streets or interfere with the enjoyment of and reduce the value of private property; invite plundering; create fire hazards and other safety and health hazards to children as well as adults; interfere with the comfort and well-being of the public; and create, extend and aggravate urban blight; and

WHEREAS, adequate protection of the public health, safety, and welfare requires that such conditions be regulated, abated or prohibited;

NOW THEREFORE:

Section 1: Definitions. Be it Ordained By The Mayor and Council of Mountain Lake Park, that the following definitions shall apply in the interpretation and enforcement of this Ordinance:

(1) "Persons" shall mean any person, firm, partnership, association, corporation, company, or organization of any kind.

(2) "Vehicle" shall mean a machine propelled by power other than human power designed to travel along the ground by use of wheels, treads, runners, or slides and transport persons or property or pull machinery and shall include, without limitation, automobile, truck, trailer, motorcycle, tractor, buggy and wagon.

(3) "Property" shall mean any real property within the Town which is not a street or highway.

(4) "Street or Highway" shall mean the entire width between the boundary lines of every way publicly maintained when any part thereof is open to the use of the public for purposes of vehicular travel.

Section 2: Abandoned or Unattended Vehicles. And be it Further Ordained, that no person shall abandon or leave unattended any motor vehicle, or part thereof, upon any public road, highway, street, alley or parking lot within the Town of Mountain Lake Park in violation of any Laws or Ordinances of the Town of Mountain Lake Park for an unreasonable length of time, so as to impede the movement of traffic or constitute a threat or hazard to the public health or safety; nor shall any person park, store or leave any vehicle or part thereof in a wrecked, junked, unlicensed or abandoned condition, whether attended or not, or for the owner of any vehicle, or part thereof, in any such condition, to allow the same to be left upon any privately owned property in the Tow of Mountain Lake Park in violation of any laws or Ordinances of the Town of Mountain Lake Park.

Section 3: Impoundment of Abandoned or Unattended Vehicles. And be it Further Ordained, that when any vehicle, or part thereof, or any kind, be abandoned or unattended on any public road, highway, street, alley or parking lot, or on any private property within the Town of Mountain Lake Park, as provided in Section 2 of this Ordinance, the Town Policeman, or his designated agent, shall have the authority to impound and remove such vehicle, or part thereof, and charge the owner thereof the cost of towing, storage, or any other charges incurred in connection therewith; provided, however, that no vehicle, or part thereof, shall be removed from any private property if, at the time of the intended removal, the owner or person in charge of such vehicle is present and shall agree in writing to remove such vehicle, or part thereof, within five (5) days. In the event that the owner, lien holder, or person entitled to the possession of any such vehicle impounded under this Section shall not redeem such vehicle under the provisions of Section 5 of this Ordinance, such vehicle, or part thereof, shall be disposed of by the Town Policeman, or his designated agent, at public sale, as set forth in Section 4 of this Ordinance.

Section 4: Disposition of Impounded Vehicles. And Be It Further Ordained, (a) That whenever the owner, or person, firm or corporation entitled to the possession of any motor vehicle, or part thereof, cannot be located and fails to claim said motor vehicle, or part thereof, for a period of thirty (30) days after said motor vehicle, or part thereof, came into the custody of the Town Policeman, the same may be disposed of by the said Town Policeman at public sale, provided the time, place and terms of sale, together with a full detailed description of said motor vehicle, or part thereof, shall be inserted in one or more newspapers published in said municipal corporation, where said sale is to take place, at least once each week for two successive weeks prior to sale; and provided further that a notice by Registered Mail shall be sent at least ten (10) days prior to said sale to the owner, lien holder, if any, shown on the records of the Department of Motor Vehicles of the State of Maryland, and person, firm or corporation entitled to possession of said motor vehicle, or part thereof, if his or its address be known, or if it can be ascertained by the exercise of reasonable diligence, or if the motor vehicle, or part thereof, is not registered with the said Department of Motor Vehicles, then such notice by mail shall not be required to be given.

(b) Any excess in the amount of the selling price of said motor vehicle, or part thereof, at said sale over and above the expenses thereof, and the amount of the storage, towing and repair charges, incurred by the said Town Policeman during the period in which said motor vehicle, or part thereof, was in its custody, and after payment of all liens to which said motor vehicle, or part thereof, may be subjected, in order of their priority, shall be accounted for and remitted by said Town Policeman to the governing body of said municipal corporation which shall create a special fund thereof, to be known as the "Abandoned Vehicles Fund."

(c) If the owner, or person, firm or corporation entitled to possession of said motor vehicle, or part thereof, shall present to the governing body of said municipal corporation a claim for such excess, at any time within one year from the date of the sale, the said governing body shall authorize payment of such excess to the said owner or person, firm or corporation entitled to the possession of said motor vehicle, or part thereof.

(d) If no claim for the excess is made within one year from the date of the sale, said excess shall be transferred from the "Abandoned Vehicles Fund" to the said municipal corporation to be expended and used as are other funds recevied by the said municipal corporation.

Section 5: Redemption of Impounded Vehicles. And Be It Further Ordained, that the Town Policeman, or his designated agent, shall keep a record of all vehicles, or parts thereof, which are impounded and shall be able at all times to furnish owners, lien holders, or persons entitled to the possession thereof, with information as to the place of impoundment, the charges incurred with regard to the impounding and shall be authorized to release such vehicle, or part thereof, to such owners, lien holders, or persons entitled to the possession thereof, upon payment of such charges and the assurance to the Town Policeman that such vehicle will not thereafter be left upon any public or private property in the Town of Mountain Lake Park in violation of the laws or ordinances of the Town of Mountain Lake Park. Any vehicle, or part thereof, impounded under the provisions of this section shall remain impounded until disposition of the vehicles, or parts thereof, either by sale or by release to the owner, lien holder or person entitled to possession thereof, under the provisions of this section.

Section 6: Penalties. And Be It Further Ordained, that any person violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in an amount not exceeding Fifty Dollars ($50.00), or be imprisoned in the County Jail for a period not exceeding ten (10) days, or be both so fined and imprisoned. Each day such violation is committed or permitted to continue shall constitute a separate offense and shall be punishable as such hereunder.

Section 7: And Be It Further Ordained, that this Ordinance shall take effect 6 July, 1967.

Myths of Marriage . . .

Since June is recognized as the "month of marriages", the following article from the back of a church bulletin seems particularly appropriate at this time. It says:

"A recent magazine article explains the increase in the divorce rate by saying that people today 'expect too much from marriage'. Perhaps the problem is not that people expect too much, but that their expectations are based largely on myths.

"The most widespread of these is the romantic myth, based on the childish fairy-tale ending 'and they lived happily ever after'. This myth is kept alive by the movies, advertising and television. It assumes that the romantic enthusiasm of courtship will not only last forever but will surmount all the aggravations, frustations and disappointments of this new and close relationship between two fallible human beings.

"A more insidious myth is that marriage is merely a contract of mutual convenience, a contract that can be dissolved whenever its pain or even its minor irritations outweigh its pleasures.

"In contrast, the church's teaching about Holy Matrimony reveals a realistic and accurate perception of the nature of marriage. By likening marriage to the loving relationship between God and His people, the Church acknowledges the importance of love in marriage The Church regards marriage, therefore, not only as a contract but as a covenant. A contract can be dissolved with the consent of the parties involved. But a covenant—by which the Church describes the relation-

Judge's Opinion Gives Right to Withdraw Coal

An opinion delivered this week by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill gave the complainant in a case the right to remove coal from under the land now owned by the State Department of Forests and Parks.

The property in question is in the Savage River State forest. The Georges Creek Coal and Land company, in its complaint, sought a declaratory decree relative to its rights under a mineral reservation in a deed from the company to Thomas H. and Francis McMillen, for coal, clay and other minerals, and all oil underlying the property, giving the company the right to mine and remove the material to market.

The company applied on December 12, 1964 for permission to remove the coal. At a meeting of the Board of Public Works December 14, 1964, the application was approved and a permit issued. On February 9, 1965 the Board of Forests and Parks declined to approve the permit.

The case was heard in the Circuit Court on April 24 of this year.

In expressing his opinion Judge Hamill declared the sole issue is construction of mineral reservation and determination of whether or not the reservation was broad enough to include strip mining. He pointed out strip mining was known and practiced in 1931 and as far back as 1919.

He said the terms and phraseology were broad enough to include any known method of mining coal and that the original parties had no regard or concern for surface of the rugged, mountainous and unimproved land.

He said he was of the opinion that the wording of the reservation and intention of the parties included the right to remove the coal by strip mining method, and he prepared the order of court on June 14 which declared

Mandatory Income Tax Is Explained

State law makes it mandatory that each county in Maryland impose at least a 20 percent local income tax for the present fiscal year.

Counties have the option of imposing a local tax of up to 50 percent of the total amount of the state tax under the new reform law.

Garrett county was expected to comply with the mandatory phase of the state law and was planning not to go beyond it. Some counties were planning to impose the full 50 percent.

To comply with the law counties are required to pass a resolution setting forth the amount which the comptroller will charge to residents of a particular county. It was indicated yesterday in the office of the County Commissioners that such a resolution was on the desk of the commissioners and that probably the item would be signed on Monday.

Next year, under the law, the county will again be required to pass a resolution if such a tax is collected. It can call for a maximum of 50 percent or less than 20.

Bad Curve on 135 At Bloomington To Be Protested

A group of residents from Bloomington area is planning a campaign to improve the bad turn on state route 135, at the foot of Backbone mountain.

Sunday's fatal accident claimed the lives of three persons. Over 100 residents met Monday night to "protest the poor design" of the highway down the mountain and are seeking additional precautionary measures to avert future accidents.

A picket line was scheduled Wednesday morning with protest placards.

Present at Monday's meeting were representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, Lions club of the Tri-Towns and residents of Bloomington, Westernport, Piedmont, Luke, Beryl and Barton.

Those attending were "up in arms" about the poor design of the highway, according to Charles Price, fire chief at Bloomington.

Letters and telegrams were to be forwarded to Governor Spiro T. Agnew, State Senator George R. Hughes, Jr., U. S. Senator Joseph D. Tydings, as well as the chairman and officials of the State Roads commission.

Residents also will seek additional state police patrols on the highway. Three truck stops are located along the route from atop the mountain.

Changes In Public Assistance Listed

William W. Grant, Chairman of the Garrett County Welfare Department, and Robert W. Stemple, Director, announced changes in public assistance standards effective this June. Public assistance recipients maintaining own homes began receiving increased allowances for food ranging from $1 per month for one person to $15 per month for a family of ten persons.

The new schedule of allowances for subsistence, which includes food, clothing, electricity, fuels for cooking, heating, and water heating, household maintenance and household replacement items, was listed as: for one person, $51; for two, $84; for three, $113; for four, $143; for five, $164; for six, $184; for seven $209; for eight, $235;

Review of Murder Case Is Refused

The West Virginia state supreme court on Monday unanimously refused to review the murder conviction of Vonda Jean Mullenax, who is serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary for Women at Pence Springs.

Mrs. Mullenax was found guilty of murdering her husband, Ray, late in 1965, in the Preston county circuit court but the jury recommended mercy which will permit her to be paroled after ten years.

Her attorney had asked for an appeal on grounds that the constitutional rights of Mrs. Mullenax were violated before and during her trial. The state accused Mrs. Mullenax of poisoning and strangling her husband and then burying the body in a dump near their rural home.

Three Die In Car And Truck Crash

Tractor - Trailer Driver, Teacher, Young Boy Killed Sunday

Three persons including an Elk Garden high school teacher, were killed and five others were injured on Sunday morning in a collision involving a tractor-trailer and an automobile on State route 135, at the foot of Backbone Mountain, at the edge of Bloomington.

The dead were identified by State Police as Miss Janet Yvonne Riley, 28, route 4, Keyser, who was pronounced dead on arrival at Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser; her nephew, George Edward Riley, Jr., 9, West Fairview street, Piedmont; Thomas Richendollar, 29, Ashland, Ky.

The three deaths at this point which is only about 100 yards into Garrett county, brought to 12 the number of persons killed or fatally injured there.

Mrs. Mary Irene Riley, 62, mother of Miss Riley and grandmother of the dead boy, was in critical condition at West Virginia university medical center in Morgantown. Her husband, George Elliott Riley, 66, and another grandson, Freddie Allen Riley, 6, were in "satisfactory" condition at Potomac Valley hospital. Two other occupants of the car which was being driven by Miss Riley were treated at the Keyser hospital and released. They are Virgil Lee Riley, 7, Piedmont; and Mrs. Joan Beverly Cavey, 24, Piedmont.

Later Mrs. Cavey, a sister of the dead woman, was taken to Memorial hospital, Cumberland where she was in satisfactory condition.

Police reported that the eastbound truck being operated by the Ashland man, apparently ran down the mountain out of control. The driver was able to partially make the turn at the foot of the mountain as the westbound Riley car was struck by the truck's trailer, loaded with steel. Both vehicles were demolished. The people in the Riley car were headed for a church picnic at the Western Maryland 4-M Center near Bittinger when the accident occurred about 9:20 a. m. The picnic had been arranged by the Hampshire Pentecostal mission of Beryl, W. Va.

Tfc. R. C. Dishong led the investigation, the seventh fatal one in the two counties this year. It was the second fatality of Garrett county this year. Volunteers from the Bloomington and Potomac fire companies responded but there was no fire. The bodies were taken to the Boal Funeral home.

Miss Riley was a native of Hampshire, W. Va. Surviving are a brother, George E. Riley, Sr., Piedmont; six sisters, Mrs. Pearl Mayle, Mrs. Wilma May-

Truman Edward Uphold, 37, Oakland area father of five children, died last Friday after bees swarmed and stung him at his home. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Garrett County Memorial hospital.

An autopsy report indicated that the victim died as a result of allergic shock for multiple bee stings on his head and hand, according to Dr. James H. Feaster, Jr., deputy state medical examiner.

H-P Warehouse, Filling Station Are Burglarized

Two places of business, the H-P warehouse at Loch Lynn Heights, and a filling station at Gortner, were burglarized during the past week.

The H-P warehouse was entered early last Saturday morning by breaking in the front door. Apparently several persons were involved and they attempted to open two safes without success. One was in the accounting room and one in the office of Irvin Feld, owner. There was no money in either safe. They did obtain some cash from a soft drink machine and from a candy counter.

Damage to the safes was estimated at $1,500. State police and Bruce Ream, deputy sheriff, are still investigating the case. There are several suspects, Mr. Ream said.

The filling station and store at Gortner operated by James Adams and known as "Shorty's Service Station," was also entered by smashing glass out of the front door. Some $90 in cash was stolen from two cash registers, one in the beer parlor and one in the store department. Some beer from the cooler was also taken. There are no arrests up to the present time.

Special Session Of Legislature Is Set

An official call for the Maryland General Assembly to convene in special session on Thursday was issued last Friday by Gov. Agnew.

Legislators will return to Annapolis to correct an error in the graduated income tax law which they enacted earlier this year.

The section of the law imposing the tax was upheld last Wednesday by the Court of Appeals but the judges knocked out sections providing for distribution to Baltimore city and the 23 counties of about $98 million.

In calling the special session Gov. Agnew said the court decision "will cause serious problems to the subdivisions in their operations" unless the legislature takes corrective action.

Leaders of both houses have predicted quick action and talked hopefully of a possible one-day session.

Program To Mark Moving of Library At Grantsville

An open house and program in observance of the reopening of the Grantsville Branch of the Ruth Enlow Library, will be held at the new location in that town on Saturday evening, June 24, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The Grantsville branch of the library was established April 19, 1959, with federal funds and was located in the Broadwater building. Recently another building, the former location for the Liberty Trust company of Maryland, was made available from the bank and funds for remodeling were raised by a local committee headed by Robert Bender. Contributions were received from the surrounding area.

The program has been arranged by Mrs. Walter Swauger, vice-president of the Library board. Richard Harder of the United Church of Christ will offer the invocation with C. C. Bender, mayor giving the welcome address.

A ribbon cuting ceremony will be carried out by Denton Fuller, president of the Liberty Trust Company of Maryland, with Walter Fraley, Jr., executive vice-president of the company assisting.

The building had been completely remodeled and redecorated.

Guard Members Return From Camp

Members of Company C, Maryland National Guard unit, of Oakland, returned to their homes last Saturday night after completing two weeks of summer training at Camp Pickett, Va.

There were thirty-six members in camp, headed by company commander, Capt. Mahlon Yost. The unit was not at full strength with three members attending Officer Candidate School and thirteen taking a six months' training course.

The 29th division, of which the local unit is a part, is expecting to be disbanded and reorganized next February 28, but the local unit has not learned whether they will be placed in another unit or completely abandoned. The local group is an armored unit.

The commander of the 29th division has urged governors of Maryland and Virginia to weigh Pentagon reorganization plans carefully before accepting them. The appeal came from Maj. Gen. Archibald A. Sproul of Staunton, Va., as the division closed out its two week summer encampment.

The general said "We've again proven that we have an effective military organization and a well trained team", and added that the loss of a military organization such as this would be a grave error in times of national crisis. Under reorganization plans Virginia units would be reduced to brigade status and assigned to a division in Pennsylvania. There would be a corresponding loss to Maryland units.

This year was the third straight year the division had been threatened with extinction.

Canvass Makes Voting Official

The official canvass of last Tuesday's special election in which voters of Garrett county named William W. Grant as official delegate to the Constitutional convention and voted two to one in favor of a community college, was completed last Thursday by the Board of Election Supervisors.

There was no changes in the figures, except for the addition of the absentee votes. There were 59 absentee ballots and only one was thrown out for improper markings.

Of the total there were 46 votes in favor of the college and 12 votes against. In the race for delegate Ralph Beachley received 17 votes and William W. Grant received 41.

The official totals are 2,184 votes in favor of the community college, 933 votes against. For Ralph Beachley, 1,056 votes; for William W. Grant, 2,087.

Over 3,100 votes were cast which was slightly less than 33 percent of those eligible to cast ballots. The official returns appear in today's issue.

Sp4 Charles Wayne Hook

Another Soldier Of Friendsville Dead Of Wounds

Sp4 Charles Wayne Hook Was On Combat Patrol Duty In Vietnam

Specialist 4 Charles Wayne Hook, of Friendsville, member of the 116th infantry unit, U. S. Army, was killed in action in South Vietnam on Saturday, June 17, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hook, of Friendsville, were informed this week.

His death occurred while on a combat operation, preparing a night defense perimeter, when a hostile force was engaged in a firefight.

Specialist Hook had been wounded in action last August 25, and had returned to duty from the hospital on November 22, 1966.

He is the sixth service man from this county to be killed and the third from the Friendsville area. He was due to return home July 2, and was on his final mission.

The soldier entered service in February of 1966, took his basic training at Fort Knox, Ky., and advanced training at Fort Polk. He left for Vietnam last July 24 and was wounded just one month later. He had received the purple heart medal and the combat infantry badge.

His wife, Mrs. Barbara Griffith Hook, resides in Confluence, Pa. His body will be returned to this area for burial.

Surviving in addition to his parents and widow, are three brothers, Paul Mitchell Hook, Jimmie Dale Hook and Espy Emerson Hook, at home; three sisters, Mrs. Ronald Conn, Confluence, Pa.; Dorothy Lane and Robin Rae Hook, at home. Hook and his wife were married while he had a ten-day leave before going to Vietnam. They have no children. He was graduated from Northern High school in 1965.

Impersonations of Welfare Workers Occur In County

Two separate complaints occurring in opposite ends of the county have recently been received by the Welfare Department. One person came to the local office from the Grantsville area with a letter she had found pinned to her door. The letter stated that she and her husband were neglecting their children and they had ten days to do something about their living arrangement or action would be taken. This letter was signed by the "Investigator for the Child Welfare Board for Garrett County". The Welfare Department did not have any knowledge of this letter, according to Perry Shaffer, supervisor of Child Welfare, and it is not the manner in which the department would deal with any report of child neglect, he added.

In the second case a woman reported a young man tried to pass himself off as a welfare worker wanting to talk to her about foster children. She did not have any connection with the Welfare Department and did not allow him in her home.

These cases have been reported to the State's Attorney's office and are being investigated by the Sheriff's office. Fred A. Thayer, state's attorney, said any person found impersonating an employe of the Garrett County Welfare Department will be punished to the fullest extent. The Welfare Department stated that workers are usually well known to public assistance recipients and child welfare workers well known to foster families. No person should be admitted to anyone's home who says he represents the Welfare Department unless you know that to be a fact, Mr. Shaffer said.

This sort of impersonation has been practiced before in the metropolitan areas where caseloads are large and workers often change jobs, he said. In Garrett county, however, there is little change in workers and most clients connected with the Welfare Department should recognize their worker. If you do not, ask to see identification. If you have doubt make note of the car description and license number, he advised.

Summer Theatre To Open Season With Musical

The Garrett County Playhouse will open its thirteenth season July 5th with a musical comedy, "The Fantasticks", history's longest-running tunester. Originally titled "Joy Comes to Deadhorse", the intimate musical was based on Rostand's "The Romancers" and was then set in the Southwest. Collaborators Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt reworked the script and, after song revisions and character amputations opened off Broadway in New York just over seven years ago and the still continuing run is proof enough that this "bubble" of song and candor is the true pioneer of its trend.

Gene Yell, playhouse director, said, because of the traditional Tuesday-Saturday run in strawhat theatres, "The Fantasticks" will enjoy only a four-day run, allowing for Independence Day. He urged persons to make reservations soon, for he said, "this is an experience you may never forget".

Song: "Try to Remember", "Just Once", "Soon it's Gonna Rain", "They Were You", "Plant a Radish", "It Depends on What You Pay", and six more. This is one of the few truly musical musicals ever.

Pen Inmates Get Twenty Years In Kidnapping Case

Two Moundsville penitentiary inmates have additional 20-year sentences to serve on kidnapping charges stemming from a recent escape from Hopemont hospital.

They were John Gardner and Malcolm Bragg, both of whom changed their pleas from innocent to guilty. They were returned to Moundsville along with another inmate who had escaped with them, William Barker.

Barker had pleaded guilty Wednesday and received a similar sentence. A fourth inmate, also involved in the escape, George Hosey, is in Columbus, O., awaiting action on armed robbery charges.

The four were accused of kidnapping William Wilson of Aurora, W. Va., who was visiting relatives at Cranesville, W. Va., after the four escaped from a work detail at the Hopemont state hospital near Terra Alta, by overpowering a guard and stealing his automobile.

Critically Hurt While in Europe

John O. Durst, Jr., of Second street, Oakland, was critically injured in an automobile accident while touring in Europe with a group of instructors and students from Potomac State College and West Virginia university.

Durst was in an automobile occupied by William Gallier, a history professor at Potomac state, his wife, Mrs. Gallier, and a fellow student, traveling at night in fog when they crashed into a horse drawn vehicle on the outskirts of Budapest, Hungary.

Durst sustained a fracture of the skull and concussion and remains in an unconscious condition in a hospital in Budapest. He was the only one injured in the collision which occurred on the night of June 14.

There have been contacts with Mr. Durst's physician in Budapest through Mrs. Eric Ammann's sister, who is a physician in Munich, Germany.

A call this morning brought news that he continued to show improvement but was still unconscious.

PHARMACY PHACTS

from Clinton W. Englander

Question

I've always wondered how quacks can be spotted by the average person. Can you give some advice on this?

Answer

The American Medical Association has spent many years fighting the quack problem, and here are six (6) ways its Department of Investigation recommends for spotting quacks. (1) If he guarantees a quick cure. (2) If he claims that licensed physicians are persecuting him because "they're afraid of the competition he's giving them." (3) If he claims that drugs, surgery or X-ray will cause more harm than good. (4) If he either advertises or uses testimonials or case histories to promote his methods. (5) If he uses a "secret" or "special" machine or formula he claims will cure disease. (6) If he is constantly SEEMING to want either investigation or recognition from recognized medical organizations. Always remember that the quack (no matter how reassuring he seems) is a vicious racketeer whose exposure is your public duty.

Changes In Loan Processing Listed

Changes in loan processing methods should substantially reduce the time required for applicants to receive their housing loans, according to B. Beeson Snyder, Farmers Home Administration Supervisor in charge of the agency's activities in Garrett County.

"The major improvement in efficiency will result from improvement in appraisal methods and by keeping most of the loan processing activities in the local office. With cooperation from applicants, builders, and real estate agents loan processing time should be further reduced", Mr. Snyder said.

Major housing loan activity in this area has been for loans to construct houses. Purchase of existing homes and home improvement are next in importance.

"Housing loans for moderate income rural families carry an interest rate of 5% and are repayable in 33 years. Careful attention is given to the need for fitting the home to the applicant's needs and his financial resources", the Supervisor pointed out.

All applications are reviewed by the 3-member County Committee serving the County where the property is located. The County Committee determines that the applicant is eligible and is unable to secure his financing from other sources of credit.

"Because of the great need for housing loans in rural areas, the full resources of the agency in this area will be devoted to serving eligible applicants", Mr. Snyder said.

The agency's definition of a rural area includes open space and towns of 5,500 population or less.

Applications for rural housing loans are processed in the Farmers Home Administration County Office located in the Garrett National Bank building in Oakland.

As One War Was Not Fought...

We've been wondering what would have happened had the Isaelis fought the Arabs using the ground rules that restrict our men in Vietnam. Let's say there had been a phone call from the chief of state of Israel to the commanding general when the action in the Middle East was building to a crescendo, like the following:

Hello, is this General Dayan? This is the Premier, calling from Tel Aviv.

General, we are getting some disturbing reports about the way you're running the war against the Arabs and I'd like to offer a few suggestions. As some of my advisers point out, there are a lot of serious political considerations that you're ignoring completely.

I know you're in the middle of things and these advisers are far from the action, but look, General you just can't ignore world opinion. And world opinion is dead set against winning wars, escalation, and things like that. Do you want us to start getting demonstrations here, like in the United States?

But that's only part of it, General. You also overlook the fact that nowadays you don't fight a war to win but to get your opponent to the negotiating table. You think what you're doing is going to get Nasser to sit down with us?

All right, General, I know our people want victory. But why can't you give them something to cheer about without being so destructive? Never mind smashing up equipment they're buying on the installment plan from Russia. Turn your fliers loose in the Sinai Desert and let them blast away at the rocks. Or maybe they can find an oasis somewhere. But make sure there aren't any people around. We have some fellows in the Foreign Relations Departments who'll start holding hearings if they suspect we've injured any civilians. And that fellow from CBS-television in New York may show up to do a series about civilian casualties.

And there's something else, General. Some of the guys in the computer department are unhappy about the cost-effectiveness aspects of this war. They say it's out of balance. So you'd better stop and prepare some studies to show what we're getting for what's we've invested. Send it in quadruplicate, and then stand by in case we need you back here for hearings.

Now look, General, I know you're supposed to be the military leader. But there's more to a war than fighting, and you know what Truman had to do with MacArthur when he forgot that. So if you can't stand the heat you'd better get out of the Sinai.

Or maybe what I mean to say is, cool it. If you can't fight a war without making people mad at you, we'll get someone who can.—U. S. Press Association.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President—National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

Is there a way in which the American people can halt present runaway Federal spending and soaring taxes? Yes. But it requires citizen understanding of the Federal Budget and widespread, intelligent citizen action. A big step toward achieving widespread citizen understanding of the Budget was taken at the National Education Programs's Freedom Forum XXVIII, attended by thought-leaders from 30 states from the East Coast to the Pacific. A new educational visual-aid tool was premiered — a sound-color 35mm filmstrip, entitled THE FEDERAL BUDGET, which in 15-minutes explored in astounding detail one of the most complex and awesome fiscal documents on earth.

An overwhelming majority of our people, according to Opinion Research Corporation and other polling organizations, want Congress to cut the President's $172 billion Federal Budget for 1967-68, the biggest Budget, in war or peace, in U. S. history. But just wanting the Budget reduced will not get the job done The April Reader's Digest, in a brief but well-documented article on the new budget's "shocking proposals for increased non-war spending", says bluntly:

Federal spending will continue to run wild "unless men and women across the land respond now and mobilize a massive demand for fiscal common sense, for getting their money's worth from government. . . . They must act NOW! That means YOU, sitting down and writing to your Representatives and Senators and to the House and Senate Appropriations Committee. It means discussing the subject with your neighbors, organizing, getting them to write, too. Nothing less than a deluge of individual, thoughtful letters can give our legislators the needed backing to insist upon more effective, frugal government".

But a letter that does not reflect some understanding of the Budget and which does not discuss intelligently some of its vulnerable spending projects cannot compare, in its effect on Congress, with one which shows that the writer has some acquaintance with the Federal fiscal picture as detailed in the Budget document. Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler, defending the record-shattering $172-billion Budget just submitted by the President, says "critics" have nothing to offer except the "time-tested cliche of cutting federal spending". In other words, he says in effect that they don't know what they are talking about.

The premise of our April Freedom Forum was that, Yes, it's true: most taxpayers are unprepared to discuss the Federal Budget intelligently. And for good reason: there just hasn't been available a book, or film, or tool of any kind that reduces the multi-volume, 2000-page Budget to understandable terms. No wonder Federal spending continues to soar, the Forum speakers observed, with so few citizens capable of making informed, specific recommendations to the Congress. House Appropriations Chairman George Mahon, of Texas emphasizes "Congress is not going to practice restraint unless the message comes through loud and clear from the people

The new visual Budget presentation, given a preview at Forum XXVIII, examined in simplified detail the vast array of spending programs, probing in depth into the multi-billion-dollar "War On Poverty" and some other relatively new programs that have received considerable press criticism. While the presentation is nonpartisan and objective, it does point out categorically such facts as, for instance, the Associated Press dispatch from India reporting that the hundreds of millions of dollars worth of wheat the U. S. has been sending India, is used in India to replace the amounts consumed by rats — more than two billion rats which, the AP says, the Indians refuse to kill ("kill no live thing") but which eat up 26-million tons of cereal grain each year! This is estimated to be 20% of all grain available in India last year.

Myths Of Marriage . . .

ship between God and His people—is based on the willing and total giving of each party to the other. Every human covenant involves forgiveness, compassion and selfless love. A contract is concerned with the maintenance of a rigid balance between the rights and privileges of one person and those of the other.

"The Church also regards marriage as a vocation not to be entered into lightly or unadvisedly but 'reverently, discreetly, advisedly, soberly and in the fear of God.'

"As a life-long covenant, Christian marriage is founded on the grace of God. When our efforts fall short, God can, if we will but let Him, give us the grace to enable us to keep our vows to each other and to Him".

Assistance

for nine, $259; for ten, $284. It was pointed out that in Maryland there is a maximum limiting any grant for a single category of public assistance to $240 in Garrett County. The maximum had been $227 until June 1.
